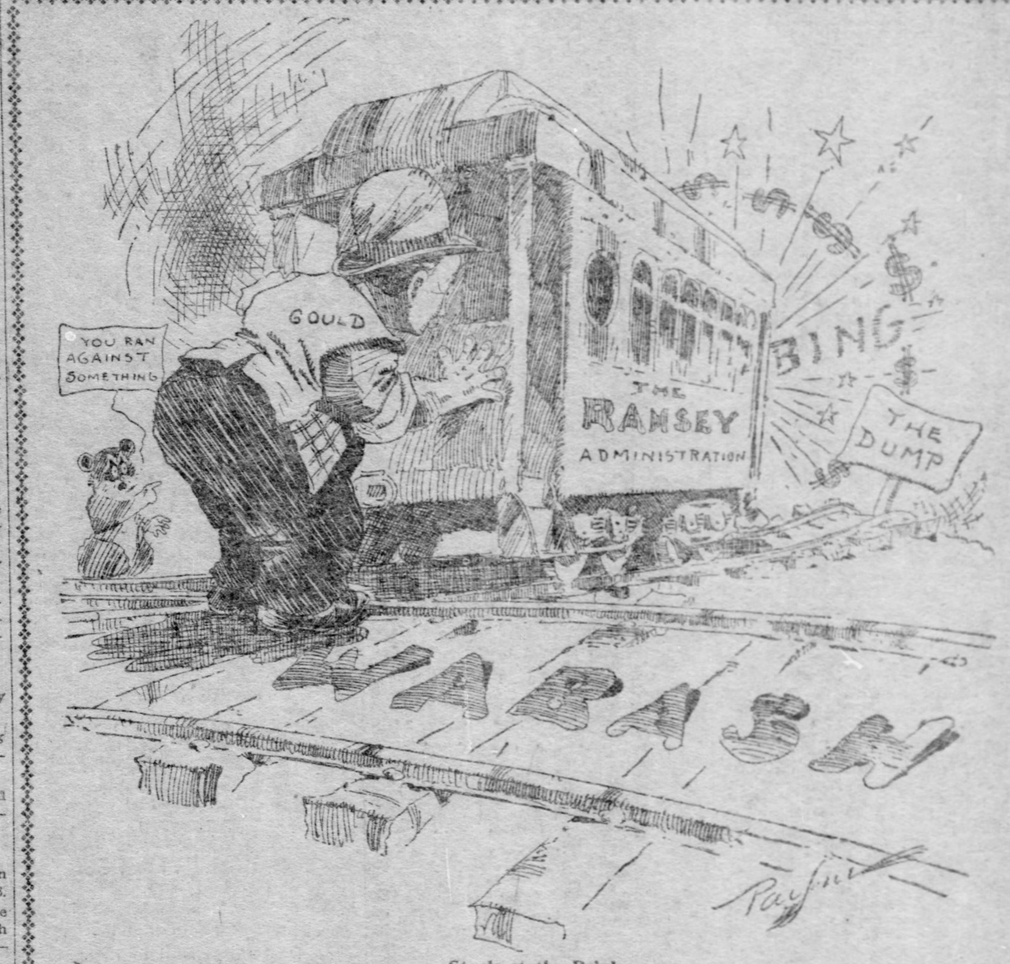
If I am Placed in Control of the Wabash It Will Be Operated Independent of All Other Interests Than Those of the Debenture and Stockholders Themselves—Joseph Ramsey, President of the Wabash.

RAMSEY WISHES TO REMAIN AT HEAD OF THE WABASH TO COMPLETE HIS PLANS TO MAKE IT A STRONG ROAD



Stuck at the Brink.

KEEP WABASH INDEPENDENT

Joseph Ramsey, Jr., Denies Any Alliance With Other Roads.

WABASH FOR WABASH

To Let Other Interests Control Would Be Breach of Confidence, He Thinks.

CLOSING THE KANAWHA DEAL

"If the majority debenture and stockholders of the Wabash Railroad Company honor me with their proxies to vote at the annual election on the second Tuesday of October, and I am placed in control of the company, the Wabash railroad will be operated entirely independent of all other interests than those of the debenture and stockholders themselves. I wish to deny emphatically the statements that there is any alliance on my part with the Vanderbilt or New York Central interests or with the Pennsylvania interests, or any other interests which would prevent the handling of the Wabash properties for any other purpose than giving returns to those who have their money invested there."

This statement was made yesterday by Joseph Ramsey, Jr., the president of the Wabash, with whom the large Gould interest in the property is now at variance. Mr. Ramsey's term as president will end with the election and organization of the board of directors to be chosen on October 10.

Closing Little Kanawha Sale.

The announcement yesterday in the letter to the holders of the voting issues of the Wabash of his intention to fight for re-election was the first intimation that he intended to contest with the Gould interest his right to re-election.

Mr. Ramsey spent yesterday in Pittsburgh, the bigger part of the day being given over to the conference with Col. James M. Schoonmaker, vice president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, regarding the details of the purchase of the Little Kanawha syndicate by Col. Schoonmaker. As already announced in The Gazette, the purpose of this purchase is to make of the Little Kanawha a line to the seaboard either for the Vanderbilt interests themselves or for a community of Vanderbilt and Pennsylvania interests. With Mr. Ramsey yesterday in his conference with Col. Schoonmaker were William E. Guy, the St. Louis capitalist, who is one of the managers of the Little Kanawha syndicate; Thomas West, president of the St. Louis Union Trust Company, and Attorney A. M. Neeper of Pittsburgh, the counsel for the syndicate.

Gould Not Opposing Sale.

"The deal for the sale of the Little Kanawha syndicate's properties in West Virginia and Ohio and the Greene County railroad in Pennsylvania, is practically closed," Mr. Ramsey said. "We have every assurance that the road will be built and the terms are such as to be satisfactory to all of those interested. I emphasize the word 'all.' Mr. Gould is himself one of the syndicate members and managers. He has at no time shown any disposition other than to acquiesce in the arrangements. The price seems satisfactory. It brings a profit to the

WABASH HAS 2,500 STOCKHOLDERS AND $92,000,000 VOTING ISSUES

In the Wabash, both the preferred and common stock and both debenture "A" and debenture "B" bonds have voting power.

There are about 2,500 Wabash stockholders.

All of the stock has been outstanding for several years, excepting the $10,000,000 of common issued a year ago in exchange for the same amount of common stock of the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Company.

The total issues of the four classes are as follows: Common outstanding, $38,000,000; common authorized, $78,000,000; preferred, authorized and issued, $24,000,000 (7 per cent non-cumulative); debenture "A" 6s non-cumulative, $3,500,000; debenture "B" 6s non-cumulative, $26,500,000. On both classes of debentures the interest is payable if earned.

The total outstanding and voting Wabash securities are $92,000,000.

A majority will require upward of $46,000,000 in the par value of these securities.

MR. ROOSEVELT TO BE GREETED BY MULTITUDE

The Citizens of Washington Arrange for an Informal Demonstration.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Commissioner West of the District of Columbia had a conference today with M. V. Cox and James F. Oyster relative to the reception to be given the president by the people of Washington on his return to the city at the end of the present month. It was agreed that nothing more should be attempted than a general outpouring of the people to stand along Pennsylvania avenue between the Sixth street station and the White House and give expression to their esteem by their presence in great numbers and by the waving of flags and cheers.

Mr. Cox and Mr. Oyster agreed with the commissioner that the display of bunting and the waving of flags would be the most graceful way for the people to express their gratification on the president's return from Sagamore Hill. Mr. Oyster and Mr. Cox will enlist the activities of the Business Men's association and the board of trade in the matter, and efforts will be made to make the welcome as enthusiastic as a large crowd, thousands of flags and the decoration of buildings can make it.

The formal part of the reception will be confined to the meeting of the president at the train by the representatives of the district government and possibly giving him a word of greeting. There will be no effort toward any military or other display of that character.

WORK OF YOUNG DESPERADO.

Carter, Who Weighs But 95 Founds, Surprises Police by His Desperate Deeds.

JENKINTOWN, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—William Carter, alias Calvert, alias Smith, the young car breaker, gave another exhibition of his qualities as a desperado last night by sawing his way from the Jenkintown station house.

Carter was captured at Lansdale. Hanging head downward from the side of a moving train he had forced the door, and, entering the car, had broken open boxes of merchandise and thrown loot from the train. He is only 18 years of age, weighs 95 pounds, has mild gray eyes and had it not been for his amazing display of nerve in breaking into the car, would not have been picked to play a desperate part.

DENS OF VICE THRIVING NEAR ARMY POSTS

Gen. Grant Says Demoralizing Conditions Are Due to Anti-Canteen Crusade.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—In his annual report, Brig.-Gen. Frederick D. Grant, commanding the department of the east, makes the novel suggestion that the families of some of the officers and enlisted men in the army transferred to the Philippines be allowed to live in the barracks and quarters in a limited number of abandoned forts, while the husbands are absent from the country. He suggests Fort Trumbull, Conn., as an excellent place for such use.

Speaking of the many trials by court-martial, Gen. Grant says that fully 75 per cent of these trials were due to the use of bad liquor in the dens of vice near military posts. Says the general:

"These depraved creatures use every device in their power to induce the soldiers to patronize their brothels, where those who yield to temptation are frequently drugged and robbed. It is distressing that the prosperity of the vile resorts is due to the activity of the good and worthy, though misguided citizens, who have succeeded in abolishing the canteen of the army."

CANADIANS CAPTURE ANOTHER ERIE BOAT

Fish Tug Oggel of Keystone Fish Company Being Held at Port Dover, Canada.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ERIE, PA., Sept. 15.—A telegram from Capt. Albert Morrison of the Erie fish tug E. C. Oggel, received by the Keystone Fish Company late this afternoon from Port Dover, Canada, says that the tug, with the captain, engineer and a crew of four fishermen, were captured today by the Canadian cruiser Vigilant while fishing in Canadian waters off Long Point.

They did not try to get away because they found that escape was futile when pursued by the Vigilant, which is a speedy craft. The Oggel is 60 feet long and is valued at $5,000. It will be held by the Canadians until the case is settled. The captain and men will be sent back to Erie by way of Cleveland or Buffalo.

This is the second fish tug captured within the last few days.

New York Life's Relation to Morgan's Company Are Laid Bare.

NO INTENT TO DECEIVE DECLARES MR. PERKINS

First Vice President of the Company Tells of His Dramatic Rise.

BEGINS AS AN OFFICE BOY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—George W. Perkins, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., and first vice president of the New York Life Insurance Company, was the star witness at today's session of the special legislative committee probing life insurance companies' methods. His testimony was replete with revelations in the development of finance as applied by insurance companies.

The climax of the day came when Mr. Perkins was asked concerning an entry of $48,761 to a ledger, marked "ordered paid by the president." Mr. Randolph, the treasurer of the New York Life company, who had been on the stand earlier in the day, had been sharply questioned as to the purport of this entry, but he was unable to explain it. It was made out payable to J. P. Morgan & Co., and Mr. Perkins frankly stated that it was a contribution to the National Republican campaign committee and had been paid to Cornelius N. Bliss. Mr. Perkins said:

"This payment was made after very careful deliberation. It must not be considered an ordinary contribution to the campaign fund. It was paid because we felt the assets of the New York Life Insurance Company would be jeopardized by a Democratic success."

Had Followed Precedent.

Mr. Perkins said contributions were also made in 1900 and in 1896. As an illustration Witness said the first contribution was made in 1896 by President McCall, who is a Democrat.

"He contributed to the McKinley campaign fund and voted for McKinley because he felt it was in the best interests of the policyholders of his company," said Mr. Perkins.

This bomb caused a murmur of conversation about the room which had become packed with spectators. Everyone bent forward to catch the testimony. There was hardly necessary for Mr. Perkins spoke distinctly in a voice audible throughout the room. He faced the small platform upon which the witness chair is placed, just before the committee's rostrum, and accompanied his explanations with earnest gestures, oftentimes suggesting questions to the counsel.

Pursuing the check inquiry, Mr. Hughes brought out that this expenditure was never brought to the attention of the finance committee, the witness terming it a "purely executive action." It was charged against cash on the books of the Hanover bank office, or financial department. The witness did not know against what account the other contributions were made, but he would furnish data. Mr. Perkins here interposed:

Name Not Significant.

"I would like to make one statement. The fact that the check is drawn to J. P. Morgan & Co. has no significance. I paid out the money and it was merely because of convenience of repayment that the check was made payable to J. P. Morgan & Co."

"What other contributions of political campaign funds have been made by the New York Life?"

"None to my knowledge."

When Mr. Perkins took the stand he presented his original contract with the New York Life, which was a letter from his father in 1872 offering him a position as clerk. It was dated Pittsburgh, March 27, 1872, and its contents are published above. Commenting on it Mr. Perkins said:

I was 16 years old when the letter was written. I wanted to leave school and go to work at once. I have tried on the up to the injunctions in the letter. I have been a considerable factor in the New York Life and I have used my best efforts, whether as office boy or as first vice president, to promote the financial and the agency departments. I believe we have a company equal at least to any other company. We are deeply interested in the investigation, because we are the largest mutual fund in the country. We have over $400,000,000. I believe I have been the most influential one factor in bringing into the New York Life the hundreds of thousands that are there and it has been my interest to keep them there and to conserve their interests.

The Rise of Perkins.

In 1892, Mr. Perkins said, he was appointed third vice president in charge of agencies throughout the world. This office was created at that time, and he was given wide latitude in making changes. He succeeded to the first vice presidency in 1895 with a salary of $25,000. Before he entered the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., he drew a salary of $75,000 from the New York Life, but it was reduced upon entering this firm.

Mr. Perkins declared any profits accruing to him on bonds sold to the New York Life by J. P. Morgan & Co., he turned back to the insurance company, by his personal check. He was asked if W. H. Fanshawe & Co. purchased bonds of J. P. Morgan & Co.

"They do," was the reply.

"Does the New York Life buy of W. H. Fanshawe?"

"They do, but what's your point?" the witness demanded. "Do you want to know if there is any underground method whereby I get a profit in securities sold to the New York Life?"

"That's it," said Mr. Hughes.

"Well, there's nothing of the kind done," Mr. Perkins replied.

"Will you tell us, Mr. Perkins, what, exactly, are the relations of the New York Life and the J. P. Morgan Company? Do you personally profit by these relations?"

Mr. Perkins arose and said:

"We have been very successful in developing our agency work. Our business was the

IS TO INSPECT CONSTABULARY OF IRELAND

Capt. Groome Hopes to Model State Police System on the Famous Irish Plan.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—Capt. John C. Groome has gone to Ireland to make a thorough investigation of the constabulary system of that country, with a view to introducing it into the state of Pennsylvania. He left with letters which will immediately put him in touch with the very Irish officials who can show him in the shortest possible time just how the foreign plan is worked.

Capt. Groome will see how the constabulary are distributed throughout the rural districts, how far they are given authority to cause arrests, their hours of duty, and the training of recruits for the oft-times dangerous work members of the corps are expected to perform.

Capt. Groome, who only a few months ago was appointed superintendent of the new Pennsylvania state constabulary, knows just the kind of men needed for constables, and selections are to be made with the greatest possible care. So perfect does he plan the service to be that he has made a careful study of the systems of all those countries in which such policing plays an important part. The ways of the Texas rangers, the Mexican "rurales," the New Zealand rural guardsmen and the Northwest mounted police of Canada, have all been looked into by him.

From the first, however, the Irish system seemed the most practicable for introduction into this country. Capt. Groome will return to Philadelphia September 28, and will immediately make a report of his investigation to Gov. Pennypacker. CHESTER D. POTTER.

STEUBENVILLE STEEL MAN WILL BE MARRIED TODAY

Philadelphia School Teacher to Become the Bride of President of La Belle Works.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—The wedding of Miss Edith Cassavant, who has been a teacher in the Germantown public schools for 15 years, and William D. Crawford, a millionaire steel magnate of Steubenville, O., will take place tomorrow morning at the home of the bride-to-be, 1968 Windrim avenue, Germantown. The Rev. S. M. Vernon, pastor of the York Street Methodist church, will perform the ceremony.

Miss Cassavant is the daughter of the Rev. H. B. Cassavant, a Methodist clergyman. Mr. Crawford, who is 47 years old, is president of La Belle Steel works of Steubenville. He met Miss Cassavant about three years ago in this city.

SOLDIERS MOVE TO FRONTIER OF NORWAY

Tension Is Great, Though It Is Denied That These Preparations Mean War.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHRISTIANIA, Sept. 15.—It is semi-officially announced that the military movements now being conducted by the Norwegian government, are merely the customary measures for relieving the garrisons of the fortifications and the permanent camps.

The tension here is greater than ever. All during the day crowds filed the streets in the vicinity of the newspaper offices eager for news from Karlstad. It is believed here Norway has the moral support of the government of Great Britain.

A strong conviction also prevails that war would not be permitted by the powers. Owing to the stand made by Norway, it is considered an arbitration treaty will be secured and that a compromise will be arranged regarding Sweden's demand for the demolition of the fortresses.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 15.—A semi-official announcement issued today states that notwithstanding the denials from Christiania of the report published in the Dagblad, September 13, that the second to the sixth year classes of the Norwegian conscription had been mobilized, the Swedish government regards the report as conforming to the facts.

KARLSTADT, SWEDEN, Sept. 15.—The delegates of Norway and Sweden, who are discussing the dissolution of the union of Norway and Sweden, held another conference today.

The evening session adjourned at 6:45 o'clock until tomorrow. The Associated Press has reason to believe that the question of demolition of the fortifications on the Norwegian frontier was discussed at the afternoon session, and that the discussion developed wide differences of opinion. Swedish military experts were present during the session, but Norwegian military experts were not present. The movement of the troops to the frontier continues.

ONE DEAD AND TWO INJURED.

Serious Runaway Accident at Warren. Chicken Frightens Team of Horses.

WARREN, PA., Sept. 15.—Michael Kennedy is dead, his wife seriously hurt and Burnall Mowers perhaps fatally hurt as a result of a runaway that took place here this afternoon. A hen ran under Mowers' horses' feet and they ran away.

Mowers was thrown from the wagon and dragged some distance. His body is a mass of cuts and both of his ears were torn off. He is now in Emergency hospital. Kennedy and his wife were run over by the team and seriously hurt. Kennedy dying a few moments after the accident.

FOREIGN ENGINEERS FAVOR SEA-LEVEL PANAMA CANAL

Their Votes on the Consulting Board May Be Necessary to Decide the Important Question of the Great Waterway.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A majority of the foreign members of the consulting board of engineers of the isthmian canal appear to favor a sea level canal. This fact may become of the greatest importance, if their votes shall become necessary to decide that which is, after all, the principal question requiring a decision at the hands of this board. No attempt has yet been made to pass upon this question at any of the regular board meetings, but the fact is that the majority of the foreign delegates who have been closely studying the vast amount of data contained and laid before the board by the canal commission are at present of the opinion that a sea level canal would be better than a lock

The board met today for the first time in a week in Washington and talked about dams. Engineer Stearnes, a member of the board, explained at great length the details of the construction of the dam erected for the enlargement of the water supply. A structure which was regarded as in many ways meeting the conditions which obtain on the isthmus.

A decision on this question of dams was, however, postponed until the board has visited the isthmus. The members expect to sail from New York with the canal commission, September 26 or 27.

Next Wednesday Mr. Benham-Varilla and Linden W. Bates will explain to the board their respective plans of canal construction.

REVELATIONS OF GIGANTIC FINANCIERING

creasing and the organization pretty well completed. We made an estimate as to what the figures would reach and we found that in 15 years it would reach a billion dollars. It was a startling proposition and it became evident we ought to have banking facilities. We wanted a man conversant with the work. I was selected for the work. We wanted to connect the man who was to be invested with the people who were to furnish the money.

At this time Mr. Morgan made me a flattering offer. I could not see my way clear to leave the New York Life and I declined the offer. As a result of that declination I had my salary raised to $75,000 a year. While that was large it was not more than what I refused from Mr. Morgan.

Finally one day the proposition was made to me to occupy the dual position I now occupy with both concerns. The arrangements I made were that my salary should be reduced in the New York Life and that my efforts should be directed toward the banking business.

Mr. Hughes asked Mr. Perkins to explain how on the books in the syndicate by which $800,000 in bonds was sold on December 31, 1901, and bought back on January 2, 1902, there was shown on the debit side of the account $160,000 and on the credit side $800,000 and Mr. Perkins replied:

Not a Subterfuge.

I am glad that you brought that matter up. In that transaction we asked for $5,000,000 of bonds and only got $4,000,000. We made up our minds to sell the $800,000 of this sum and our books therefore only showed $3,200,000. When it came to the end of the year we sold the $800,000 and instead of taking a loss of $160,000 we only took a loss of $30,000. I arranged with J. P. Morgan & Co. to sell it at a price and then I bought it back at the same price. After rebuying I held on to it and finally sold it at 90. Our first idea was to sell at 80, but we finally got 90. The money was paid by check to J. P. Morgan & Co.

Were not the sale and purchase for the purpose of deceiving the commissioner of insurance?

No; it was not; securities were depressed at the time and it was considered a good deal.

But the real purpose was to have your books read $3,200,000 instead of $4,000,000.

Yes.

Senator Armstrong here queried about the $48,000 check to the campaign fund. He asked:

The Campaign Check.

How came the check to be such an odd amount?

I don't know exactly, except that Mr. Bliss had asked for $50,000.

Were you in a position to know of other campaign contributions?

I don't know, that is a question that ought to be looked into. In all campaign contributions I believe the fullest publicity should be attached. There ought to be a law passed to that effect.

Is there no self-restraint allowed the officers in these campaign contributions?

None that I know of. I think we have a right to leave the matter to the judgment of the officers.

If the president, out of his own executive authority and without reference to the finance committee, pays out such large sums as these, how do they ever come before the officers of the company?

I have said the finance committee has no authority over the agency accounts and general expenses. I think there should be a broadening of this authority.

Mr. Perkins was then asked about checks for $55,000 and $15,000 made payable to Andrew Hamilton, a legal advisor of the company, March 8, 1904. He could not tell whether they had to do with home office account or the acquisition of Worth Street property, neither could he say why payment for property in New York should be made to a man living in Albany. Mr. Perkins knew nothing of these real estate deals, but promised to present the records.

Assemblyman Rogers then expressed his desire to ask a few questions about the sale of bonds on December 31 to J. P. Morgan & Co. and the repurchase on January 2.

"Now, Mr. Perkins, you acted in the transaction for the Life Insurance company and also for J. P. Morgan & Co?"

"I completed the transaction for J. P. Morgan & Co. because that house was the only place where I could realize a fair sum for the bonds at that time. We lost nothing in that transaction and we made nothing, but in financial transactions it is sometimes just as important not to make a loss as to show a profit."

Mr. Hughes—"You did not change your position at all?"

Assemblyman Rogers—"Has there been any other case in which you have acted for both the New York Life and J. P. Morgan & Co. at the same time?"

"I recall no other transaction."

Mr. McKean—"Did you confer on this matter with any other member of J. P. Morgan & Co.?"

"No."

"In effect you acted alone for both J. P. Morgan & Co. and the New York Life?"

"Yes. There was no possibility of loss and I had no other course open to me but to do as I did."

"Did any of J. P. Morgan & Co.'s people know of the transaction?"

"I presume those who saw it through."

A Jykyll-Hyde Question.

Senator Armstrong—Did you personally carry the stock from the New York Life to J. P. Morgan & Co.'s office?

I have made no deliveries since I have been in the service of the company.

Who, then, made the actual delivery?

You should ask the custodian of the securities. I did the initial work and was responsible for the transaction.

Was there any delivery?

We got a draft—I know that.

Now, in the transaction, when did Mr. Perkins, an officer of the New York Life, give way to Mr. Perkins, an officer of J. P. Morgan & Co.?

I don't understand your point.

Well, you, as an officer of the New York Life, issue one order and Perkins, an officer of J. P. Morgan & Co., receives it. When were you acting for the New York Life; when for J. P. Morgan & Co.? When were you acting for the New York Life?

All the time.

When were you acting for J. P. Morgan & Co.?

That depends on the occasion.

Well, if you are acting for the New York Life, there is not much time left for J. P. Morgan & Co., remarked Senator Armstrong.

Mr. Perkins then burst into a protestation:

"Mr. Chairman, I act as I think right. I do not think whether I am acting for the New York Life or J. P. Morgan & Co., I follow my conscience and do what I think is right."

The senator was unmoved and asked: "But where did your loyalty to one or the other end?"

Assemblyman Rogers broke in and said:

"The senator is thinking of the scripture, 'A man cannot serve two masters.'"

Mr. Perkins replied:

"My loyalty lies where my duty is."

"I want to say," continued Mr. Perkins, "that since I have been with J. P. Morgan & Co., during these last four years, the company has marketed more securities than the New York Life, the Equitable and the Mutual have accumulated in the last 60 years. Competition is no longer the life of trade; it is co-operation."

Back to the Syndicate Deal.

"Now, about the $800,00 sale and purchase (said Mr. Hughes, breaking in on Mr. Perkins); you had the goods in your vaults at one time?

Yes.

And then you got rid of them for what purpose?

Because it was a good business investment.

In other syndicate transactions you furnished the money?

We did.

Who conducts the joint accounts on behalf of the New York Life?

I do—all of them.

In regard to the Boston bonds, you bought them to sell at a profit and to divide it up with the partners in the syndicate?

Not at all. We bought them as a good investment. We go into these affairs to get possession of the bonds, and we may hold them for years before sale. I am very proud of this joint account. I originated it. I conduct it. It is our aim to get at cost prices.

Is the loss divided in these joint accounts?

Yes; but we reserve the right to withdraw our securities. The other man has no right to our share of the profits.

You control only your half?

That is all.

You have the whole, with a profit on the half?

Yes.

You certainly are entitled to the profit you have made, said Mr. Hughes.

Thank you, replied Mr. Perkins with a sweeping bow.

Concerning Joint Accounts.

As to these joint accounts Mr. Perkins said:

When we desire a certain security we go to a firm and tell them if they will take half of a quantity of bonds we will take the other half. These people sometimes say, "We would like to do this, but it is inconvenient at this time; we haven't the money." As we are looking to loan money we say, "If you will be responsible for your share we will loan you the money and withdraw our bonds, and carry the rest at bond interest on joint account."

Mr. Perkins explained the method of the New York Life in dealing with others along this line, and was then questioned about a purchase in November 14, 1904, of $1,000,000 par value Erie convertible 4s at 94, for which the New York Life paid $940,000 to W. S. Fanshaw & Co. He was asked if Fanshaw & Co. purchased these of J. P. Morgan & Co., and he replied they may have bought them of J. P. Morgan & Co., he would find out.

Mr. Perkins was asked as to a number of temporary loans that appeared on the books, but he would not testify without the details and date which he will furnish at a later session.

The Mutual Again Probed.

Prior to the arrival of Mr. Perkins in the committee room, the investigators had resumed their inquiry into the affairs of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, and called August D. Juilliard, a member of the finance committee of the Mutual. He is a stockholder in the Guaranty Trust Company, United States Mortgage and Trust Company, Morristown Trust Company, Fifth Avenue Trust Company, Morton Trust Company and Title Guarantee and Trust Company, and the National Bank of America. He said he individually participated in syndicates for the purchase of bonds, but that his personal participations were in no way influenced by the fact that the Mutual Life Insurance Company was also a participator therein.

In one of the Japanese bond syndicates Mr. Juilliard participated but withdrew no bonds. He put up no money but shared in the profits. In the United States of Mexico bond syndicate Mr. Juilliard was interested. The Mutual Life Insurance Company took $4,000,000 in bonds, and the members of the syndicate, while putting up no money, shared in the distribution of profits. He was, in the navigation syndicate to the extent of $100,000, which is still in force. He paid the call-and like others, is awaiting the result.

Mr. Juilliard made the statement on the stand that he would go into any syndicate the Mutual Life thought sufficiently safe to participate in, and would also risk his own money where he would not that of the Mutual Life.

Adjournment was taken today at 4 o'clock to enable members of the committee to return to their homes. There will be no session until Wednesday.

TENNESSEE BABY SHOW SENDS PRIZE PICKANINNY

George Booker T. Washington Bronston, the Winner of Many Medals at Colored Functions Down South, in Pittsburgh.

George Booker T. Washington Bronston, aged 22 months and 6 days, is the prettiest colored baby in Tennessee. Competent judges have agreed upon this adjudication, and in consequence George Booker T. Washington Bronston is just about the proudest pickaninny in the land.

He was in Pittsburgh a few minutes last night, and looked as happy as he will look 10 years hence, when he hears the voice of the watermelon from over the fence. He was being taken to Harrisburg by his Aunt Ellen, and hereafter will make his home in Pennsylvania.

"Dis am none ob youh common coons," explained Aunt Ellen, as she held up the child in the Union station last night. "He am a son ob Samuel Jackson Bronston, who was a grandson ob Elijah Bronston Jones, who was de body servant ob Presidun' Andrew Gen'l Jackson, de man dat 'feated de British sojers at de battle oh de cotton bales, commonly called New Oleens.

"Dis chile, George Booker T. Washington Bronston, done take six prises at de culled baby shows in Tennessee. His parents done live at Clarksburg, but the rare beauty on de chillun become so 'ceptionaliversel dat we done take him to Franklin an' Nashville an' Memphis an' all dem cities and metropolises an', bless yo', honey, de prizes fes' rains on him like when ole Father Noah done casted off de tall mountain in de ark.

"Called babe shows am all de rage 'mongst de 'beifish classes in culled society in de souf. Dis chile wun entered in dem all and took all de choice fust prizes. Now de jealous folks has done had him handy-clapped like de fast hosses at de fair.

"Say I to George Booker T. Washington Bronston, chile yo' done bean de call ob freedom from de hills ob Pennsyvany? Yo' 'spect to waste yo' possibilities away down heah? Yo' want ter grow up 'mongst dis yeah po' white trash? Yo' 'spect to make a mark in de world? Den yo' pack up wif yo' Aunt Ellen and come along to Pennsyvany—de land ob de free and de home ob de brave."

And George Booker T. Washington Bronston, the prize pickaninny of Tennessee and the descendant of President Jackson's body servant, continued his memorable journey—a poem of black dimples and smiles.

RAMSEY WANTS TO REMAIN AT HEAD

members of the syndicate and the buyers secure a valuable property."

The capital of the Little Kanawha syndicate is $8,000,000. Of this amount subscribed, 70 per cent was called, so that the present investment is $5,600,000 in cash outlay.

With this matter closed up, Mr. Ramsey is in a position to give his attention to the fight for the presidency of the Wabash. His headquarters for this contest are at the Holland in New York. In his conversation yesterday he was confident that he has a fair chance to win.

Does Not Know Rockefeller.

"It would, of course, not be policy to tell what I may know concerning the location of the holdings of the stock and debentures of the Wabash," he said. "It is sufficient to say that I would not undertake a task of this size unless I knew that there was an opportunity to succeed. I entered this contest after having conferred with only three or four people, who alone knew of my plans. These people are all deeply interested as holders of Wabash securities, which holdings are only incidental with them.

"So far as the report that the Rockefeller interests are my allies in this matter is concerned, I can say only that I have no knowledge of there being a Rockefeller interest in the Wabash. I have never met John D. Rockefeller. Once I saw him, but he does not know me personally. If there is a Rockefeller interest, however, and Mr. Rockefeller believes that I am the right man to be at the head of the property, I would be glad to have his co-operation to that end.

Wishes to Carry Out His Plans.

"My only aim in this request for proxies is to be continued in the position to carry out to their conclusion the plans which I formed and started for the development of the Wabash. I believe that I can do this better, with my large personal interest and responsibility, than can others who have no such interest. The Wabash will be managed with an eye single to the interests of its stock and bondholders. Its independent position will be maintained. I would not be guilty of such abuse of confidence as to do otherwise. I should consider that to make any arrangements other than such as will make the road able to stand alone would be to violate the confidence which my friends here have placed in me in standing by me loyally during the past three or four years in the hope of bringing an independent railroad into Pittsburgh."

Mr. Ramsey would not discuss yesterday the present management of the Wabash Pittsburgh terminal. The most he would say was that every day of delay in completing the lines which will reach the industries here is extremely expensive, both because of the enormous interest charges upon the bonds which were put out in anticipation of this work and because of the loss of revenue on the Wabash Pittsburgh terminal, Wheeling & Lake Erie and Wabash proper due to the absence of connections with the traffic-producing concerns.

Considerable Pittsburgh Interest.

The contest for the control of the Wabash has aroused no end of interest, and it was promptly reflected upon the New York stock exchange yesterday. There the dealings in the debenture B bonds of the company, which, like stock, have voting power, amounted to more than the transaction in Japanese bonds yesterday. In all $1,163,000 par value of these securities changed hands yesterday. It is evident that one or both of the two sides is buying for voting power at the coming election. The buying forced the price up from a low of 73½ to a high of 77.

There has been gradually collected in Pittsburgh since the Wabash started its plans for a Pittsburgh extension, a considerable interest in Wabash securities. Inasmuch as Mr. Ramsey is known here personally to a very large number of the leading people of the city, it is probable that the Pittsburgh contingent in the Wabash will be found with him almost without exception. The remarkable winning fight he made in Pittsburgh for the entrance of the Wabash road commented upon yesterday as an indication that he would hardly be a loser in his present contest. He will be in Pittsburgh today and possibly tomorrow.

NEW YORK GOSSIP SAYS MOVEMENT IS RAMSEY'S

Investigation There Fails to Disclose the Presence of Large Non-Wabash Interest.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—In all quarters from which statements were obtainable today it was said that the movement of Joseph Ramsey, Jr., president of the Wabash railroad, to oust the Goulds from control of the road represented, up to this time, at least, only himself. A member of the Wabash "Debenture B" bondholders' committee, which has been reported as possibly backing Mr. Ramsey, said:

"The committee of the Debenture B bondholders has not taken any action or position with reference to Mr. Ramsey's efforts. Our first news of it came with the publication of his circular."

At the Gould offices an officer said they believed there that it was Mr. Ramsey's movement solely. Even if he was backed by the Wabash "B" bondholders' committee, it was the opinion of this officer that it would make little difference, as he figured the committee only represented $5,000,000 to $4,000,000 of the $20,000,000 of bonds.

The Wabash annual meeting is called to be held at Toledo, under the Ohio state laws, which he did not think permitted "cumulative voting," that method of voting which permits a minority interest to obtain representation on a board of directors.

The Wabash is a consolidated company and holds charters in several states. Its transfer books for the annual meeting were closed on September 7, and a good many proxies have already been received by the Gould interests.

The market was filled with gossip about the fight.

The movement in the Wabash issues on the stock exchange was said to have little direct bearing on a struggle for control, since the transfer books of the company closed on September 7, and will not be reopened until after the annual meeting on October 10. Mr. Ramsey, in his letter, asks for a revocation of proxies already given. The call for proxies was signed by Vice President F. A. Delano.

CAMPAIGN PLOT FOUND IN PROVINCES OF CUBA

Partisans of President Palma Are Dismissed by Liberal Governors. Warned Not to Obey.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HAVANA, Sept. 15.—Gen. Freyo Andrade, secretary of the interior, says he has discovered a plot of the Liberal party by which the Liberal governors of the provinces of Santa Clara, Camagney and Pinial del Rio proposed to discharge all the mayors and other leading municipal officials who were partisans of President Palma. The plan was discovered after the mayor and the lieutenant mayor of Guanajay and the mayor and treasurer of Cabanas in Pinar del Rio were discharged.

President Palma on being informed of the plans of the Liberal party, immediately issued a decree by telegraph to all the mayors warning them not to cease their municipal duties under any conditions whatever without first communicating with and receiving orders from the secretary of the interior.

Secretary Andrade's discovery has accentuated the strained relations existing between the two parties.

MATCH CAUSES EXPLOSION.

Civil Engineer Seriously Burned by Ignited Gas from Old Mine.

WEST NEWTON, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—A lighted match tossed aside by a smoker caused an explosion at noon today at the old Port Royal shaft, which resulted in the tipple being burned and Thornton Hamilton, a civil engineer, being seriously burned. The Port Royal shaft was abandoned about eight years ago, shortly after a disaster in which 30 men were killed.

Today several members of a surveying corps employed by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, were seated about the old tipple smoking. A lighted match ignited gas issuing from the abandoned workings and a terrific report followed. Hamilton was knocked down and severely burned before his companions were able to give him any help.

DIES AT THE THROTTLE.

Engineer on Express Train Passes Away While Train Is Going 45 Miles an Hour.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Erie passenger train No. 7, known as the Pacific Express, rushed by Deposit station at 3 o'clock this morning with a dead man's hand reaching for the throttle. Merritt Turner of Port Jervis, one of the veteran engineers of the road, died between a block four miles east of the station and the place where the train should have stopped. He was all right at the block, when Conductor Conner talked with him.

When the train did not slow down for the station the conductor knew that something had gone wrong and he stopped the train by applying the emergency brakes. Trainmen hurried to the engine and found the fireman trying to break in the door of the cab. Turner's dead body was on the seat with his hand outstretched toward the throttle.

WRESTLING CONTEST CAUSES SMALL RIOT

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 15.—The police were called to the Star theater tonight to put an end to a disturbance that had arisen as the result of a decision in a wrestling match put on after the regular performance tonight. Fred Beell, a protege of Harvey Parker, had been engaged to wrestle Mark Cheryl of Cleveland, a protege of Mark Lamb. When the referee declared that Beell had won the contest Parker and Lamb came to blows on the stage, and there was a general mix-up among the adherents of both wrestlers.

EIGHT NEW CASES OF CHOLERA IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Sept. 15.—The official bulletin issued today announces eight new cases of cholera in the last 24 hours, making a total of 150 cases and 6 deaths. The new cases are one each in the Dirschau, Breslau, Bromberg and Kreuzberg districts, and two each in the Graudenz and Flatow districts.

Riverman Beaten and Robbed.

James Frank, a diverman of the South side, was assaulted and robbed shortly after 2 o'clock this morning, as he was passing the Newsboys' home, on Forbes street, by two men. He was badly cut about the head and was relieved of several dollars. Policeman Charles Wentzel chased one of the men through the Pennsylvania freight yards, firing several shots at him before he would stop. He gave his name as Edward Smith at Central station.

TROLLEY KILLS AN AGED WOMAN

Mrs. Mary Anderson Meets Terrible Death a Few Doors from Her Home.

WALLACE DISPUTES CORONER

Fifth, Penn and Shady car No. 1858, going at full speed, struck Mrs. Mary Anderson, aged 74, in Penn Avenue at the corner of Millvale avenue last night at 10:30 o'clock, and instantly killed her. Mrs. Anderson lived within a few doors of the spot where she met her death. She was crossing the street to make a purchase at a neighboring store. The wheels passed over the middle of her body, almost severing it.

Half an hour elapsed before her body was removed from under the car, crowbars and other implements to raise the car being borrowed from a stable near by. It is stated that Frank, a young son of the victim, attempted to aid in getting his mother's body from under the wheels and was prevented by a lieutenant of police, who threatened to arrest him. The motorman of the car was Patrick Cosby and the conductor H. C. King. They were not arrested.

Mrs. Anderson was the widow of Frederick Anderson, a former well-known downtown tailor. She is survived by eight children—Frederick, Jr., Frank, Robert and George Anderson, Mrs. Elmer Coiville, 906 Dearborn street; Mrs. Richard Preston, Whitfield avenue; Misses Anna and Ivy Anderson.

Coroner Armstrong differs from Superintendent of Police Wallace in regard to the finding of the coroner's jury in the request of John Earl Hull, son-in-law of the police superintendent, who was killed in a fight with Joseph Paroli last week. The jury exonerated the Italian, maintaining that Hull was acting in an improper manner and that the Italian struck him in self-defense. Wallace thinks the coroner should have held Paroli to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder. James A. Hull, father of the dead boy, has retained Attorney John Marron to prosecute Paroli. It is said information will be made against the Italian.

The body of John Fredericks, who was drowned September 11 at Herrs island dam, was recovered in the Ohio river at the foot of Wilkins street, Allegheny, yesterday.

Jerry Lee, a structural iron worker of Cleveland, was struck by a train on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Robbins station at 7 o'clock yesterday morning and died one hour later at the McKeesport hospital. He was 45 years old.

DECLARES BARON KOMURA IS COMMITTING SUICIDE

Japanese Show Manager Says the Peace Envoy Has Taken Hint to Die from Cable Sent to Him.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SIOUX CITY, IA., Sept. 15.—Baron Komura, the Japanese peace plenipotentiary, is committing slow suicide, according to Takashita, manager of a troupe of vaudeville performers appearing here. Takashita is highly educated. He inquired solicitously today regarding the condition of Komura. He was told it was no worse.

"But he will never get well," replied Takashita, slowly. "When the message was clicked over the cable that my countrymen were preparing to receive him with funeral rites, I knew he would never return to Japan. He doubtless had learned that already by private cablegram. It was our nation's way of spreading him he was in disgrace, and that he could atone for it by showing through his own death he will still a hero and patriot."

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Baron Komura passed a very comfortable day. His physicians report the patient's condition as being decidedly satisfactory.

BLOW FOR DR. GLADDEN.

Famous Resolution in Regard to "Tainted Money" Is Tabled at Seattle, Wash.

SEATTLE, WASH., Sept. 15.—Dr. Washington Gladden at today's session of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions of the Congregational church, introduced his resolution protesting against the invitation or solicitation of "tainted money." The resolution was referred to the business committee, which tabled it by a heavy vote.

The resolution was: Resolved, that the officers of this society should neither solicit nor invite donations to its funds from persons whose gains are generally believed to have been made by methods morally reprehensible and socially injurious."

MICHIGAN CITY, IND., Sept. 15.—After a spirited discussion the Northwest Indiana conference of the Methodist church today declined to indorse an appeal from the congregation at Whiting, Ind., to John D. Rockefeller for financial aid for the building of a new church and parsonage.

Fire Destroys Barracks at Ft. Hamilton.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Fire shortly after 1 o'clock this morning destroyed four barrack buildings at Fort Hamilton in Brooklyn, sending the members of the One Hundred and Twenty-third company of United States coast artillery, commanded by Lieut. R. L. Gilmer, from their quarters in such haste they were able to save but few effects. The loss is estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000.

Miss Meade Drops Dead.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 15.—Miss Margaret B. Meade, daughter of Gen. George Gordon Meade, who commanded the Union forces at Gettysburg, dropped dead today in front of the Episcopal church in Camden. She was 60 years of age. Her home was in Philadelphia.

Iowa's Population Shrinks.

DES MOINES, IA., Sept. 15.—According to preliminary figures of Iowa's state census completed today, Iowa had a total population on January 1, 1905, of 2,201,373. This is a loss of 30,461 since the national census of 1900.

Fever Refugees in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Several Italians, supposed to be infected with yellow fever, arrived at Union passenger station tonight, and evaded a health officer, who was at their train to meet them. At a late hour, they were still at large. The Italians came from Talbush, La.

HOOPSKIRTS COMING IN FAVOR ONCE MORE

Modiste Explains Fine Points of New Garment to New York Society Folk.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Five widening ribbon-covered hoops, a few yards of silk webbing and a taffeta flounce, berruffled and lace trimmed, form the latest novelty in lingerie, designed to take the place of the clumsy petticoat. In other words, the hoopskirt is once more in the field fighting for favor, but this time it is a dream of loveliness instead of the hideous, cage-like garment of old.

The new hoopskirt or "crolet" is being introduced in a dressmakers' convention now in session in the Victoria hotel. "The smart Parisian women were wearing these modernized hoop skirts three months ago," explained Miss Jane Brewster, the hoop skirt demonstrator, "and at present they are an accepted part of the Chicago woman's wardrobe.

"Now, it doesn't look like an uncomfortable garment, does it?" she asked the circle of women gathered about the model, who was showing the points of the new hoop skirt. Not until it reaches the knees does the new hoop skirt begin to resemble a petticoat in the slightest way. From the narrow belt made of silk webbing, fall four vertical bands of the same material, and to these are attached five widening steel hoops, about half an inch broad, each circle being covered with ribbon shirred to make a tiny frill on both sides of the hoop.

The hoops are arranged about an inch and a half apart, and when properly hung extend from the knees midway to the ankles. On the lower hoop is a band of beading to which is attached a petticoat flounce, plain or fancy, and any color you like.

PRESIDENT MAY BE ARBITRATOR

Norway and Sweden May Ask Him to Help Settle Their Difficulties.

IS UNIVERSAL PEACEMAKER

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Prof. Harold Hjarne, a member of the Swedish riksdag, in an interview today regarding the Swedish-Norwegian situation, said he did not believe there would be war between the two countries. It was his opinion Norway would agree to the demands of Sweden regarding the demolition of the fortifications on the Norwegian frontier, and that an arbitration treaty would be arranged. Should arbitration be resorted to, he said, Sweden would be willing to propose two members of the court of arbitration, that Norway would propose two and that President Roosevelt would be asked to propose a fifth.

"I do not believe," said Prof. Hjarne, "that any country stands so close to the people of Scandinavia as the United States. The president of the United States is the chief of an altogether disinterested power, and if we asked him to aid in the arbitration of the differences between Sweden and Norway, no one could object, as he is looked upon as the universal peacemaker.

"If the present negotiations fail there will be a deadlock for a time, but if the Norwegians cross the frontier of Sweden we must defend ourselves. Sweden is asking for the demolition of the forts simply because they might be used by a power allied to Norway against Sweden.

"That Sweden asks is that Norway leave her in peace. It is foreign alliances which might be entered into by Norway that Sweden fears. Sweden is now on good terms with Russia, but in case of a Russian alliance with Norway, my country would be the first invaded."

The British fleet of 13 vessels which, according to a dispatch from Christiania, was recently cruising outside of the Norwegian ports of Arendal and Christiania, was the British channel fleet which arrived today at Cromarty Firth, Scotland.

MILWAUKEE DEVELOPS BIG ESTATE SCANDAL

Proceedings Involve Mammoth Fortune of a Sister of Mrs. Frederick Pabst.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 15.—Jacob Heyl, an heir to the estate of Mrs. Lisette Schandien, daughter of Philip Best and sister of Mrs. Frederick Pabst, was arrested tonight by Sheriff Carey, on a writ issued on affidavit of Ella, Frank and Emil Schandien, also heirs of the estate. Heyl is charged with securing a large part of the estate through undue influence. Bonds were fixed at $250,000. Heyl is at a hotel, guarded by two deputy sheriffs.

The complaint alleges that Heyl, after the death of Emil Schandien, Sr., in 1898, prevailed on Lisette Schandien, Emil's widow, to take him into her employment at $10,000 a year, and to entrust him with the entire management of the business affairs of the estate; that in January, 1896, Heyl induced Lisette Schandien to enter into a secret agreement to pay over $300,000 as extra compensation for services and to agree with him thenceforth to turn over half of the increase of her estate from year to year, and that in January, 1898, the value of the estate was upward of $5,000,000.

It is also alleged that Heyl induced Mrs. Schandein to transfer certain stocks and a large quantity of real estate to him for a pretended consideration. The Milwaukee Trust Company, plaintiff, as special administrator, prays that the secret agreement be declared void.

TIN PLATE TO ADVANCE.

Quotations Are Expected to Be Raised in Near Future $3 to $4 a Ton.

An advance in the price of tin plate may be expected in the near future as the result of the quickening of the demand. The present price, $3.55 a 100-pound box, is admittedly too low, and it is believed that the advance will be from $3 to $4 a ton. This would bring the price a box to $3.70 or $3.75.

The demand shows such improvement that the independent manufacturers, some of whom have had considerable difficulty in pulling through the depressed period, are starting their mills with confidence that they will be able to make money. One of the factors forcing higher prices is the increased price for tin bars. The quotations on these are $25 and upwards.

Is Wanted in Cambria County.

Frank Gouhenour was arrested at the home of his brother, Joseph Gouhenour, 2132 Carson street, last night on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace John Cunningham of Nantyglo, Cambria county. The arrest was made by Officer L. Williams and he was locked in No. 7 police station to await the arrival of the constable from Squire Cunningham's office.

Gouhenour is said to be wanted on a charge of violating the livery laws in driving a horse to death at Nantyglo.

MR. "BOLES" FROM "THE HOLY CITY" GETS ACTIVE IN PATROL WAGON

"Boles," who said he was on his way home to "The Holy City," was taken part of the way in a patrol wagon last night. The man was located by the police shortly before 9 o'clock last night at Homewood and Penn avenues in an apparently drunken condition. He said his name was "Boles" and his home "The Holy City."

When the patrol wagon arrived "Boles" was lifted into it, but was apparently playing "possum," for the wagon had only gotten a fair start when "Boles" awakened with a start and is said to have struck the driver, Charles Johnston, a terrific blow in the face with a "knuckle." Johnston managed to dodge another vicious drive, but handed out an upper cut which lifted "Boles" off his feet and sent him into the waiting arms of Officer James Noon, who was also in the wagon.

The prisoner was then handcuffed. Arriving in the police station the handcuffs were released, when "Boles" made another bid for pugilistic honors and had the two officers strictly on the defensive when Sergeant Joseph Weber drew in and assisted the two policemen in checking the ambitions of "Boles." The man from "The Holy City" was then searched and a heavy pair of "knuckles," a massive watch, a soda water glass holder and tax receipts establishing his identity were found on his person. He denied that he had used the soda water glass holder recently. The tax receipts disclosed the fact that "Boles" was William Boles, a railroader, and that "The Holy City" was Wilkins

This will be Republican day in Allegheny county. Between 2 and 7 o'clock this afternoon the voters affiliated with this party will determine by their ballots the makeup of the county ticket. There is every indication there will be a lively contest and the best men will win the nominations. There is no slate and there has been no dictation from the leaders of the party. The primaries are open to every honest Republican.

Owing to the desire of some men to make the primaries the opening skirmish in the Allegheny mayoralty fight, the North Side will be the battle ground today. Former Senator Charles A. Muehlbronner wants to be the Republican nominee for mayor. He has placed himself behind the candidacy of Robert K. Cochrane, who is seeking the nomination for county recorder. Opposed to Mr. Cochrane is John A. Fairman, one of the foremost men in Allegheny. He is an old soldier of good record and a business man of high standing. Had not Mr. Muehlbronner and his friends sought to inject the mayoralty feature into a contest in which it does not belong, there would not be a fight in Allegheny today. Mr. Fairman would not have been opposed. The Cochrane campaign has been confined almost exclusively to Allegheny, while the friends of Fairman have carried on a campaign in every part of the county. Mr. Cochrane is simply being used as a feeler for the mayoralty candidacy of Senator Muehlbronner.

Eleven Wards for Fairman.

Mr. Fairman and his campaign managers are confident of victory in Allegheny today and his nomination in the county. There are 15 wards in the North Side and 11 of them are credited to Mr. Fairman.

Mr. Cochrane's managers say he will carry Allegheny. They do not go into details, and do not appear to be confident of their prediction.

Both candidates have made an active canvass in Allegheny and there is sure to be a large vote polled. While Harvey A. Lowry is also a candidate for recorder, it is not probable he will make much of a showing in Allegheny. His work has been done in Pittsburgh and throughout the country districts, where he has found Fairman as his opponent.

The Citizens leaders are trying to mix in the primaries in the hope of creating trouble. There is very good reason for believing that orders went out last night to the pay roll to do everything possible for Lowry for recorder, W. W. Murray for commissioner and John A. Reed for clerk of courts. This is not done because the Citizens bosses care for the success of these candidates, but hope by mixing in to make sore spots for the Republicans in the November elections. Citizens who contemplate breaking into the primaries for trouble-making reasons have no intention of supporting the Republican ticket in the fall and will doubtless have much difficulty in convincing the election boards of their sincerity of purpose.

No Skulduggery Today.

The Bigelow machine knows that it has no hope of success this fall in the county unless it can do something to cause friction in the Republican party in the primaries today. The Republican party is stronger in every part of the county now than it was in 1903, when it elected its ticket. While the primary doors are open to all Citizens who have seen the error of their way and are truly repentant, the regulars will not stand for any skulduggery today. The party rules provide ample means for caring for those who do not have a right to participate in the primaries.

Returns will be received at county headquarters tonight. Chairman Ford expects the result in most of the districts will be sent in. He says the county committeemen will either bring in the vote or telephone it to headquarters at the earliest possible moment.

The Fourteenth ward Republican committee met in the rooms of the C. L. Magee Republican club at 3764 Forbes street last night. Alex. McKnight, chairman of the ward committee, presided. Speeches were made urging the polling of a big vote today. No slates were prepared, nor orders issued for candidates.

William Steiner, a councilman of Whitaker, yesterday resigned, having arranged to move to Pittsburgh. At a special meeting of council, L. C. Boat was elected to succeed him.

Edward Becker was appointed judge of election for the second district of the Third ward, Pittsburgh, yesterday, to take the place of John Tuggaes, who has removed from the district.

FRAMING TICKET WITH HARMONY

Philadelphia Republican Committee Has No Trouble Dealing With Union League.

RESULT IS EXPECTED TODAY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 15.

After several hours spent in conference the sub-committee of the Republican city committee and the Union League committee of 21, announced this evening that they were not ready to report on the new Republican county ticket, which they were authorized to select. An adjournment until tomorrow was taken in order to make sure that the men being considered will accept if nominated.

Insurance Commissioner David Martin, Republican City Chairman James L. Miles and David H. Lane are the conferees of the Republican city committee, and nearly all of the 21 met with them during the day. Mr. Lane, after the adjournment, said the conferees had agreed on several men for each office, either one of whom would be acceptable to both committees. The final decision is left to the Union League committee. He declared that there was no friction and that harmony prevailed through all of the conferences.

It is not positively known if the Republican ticket will be made known tomorrow, some preferring that the candidates agreed upon not be announced until they are nominated by the Republican city committee at its meeting Monday, but the chances are that it will be made public tomorrow.

Much mystery is being made of the mass meeting which Mayor Weaver will address at the Broad Street theater tomorrow night. At the headquarters of the City party it was today given out that the mayor, in his speech, would indorse that organization. It was claimed he had promised it his support. On the other hand, Republican leaders are informed that the object of the meeting is to nominate a full ticket, thus forestalling the action of the City party convention next Wednesday.

Weaver, Gordon and the Wanamaker lieutenants have not been giving much assistance recently to the City party, and it is quietly whispered that they are fearful its ticket, when named, will not be to its liking. Should the mayor and his friends force nominations tomorrow night, the City party would be forced to indorse them or go out of business. However, the City party leaders insist that the mayor promised to indorse their organization and they expect him to make good his pledge tomorrow night.

Judge Gordon, Mayor Weaver and Director Potter today arranged for the police details for the town meeting. Two halls for overflow meetings were engaged and several bands.

Late tonight it was semi-officially stated that Coroner Dugan would be renominated and that Arno Lenhardt would be one of the candidates for county commissioner on the new Republican ticket. Lenhardt is a member of the more important German societies, a leader with his people and would make a strong candidate. CHESTER D. POTTER.

Turkish Bey's Christian Choice of Photographic Subjects Disappoints a Few Persons.

FINE EXHIBIT IN THE EAST END

The first annual exhibition of the photographic section of the Academy of Science and Art of Pittsburgh was given last night. The room in the Y. M. C. A. building in the East End was crowded all evening. It was bruited about that photographs by the imperial photographer of the sultan of Turkey would be exhibited. It was evident that it was suspected the Turk's choice of subjects would be somewhat spicy. Consequently some persons were disappointed, but the majority breathed freer when it was found that the imperial photographer had portrayed no harem scenes and merely exhibited two pictures of a truculent strictly male Turk and a pastoral view.

It was learned, too, that the supposed Turk is not a Turk, but a Frenchman named Wilfred de Salin, who, however, has the title of bey. The letter which heralded the photographs was dated at the imperial palace of Yildiz in Constantinople and was addressed to J. M. Conner, the secretary of the photographic section. The pastoral scene is presented by Bey de Salin to Mr. Conner. The pictures are not catalogued, but are hung in a place of honor in the room.

Exhibitors from points outside Pittsburgh are not so numerous, but the promoters of the exhibition are pleased at hearing from some so far distant a point as Constantinople. Bey de Salin evidently thought the exhibition was competitive and said he hoped he would win a prize, but no prizes are awarded at this exhibition.

Members of the association are professional and amateur photographers and work of amateurs and professionals is exhibited. These exhibitors show specimens of work which are all good: D. D. Brice has nine pictures, C. A. Jarrett and Walter C. Jarret four and eight pictures respectively, F. Frank C. Newell shows three pictures, carbon on porcelain; William H. Phillips of East Liverpool, O., five; R. L. Sleeth, Jr., 11; Quincy A. Scott, five, and Samuel A. Martin, 11. W. P. Clyde has one in which an old willow tree is good; W. McK. Ewart has a fine woodland scene; R. W. Johnston depicts beautifully a woodland road and a fisherman. Five of the 14 photographs shown by O. C. Reiter are very good, the picture of the old man in F. H. Wallbridge's "Evening of Life" is fine, as are his child study, "Sunbeam," "The Model" and "A War Veteran." Dr. Roger Williams has several fine pictures on exhibition and the figures and atmosphere in W. McG. White's "Early Spring" are good.

The exhibition will be open until September 23, inclusive.

FARES TO BE ADVANCED ON THE CASTLE SHANNON

Pittsburgh Railways Company, the Lessee, Arouses Patrons to Vigorous Protest Against the Change.

Residents of Castle Shannon and vicinity are protesting against a new schedule of fares on the Castle Shannon railroad, posted by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, the lessee. On Thursday evening a meeting was held in Castle Shannon by residents of the borough. Another meeting has been called for next Wednesday night, when committees will be appointed to wait upon officers of the Pittsburgh Railways Company. A committee may be appointed to call on the Wabash railroad authorities to ask them to put new accommodation trains on for the benefit of patrons who have formerly used the Castle Shannon railroad.

Under the present rates of fare on the Castle Shannon railroad it costs a patron of the line $3.25 a month to come to the foot of the inclined plane in Carson street. The new fare, to go into effect on October 1, means, so the protesters say, an expenditure of $6 every 20 days to get to the foot of the incline or to the business district of the city.

Formerly monthly school tickets, taking pupils to the Union High school in Allentown, cost $1.50; under the new arrangement pupils must pay cash fare, so that the monthly expense for riding to and from the high school will be $4. One man who comes to Pittsburgh every day from Castle Shannon and has two children who attend the Union High school has figured up the difference and finds he will have to pay for car fares $10.75 a month more than he paid before.

PRISONER ASKS JUDGE TO SHOOT AND KILL HIM

Convicted Murderer Happy When the Jury Returns Its Verdict at Ebensburg.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

EBENSBURG, PA., Sept. 15.—"Don't hesitate, gentlemen, I'm guilty. I didn't want to come here, and I want it all ended," said Stephen Fellows, facing the jury, which was about to be charged by Judge O'Connor, at the close of the second trial of Fellows on a murder charge.

Fellows, who has exhibited indifference as to the outcome of the trial, seemed suddenly stricken with remorse, and said to the court: "Your honor, take that revolver and load it. Shoot me here, and here, and here"—pointing to his temples and his heart. The weapon he referred to was the one with which he had killed his wife.

When the jury returned with a verdict of murder in the first degree, Fellows was led smiling back to his cell, apparently happier than at any time since the beginning of the trial.

Saturday, September 16, 1905.

There can be no excuse for the failure of any able-bodied Republican to record his choice today at the primary election of his party in Allegheny county. The hours are from 2 to 7 p. m. Emphatic refutation of enemies' assertions can best be rendered by a large vote of the loyal members of the party. It is strange that vindication of the only logical and equitable method of choosing candidates should be required. Today offers the opportunity of presenting a valuable object lesson to certain disgruntled persons who are happiest when they are throwing stones from without the breastworks.

The disappearance of important witnesses for the government in the trials of packing officials indicted for conspiracy in Chicago has an ugly look. Efforts of secret service men to discover their hiding places are fruitless. The testimony of these witnesses is naturally the foundation of the prosecution, and the packers do not appear so eager for "vindication" as to render that assistance in discovering the witnesses which, it is barely possible, lies within their power.

An impressive demonstration will take place in Jersey City tomorrow when 15,000 men who have taken a pledge to refrain from blasphemous swearing, and to induce others to discard the practice, will march through the streets bearing the banner of the Holy Name society. Each participant will also wear the button of the organization. The demonstration is a welcome one, constituting a striking protest against what appears to be an increasing evil in this country.

Revelations regarding the deplorable condition of Russian political prisoners released by the Japanese capture of Sakhalin have attracted the attention of the Society of Friends of Russian Freedom, which has headquarters in Boston, and funds are being sought for their assistance. The island of Sakhalin has been used for many years as a penal colony by the Russian government. The nature of the offense attributed to these prisoners, the advocating a free government in Russia, should elicit for them not only expressions of sympathy, but that sympathy in which the pocketbook plays a practical part.

Earthquakes, probably the most terrifying of all forms of disaster to which dwellers on this mundane sphere are subject, are again doing damage in Italy. Recent shocks are now followed by the report that Monte Rosso, a town of 3,000 inhabitants, has been destroyed. While it is small comfort to dwellers in Italy to know, they are right in the territory where earthquakes are to be expected, for this form of disturbance is a direct concomitant of volcanic action. Not since 1857, when occurred the awful disaster at Naples, have the people of Italy been so alarmed, it is said, as at present. Indeed, the prospect of an earthquake occurring at any moment and obliterating one's home, family and one's self, without chance of escape, is far from conducive to tranquility.

Our New York correspondent recently commented on the cordial invitation extended by a metropolitan apartment owner to families with babies. In most apartment houses in the big city expensive toy poodles are welcome, but the baby is barred. In this connection it is interesting to note the letter of a landlord to the New York Herald, in which he explains how he has solved the problem to his own satisfaction. "I own nine apartment houses," he says, "and I charge 20 per cent more rent to families having children. Reasonable parents do not find fault with this arrangement." The idea of penalizing parents in this manner has a decidedly un-American flavor, and those parents who are so "unreasonable" as not to find fault are helping to bring about a most unsatisfactory condition of affairs.

The plans afoot in Washington for the enthusiastic welcoming of President Roosevelt when he returns to the White House this fall are eloquent of the unprecedented popularity of our chief executive. Other presidents have occupied secure places in the public esteem and affection and won the respect of thoughtful men and women without evoking such demonstrative expressions of popular favor as follow Mr. Roosevelt wherever he goes. The reception in Washington is expected to take the form of a general decoration and illumination of public and private buildings, with possibly an address expressing the regard for its distinguished citizen entertained by the community in which he makes his official home.

The World's Storm Center.

Latest developments in Russia are not calculated to act with sedative influence on the already over-wrought nerves of Nicholas. New manifestations of the revolutionary spirit are reported every day. Moscow workingmen are said to be planning a new general strike, in protest against the government's prohibition of public meetings, calling out 100,000 men. St. Petersburg has heard alarming news to the effect that residents of the Jewish districts are arming themselves with a view to active participation in the revolution that so many think is imminent. Baku is already a storm center, from which there is reason to believe we have not yet received full reports. The Finns, after years of oppression, are preparing to strike a decisive blow, and are receiving munitions of war from sympathizing outsiders. Were Russia a network of telegraph wires, with alert, unhampered correspondents at every important point, the civilized world would doubtless realize to a much greater extent the proximity of the lighted fuse to the powder keg upon which the czar makes his uneasy seat.

The greatest peril to the permanency of the present rule in Russia is organization, a trick which the oppressed people seem now to be rapidly learning. When they have their lesson perfect, then look out for the big performance to begin.

Mind and Muscle.

A member of that class of scribbling pessimists who so delight to air their views in print advances a theory which no one who believes in the progress of the human race can allow to go unchallenged. It is his opinion that as civilization will more and more require mental power from man, and less and less of physical force, the man of the future will have no need of well-developed muscles or a strong constitution, as we understand the term. Machines will perform all our heavy work, cars and autos and elevators transport us, even where there is the shortest distances to be covered, and man will become a mere director of energies, instead of an exerter of physical energy on his own account. This theorist even goes a step further and hints that we shall have no need of teeth or stomach, since tablets containing nourishment in a highly condensed form will require neither the process of mastication nor digestion. This is the wretched creature which he holds up as the type of future humanity.

There are many reasons for believing that man is not to become a creature with an enormous head supported by a disproportionately small and ill-nourished body. The man who takes this incorrect view ignores the intimate relation existing between mind and body. That which affects the one affects the other. Lack of bodily vitality generally brings about a corresponding condition in the mind. The rule has its exceptions, but is true in the main. The brain worker soon finds that he is incapable of his best efforts without physical exercise. The physical standard among students of American colleges has been materially raised within the last few years, owing to the increased interest in athletics and compulsory work in the gymnasium. Anglo-Saxons, at least, are too fond of outdoor sports ever to become a race of physical degenerates. We do not believe a word of it. The man of the future will be a man of muscles as well as of mind.

The Slandered Snake.

If Prof. Allen S. Williams of London has his way, we shall all have to revise our present opinions regarding reptiles and study the snake question from an entirely new and unprejudiced standpoint. According to Prof. Williams, the snake has been slandered. Keeping in mind the part played by the serpent in the Garden of Eden, we have treated his descendants with cruel injustice, and attributed to the snake undesirable qualities which he does not possess. Although, through long custom, the name of the snake has become a synonym for treachery, falsehood and deceit, he really possesses the traits of affection and fidelity, according to Prof. Williams, and displays them when given proper treatment.

In the Philippines the snake is a household pet, a deadly foe to rats and mice, and it is suggested that he might be utilized for the same purpose in this country. A full-sized rattlesnake would be able to take the place of a watchdog when properly trained, and would be especially valuable in warding off bill collectors and book agents who have come to consider themselves immune to canine bites. The ease with which snakes are taught to perform tricks for public performance would seem to support the statement that they are intelligent and affectionate, but there is one objection, at least, to their employment as domestic pets: the innovation would be followed immediately by an unprecedented crop of snake stories. Every man who owned a snake would start telling tales of its wonderful intelligence, and his neighbor would try to cap them with bigger ones. We should in time become a nation of prevaricators. For this reason, if for no other, it would not be advisable to introduce the snake into the bosom of the American family.

The Business Situation.

According to the most reliable trade authorities the business outlook is without a cloud. There have been periods in the history of this country when there was greater activity in special lines and when prices were inflated by speculation or by anxiety of consumers to anticipate needs. These exceptional periods of activity, however, have usually followed periods of exceptional depression, or the sudden removal of apprehension, political or financial. In the present instance there has been a gradual growth of confidence in the future, and a gradual expansion in all lines of trade. The situation may be said to have reached a stage of normal prosperity, representing complete recovery from the temporary depression of last year and strong faith in the future. As yet there are no signs which usually accompany a "boom" that has reached the climax or is nearing the danger point.

The most important factor in producing this situation is the bountiful crops. The government report issued this week, which is in many respects the most important of the crop year, indicates that the yield of wheat has been exceeded but once, and that the yield of corn will surpass all previous records. Cotton is the only important agricultural product that will fall below the recent high average. While the United States is thus blessed with abundance, the reports from abroad, especially from Russia, an exporting country, indicate a shortage in the yield of wheat and rye. It is, therefore, reasonably certain that there will be a good demand at fair average prices for our exportable surplus.

A direct outcome of our agricultural prosperity is the decided stimulus imparted to industrial affairs. Nearly every day this week brought reports of the placing of orders for railroad equipment. It is estimated that within the past four weeks the mills have booked orders for more than 750,000 tons of steel rails for next year's delivery. Within the same period large orders have been placed for rolling stock. Railroad managers see ahead of them an enormous traffic in cereals and a return traffic made up of farm supplies and general merchandise. In their judgment this condition of trade will continue through next year, and they are ordering additional facilities to enable them to handle the increased volume of business.

Our foreign commerce is also taking a favorable turn, with every indication of improvement for the remainder of the year. Our August exports of cotton, for instance, reached a value of more than $17,000,000, which is double the total for any corresponding month in our history. There was also a large increase in the quantity and value of our exports of breadstuffs for the month. So far in September the trend has been in the same direction, and international exchanges have shifted so far in our favor that the first engagement of gold for import was announced during the week. This gold is coming our way despite the obstacle of higher rates of discount in foreign money markets. The activity in domestic money markets, however, promises to reach the maximum during the last quarter of the year, and within this period the stock market may be put on short rations. Should this prove to be necessary, there may be a decline in stock market values from the present relatively high level; but a recovery to a still higher level than any yet quoted is not improbable when money flows back to New York after the crops have been moved.

Nine policemen were killed and 387 wounded during the recent anti-peace demonstrations in Japan. Teachers of the advantages of moral suasion as laid down by Buddha, are not besieged by pupils just now in Japan.

A Minnesota factory proprietor who squelched a strike in its incipient stage by treating his 100 girl employes to ice cream soda proves that the Japanese have no monopoly on modern diplomacy.

As Hoke Smith continues vigorously to pursue the elusive office, the popular illusion throughout the country that the gentleman had been gathered to his fathers is gradually being dispelled.

At the Women's Christian Temperance Union meeting a member "refused to allow the president to be censured until the facts became known." This is a good idea, and is not copyrighted.

"As a rough guess," says a Nebraska editor, "we think William J. Bryan will be offered the nomination in 1908, and then refuse it." This is about the roughest guess on record.

And now the Scots are to erect a monument to Annie Laurie. If all the persons who murder the song could be placed under it most of us would subscribe liberally.

A Kansas congregation which prayed for rain neglected to bring umbrellas and got soaked going home. Here is where a little faith would have come in handy.

The popular estimate of China's empress dowager is that she is the sort of woman whose husband wouldn't smoke in the parlor if she told him not to.

A Denver decision that a man cannot be arrested twice for the same drunk sounds like a deliverance from the supreme bench of Kentucky.

The clever manner in which the majority of the American people are concealing their enthusiasm for Mr. Bryan is decidedly edifying.

The Massachusetts milkman who drowned himself in a reservoir provides the latest illustration of the ruling power strong in death.

A New York preacher says the man with "good horse sense" is becoming scarce. Perhaps the autos have something to do with it.

The recent war was less barbarous in many ways than usual, and there was also no poem by Alfred Austin.

On the other hand, there is the dreadful possibility that those bottles, when returned, were empty.

"I never get tired," says Mr. Bryan. Now let us hear from the audiences.

The sophs of the W. U. P. now know just how the Russians feel.

A PREACHMENT BY THE QUIET OBSERVER

The Fish That Got Away Was the Biggest and Best of All.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

I've fished in the old Neshannock,
When a freckled, barefoot boy,
Pulled "chubs" from the hole
With a stump of a pole,
And ran clear home in joy;
But among the chubs both large and small,
That I hooked in my boyhood day,
The chub that I wanted most of all,
Was the one that got away.

I've tossed the lively minnow,
With the rod of strong bamboo,
Where lies the pike
In wait to "strike",
And caught them often, too;
But of all the pike I ever caught
None were so large and fine
None made me feel so all-fired hot
As the pike that broke my line.

R. M. H. in Western Press.

That's right, as you very well know. Or at least that is the story you tell when you come home from a fishing trip.

But fish stories, you know, don't have to be true, and no one ever expects them to be. And you, yourself, always expect them to be taken on suspicion, as it were.

In reality there is no such thing as a fish liar—he is only a story teller.

And since it doesn't hurt the fish, and your friends are none the worse for it, what's the difference, anyway? Besides, there being no law against telling such stories, you cannot be charged with having committed an offense worth being taken into account.

One thing that is greatly in favor of the fish liar, or storyist, is that his stories are never malicious, they usually being about himself.

It is said, and generally so held, that there are exceptions to all rules. Indeed, logicians argue that exceptions are necessary to prove rules true and good.

This may not seem quite clear to you, but it is all right. To prove a rule good you have only to violate it. If it is a good rule its violation will bring bad results, thus proving that it is all right.

Some people think it the proper thing to work and to live and to worship by rule.

This may be good for some people, but it seems like a hard thing to have to keep so many rules in mind, and to be in constant dread of breaking them. A better plan is to live right, against which there are no rules nor laws.

If your heart is right you will only have to follow its suggestions, or impulses in order to live right. But you must be sure to satisfy yourself that you are doing the best you know how.

There is a hard and fast rule against stealing or taking things that don't belong to you.

But there is an exception to this—the umbrella exception. No one, save the loser, seems to think it sinful to take, purloin, swipe or steal an umbrella.

This exception proves to you that the rule is a good one every time you lose an umbrella. See!

Stealing kisses is held to be another exception, but this doesn't count, being far less important than stealing umbrellas.

Thus it doth appear that the fish liar and the umbrella swiper have missions that are worth while—demonstrating the logical fact that exceptions prove rules.

Everything has its good uses, but if abused it goes hard with the user.

It's the same old song that the robin sings
And the same old tale that the lover brings;
It's the same old blue in the same old skies
And the same old yell when the baby cries.

—Chicago Record-Herald.

You bet! And it's the same old girl, and the same old love, and the same old story, that makes life worth living.

The new-fangled girl isn't in it with the old-fashioned one whose heart was her prompter, and whose common-sense was her guide.

There wasn't anything that ought to be done that she couldn't do. In fact, she was forever doing things and learning to do more things, and always striving to do them right.

Maybe she couldn't put on as many frills as some of the parent-finished variety. Or if she could she wouldn't, which made her all the better, and assured the fellow who married her of a good wife.

Change is marked on almost everything just now. That man Burbank is changing the style and character of the old flowers and fruits and plants we used to know. And now he threatens to tackle the human species.

Wouldn't it be great and glorious if he should succeed in making some people we know decent and useful? And he may do it, for he is one of those fellows who does things, and he doesn't do them by halves, neither.

So lookout, you no-account people, for Mr. Burbank may catch you if you don't.

Wouldn't you like to sick him onto some folks whom you know, or who persist in knowing you?

Isn't it most cheering to hear Mr. Burbank say that it is much easier to change the style and character of mankind than of anything else in the animal or vegetable kingdoms?

This may cause your friends to look upon you more hopefully and cheerfully.

A crank is generally regarded as an exception to a standard rule, and as such his business, or his mission, is to prove that the rule of common sense is both sane and safe.

But you can't always tell about a crank, for he is liable to surprise you by bagging a lot more money than you, or beating you into the legislature or doing something to eclipse you in the social or business world.

Tom Atkinson was just a crank,
So all the people said.
He had so many strange ideas
A-seething in his head.
They looked on him with pitying smiles
Because he was so queer,
And tapped their foreheads, and declared:
"There's something lacking here."

Well, Thomas nursed his strange ideas,
And studied night and day,
Until by constant, active thought
At last he found the way.
He got his patent, safe and strong,
To make the thing his own,
And then one fine day he announced
"The seeing telephone."

Nobody laughs at Thomas now,
He's richer than a bank,
And none admit they ever thought
That he was just a crank.
But they were strictly accurate
When, seeing him so queer,
They tapped their foreheads, and declared:
"There's something lacking here!"

—Somerville Journal.

Speaking of changes, the doctors and health sharps have reversed themselves concerning people, big and little. Ten of the leading life insurance companies have revised their tables in favor of heavy, active men.

The lean man is nervous, worries and gets tuberculosis. The fat man eats and drinks too much and is a victim of heart disease or apoplexy. So the insurance companies now rate the active bit built man as the "preferred risk."

SOCIETY LOOKS AFTER ITALIAN IMMIGRANTS

Thousands of Arrivals Register and Are Taken Care of in a Short Time.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Any one who has ever watched the bewilderment of immigrants landing in New York will understand the urgent need of the work which the Society for Italian Immigrants at 17 Pearl street reports having accomplished between the first of June and the first of September, this year. During these three months some 10,000 immigrants took advantage of the society's escort service, which is a sort of human post-office department for delivering the bewildered arrivals to their relatives or to the addresses pinned to their coats. This number of persons aided was an increase of 57.25 per cent over the corresponding months of 1904.

Of the total of 70,000 immigrants who arrived during these three months, 5,178 registered at the society's office in Pearl street. Those registering were either guided to addresses brought by them, or to the Italian Benevolent Institute, or to the San Raffaels home. Outside of these, 1,714 were claimed by and delivered at the office to relatives who were prevented from meeting them at Ellis island by the commissioner's new order restraining the power of issuing passes to the steamship lines. Of the total arrivals many also went direct from Ellis island to cities or places in the interior. The society works in close operation with two other Italian charities for the temporary housing of Italian immigrants, and plans are now under consideration to make this co-operation between the three organizations still closer and more effective.

Mayor McClellan Turns at Last.

Two demands for money were made to the board of estimate today in behalf of the new hall of records. In the first the architects say they "consider $10,000, the amount allowed for mosaic work in the vestibule, entirely inadequate, and suggest that if a further appropriation of $50,000 cannot be procured it would be better to eliminate the mosaic work entirely and expend the $10,000 in an enriched plaster and color scheme."

"Make it look like a Turkish bath," suggested the mayor. "The delays we are having with this building are scandalous, and I won't vote any more money until I get a definite report of what is being done."

Monster Protest Against Swear Words.

As a gigantic protest against blasphemous swearing, 15,000 men, who have taken an oath not only to refrain from taking the name of the Lord in vain, but to prevent others from doing so, will march the streets of Jersey City on Sunday. The demonstration was planned by Mgr. John A. Sheppard, vicar general of the Roman Catholic diocese of Newark, who started a crusade against swearing in his diocese less than a year ago and has in ten months organized a Holy Name society in nearly every Catholic church from Jersey City to Morristown and from Bergen county to Elizabeth, and has enlisted in the cause more than 20,000 men as active members of the society.

Says We're Not Entertaining Queen.

Dowager Queen Margherita of Italy did not arrive in New York yesterday on the Deutschland, and is not in this country as the guest of Gen. W. F. Draper, who arrived here yesterday, and is expected at his home in Milford, Mass., today. This is the statement made by Acting Consul C. Gustave Tosti today. "If Queen Margherita had come to this country," said Consul Tosti, "I would certainly know it. Even if she were traveling incog, I would have been apprised of her presence."

Odell Is Not Much Upset.

Republican State Chairman Odell was apparently not moved today to take the bolt of the Citizens union from the ranks of the fusionists as exactly a dire calamity. He was inclined to treat it more as a laughable episode than as a serious blow to the anti-Tammany forces.

"Oh, I don't believe I want to say anything about it yet," he said. Then with a laugh, "I want to get over the shock of it first. I may have something to say in the course of a week, but not today; no, not today."

Masher Is Sent to Island.

Words are expensive sometimes. Andrew J. Smith, a Harlem youth, said "Hello, little sunbeam" last night and it cost him two months on the island. Unfortunately for Andrew he chose to declaim just at a time when Magistrate Wahle, in Harlem police court, has started a war on Harlem mashers. There are so many mashers in One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street every night that women who traverse that thoroughfare fear they will have to walk in the car tracks. Smith's chief trouble was that a policeman heard him when he spoke to a young woman.

Smart Set Is Kept Guessing.

Who will be invited to the dinner for the duchess of Marlborough to be given by Mrs. Clarence Mackay at Harbor Hill, Roslyn, L. I., on September 27? This is the one question being asked in the smart set now. Every one is guessing. It is expected that only about 60 guests will be present, and the dinner is to be one of the greatest social events of the season. the duchess of Marlborough, formerly Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, had Mrs. Mackay as one of her bridesmaids at her wedding nearly ten years ago. She will arrive early in the week and will be a house guest of Mrs. Mackay until the following Monday.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings About the People Who Are Traveling.

The overwhelming popularity of President Roosevelt has dissipated all the prophecies of many old-time Democrats when they met about to take a peep into the future of national politics. John S. McCalmont of Washington, D. C., the venerable commissioner of customs during Cleveland's first administration, who was in Pittsburgh a short time last night, says there is little chance for prophecy on national issues. On all leading questions, he says, the people of the country are a unit. Where the Democrats and the Republicans will split in the next campaign is a matter which no one is open to the widest conjecture.

Mr. McCalmont spent several days at Washington, Pa., and delivered an address there on the lives of the president judges of Tennessee county. He declares that he is out of politics, that he is still a Democrat, but nevertheless a great admirer of Roosevelt.

Railroad Sleuth Takes a Vacation.

When a detective takes a vacation he packs away his rubber shoes, forgets his disguises, puts his badge in hock and wears a cigar-band crawat. He looks the world in the face, knocks before he opens the door and refuses to make deductions even if he has to get a crook on the hook. For a fortnight he is just as modest and unassuming and apparently as unsophisticated as any Butler county farmer who has accepted a gold brick. This is how Fred Corbett, Jr., one of the railroad detectives at the Union station, says he will feel when he goes to Kansas tomorrow to take a few days off among the sunflowers.

Japan's Victories of Peace.

"In the next 10 years Japan will accomplish greater victories than any which her soldiers and sailors have won under Oyama and Togo," said F. Kamal, an engineer in the Japanese government at Tokyo, who passed through Pittsburgh last night to inspect the structural work on western railroads. He was accompanied by J. Sakl, with whom he expects to return to Pittsburgh next week to meet other prominent Japanese engineers who will visit local industrial plants.

"The return of peace," said Mr. Kamal, "will be hailed cheerfully by all classes, notwithstanding that we bear tales of discontent in Tokyo. Never in the history of any country was peace made after a victorious war which was not met with a similar demonstration. The statements and bulletins in Japan want peace. The prowess of the Japanese soldier has been shown by triumphs on every field where the enemy made a stand. Japan's navy won conquests no less renowned. Now that the guns are silenced, Japan wants to show the world that she can win even greater successes in commerce and industry.

"Japan will develop the railroads of Nippon and thereby bring up the whole country to the standard of modern civilization. Japan will extend the railroad systems of Korea, and a few years will witness wonderful progress in the hermit kingdom. Then the march of the progressive warfare of internal development of the orientals will be carried on to China. Japan has been averse to needless bloodshed. She fought for honor and the cause that was right. She won both, but looks for still greater glories in peace."

Speak Up, Henry.

At this genial season of county fairs a remark of the St. Louis Globe Democrat will be appreciated. It says: "Mr. Bryan is still the only Democrat in the country who can draw Democrats away from the greased pig race." What has Col. Watterson to say to this?—New York Tribune.

QUAINT QUIPS.

"Here!" cried the horrified citizen, "why are you dragging that poor fellow along that way? He was just struck by that automobile!"

"Ay course he was," replied the new Park policeman, "but he's on the grass. Shure no man is allowed on the grass."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Hobbs—I'll have to get a new fishing knife.

Nobbs—Why, your old one is good enough to cut bait with.

Hobbs—Yes; but I've broken the corkscrew.—Philadelphia Record.

"I see dat all de angels what gowaghers is wimmen."

"Well, dat's all right as proper. Give a man wings an' he would levy on 'em fo' he could fly ten yards."—Atlanta Constitution.

"They say that faint heart ne'er won fair lady."

"Yes; but the lady I'm after is dark."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Husband—Anything you want downtown today, my dear? Shall I order some more of that self-rising flour?

Wife—We have plenty left; but I wish you would stop at an intelligence office and order me a self-rising servant girl.—New York Weekly.

Bodrick—Plunger is a wise one. He is going to build a road tavern and call it the "Garage."

Van Albert—Where is the wisdom in that?

Bodrick—Why, he is going to cater to the automobile class. When a man tells his wife he had to stop at the garage she won't be suspicious.—Chicago News.

Mistress—Bridget, that cigar Officer Keenan was smoking in the kitchen last night was simply awful.

Bridget—Yes'm—he says he don't see how your husband can smoke them.—Puck.

THE ANTISEPTIC BABE.

We can sterilize his bottles, we can boil his little mug;
We can bake his flannel bandages and disinfect the rug
That envelops him when he partakes of medicated air.
But there's one impossibility that leaves us in despair—
And a not unjustifiable alarm, you will allow—
To wit: we fear 'twould never do to sterilize the cow!

We are careful of his hours, we are thoughtful of his joys;
We are mindful of his sorrows and judicious of his toys;
We are prayerfully considerate of needful discipline,
Of our little "Mother's Handbook" and the precepts writ therein;
And we strive to render sterile all designed for mouth or nose,
But one frightful danger menaces—we cannot boil his clothes.

The Golden Ones at East Bellevue

BELLEVUE CARS

will take you to East Bellevue, over the fine new Thomas Avenue fast-loop. Or you may take over the grand scenic speed-rail route through the Perryville District.

YOU GET CARS

on Ninth Street, or on Liberty Avenue at Wood Street or Sixth Avenue.

If Bellevue car comes first, take it. If West View, take it. Only four minutes' difference between time made on these lines.

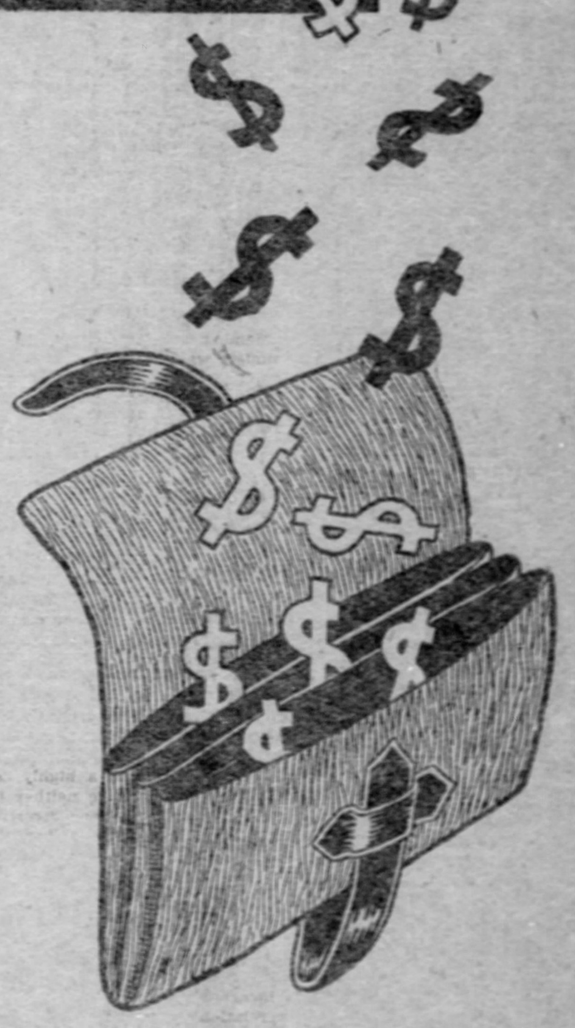
When you see East Bellevue you behold a real estate proposition that appeals to you in many ways.

You know that any money you may invest in this wonderful property will become a great "nest egg," because the money so invested will earn anywhere from twenty-five to fifty per cent the first year. It might earn a hundred per cent! Two hundred per cent would not be improbable!

Property across the line in Bellevue, not so close to the big traction belt-line, has advanced twenty-five and thirty per cent within the last five months.

As East Bellevue's prices are only a fraction of Bellevue's, with equal advantages in the way of street and city improvements, East Bellevue at once becomes an attraction that no homeseeker or investor can easily resist.

Before you reach East Bellevue on the great traction loop up Thomas, Rodgers and Forest avenues you pass frontage which, in the last fourteen years, has increased in value from $4 to $50 a foot, and from $20 to $100 a foot. In fact, that part of Bellevue lying in the direction of East Bellevue holds the record as an attraction for money-lenders, it being a matter of fact that owners of such property have been able to secure on it loans up to within 80 per cent of their selling prices, the lenders having taken for granted that the property would continue to increase in value.



These Are Facts Which Bellevue Citizens Know About, and this statement of them can be verified or substantiated upon inquiry of almost any old resident of the borough.

Therefore, East Bellevue property, with what the remarkable traction belt-line and the fine new suburb's position outside of the smoke zone will do for it, is the only residential real estate that you could buy with positive surety that you would be getting an investment which would not be surpassed.

The great traction belt-line will be formed by connection of the Bellevue Line with the West View Line. Both roads are now completed to the property, but not through it.

So take either a Bellevue or a West View car, but not an Avalon car, as Avalon cars will not make the Thomas avenue loop, but will go straight down the river to Ben Avon, instead of away from the river and beyond the blast-furnace clouds of Neville Island.

The whole of Neville Island, in fact, might be turned into the largest molten-metal producer in the world, and yet East Bellevue would stand up proud and impenetrable, in a marvelous atmosphere gained by a grandly exceptional altitude.

East Bellevue's lots have building restrictions. Most of them are 40x150 feet. Some are larger.

The streets are graded, sewered, electric-lighted, piped with gas, and in thirty days will have the water mains in, with the same sand-filtered water which has made Bellevue so desirable.

Prices for home sites range from $75, $100, $150, $200, $250, $300 to $1,000, on terms of 5 per cent down and 2½ per cent monthly, with 10 per cent off for cash.

With these prices and terms we extend to purchasers who contemplate building the services of one of the best architects in the country, free of all charge, and with the sale of each lot give a Provisional Premium Bond that will earn or give back to such purchasers from 5 to 25 per cent of the amount of their purchases.

EAST BELLEVUE OFFICE OPEN TILL 9 P. M.

COME see property at night, under the electric lights, if you can't get out through the day.

GOVERNOR HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

Executive of North Carolina Was Saved by Prompt Action of Chauffeur.

SEVERAL PEOPLE INJURED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WINCHENDON, MASS., Sept. 16.—An automobile containing members of the party accompanying Gov. R. B. Glenn of North Carolina, plunged over a bridge on the road to Royalston here today and landed at the bottom of a ditch, pinioning the occupants underneath.

THE INJURED:

J. C. M'NEILL, editor of the Charlotte (N. C.) Observer; badly cut about the head.

GUY TOWNSEND of Winchendon, seriously hurt.

SELECTMAN HENRY N. RAYMOND of Winchendon, head cut and bruised.

OWEN HABEN, lawyer, of Winchendon, knee injured and back sprained.

The motor car containing Gov. Glenn was directly behind the automobile which met with the accident, and only the prompt action of his chauffeur averted a collision between the two cars, as the first automobile swerved from its course and crashed into the ditch, capsizing in its passage.

It is believed all the injured will recover. Mr. Townsend was the most seriously hurt, having three broken ribs and a badly bruised head.

Gov. Glenn and the members of his party arrived here today to take part in the old-home week celebration. In the afternoon a visit was made in automobiles to Waterville. The party was returning when the accident occurred. The highway approaching a bridge which spans a ravine, makes a sharp descent. Down this road the car driven by Mr. Townsend was speeding when, just at the end of the bridge a wagon obstructed the passage. To avoid an accident Mr. Townsend applied the full force of the brakes, at the same time steering to the left to escape the wagon.

The motor car careened on its side wheels, struck the railing of the bridge and then, turning upside down, crashed into the ditch. The softness of the undergrowth prevented a fatal termination of the accident, since all the occupants, who were at first pinned down by the machine, were able to crawl from their positions.

Coal Advances at Fairmont.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Owing to the scarcity of coal cars a general advance of 10 cents a ton was made on all grades of Fairmont coal today.

The Death Roll.

William James Coyle.

William James Coyle, aged 58, one of Pittsburgh's most active business men, died at his home in Sprague avenue, Bellevue, yesterday afternoon, from Bright's disease. Mr. Coyle was for 26 years manager of the Pittsburgh branch of the Fleishmann Yeast Company, being the pioneer of the cake yeast business in this section. He was born in Boone county, Kentucky, and came to Pittsburgh in 1879. In that year he established the business in which he met marked success. He was one of the best known residents of Bellevue, having lived in Sprague avenue, that borough, for 23 years. He was a member of the Royal Arcanum and the Travelers' association, having held offices in both these organizations. He is survived by his wife, Eugenia; two daughters, Mrs. Harry Elste and Mrs. Arthur Pritchard, both of Bellevue; two sons, S. B., of Kansas City, and W. C., of Dayton, O., and one sister, Mrs. John Weindell of Kentucky.

Mrs. Christina Pafenbach.

Mrs. Christina Pafenbach, aged 78, widow of Valentine Pafenbach, died yesterday morning at her home in Zelienople from old age. She was for many years a resident of Pittsburgh, living on Locust street. In 1885 the couple moved to Zelienople for the benefit of their health. Mrs. Pafenbach was born in Germany and came to Pittsburgh in 1848. Among the children living are Andrew and George, who are in the horseshoeing business, and Albert of the firm of Wetzel & Pafenbach, jewelers, 1214 Fifth avenue. Mrs. Pafenbach was for many years a member of the First German Lutheran church, Smithfield street, and later a member of the German Reformed church at Zelienople.

Thomas Murtagh.

Thomas Murtagh, a well-known resident of North Braddock, died yesterday in Philadelphia from heart trouble. He had been visiting relatives there for a week. He was born in Ireland 30 years ago, and had lived in Braddock 10 years. He was employed at the Edgar Thomson steel works, and was a member of St. Thomas' Roman Catholic church. He leaves a widow and four children.

Miss Belle Dickson.

Miss Belle Dickson, daughter of the late Thomas and Mary Dickson, died Thursday at her home, 1700 Maxwelton avenue, Swissvale. Miss Dickson was born in Pittsburgh, but had made her home in Swissvale for some years. She was a member of the Presbyterian church, and leaves two brothers, David L. and R. E. Dickson, both of Swissvale.

Charles Ramacotti.

Charles Ramacotti, aged 45, died suddenly yesterday at his residence, 198 East Parkway, Allegheny, after an illness of three days. Death was due to heart disease. He was born in Italy and came to this country when a small boy. For 33 years he had been in the fruit business in the Allegheny market. He is survived by his widow.

Jacob Bauman.

Jacob Bauman, aged 74, died yesterday at the residence of his son-in-law, Frederick Asche, 1233 Pennsylvania avenue, Allegheny, after a brief illness. Deceased was a native of Reserve township and until 10 years ago was a farmer there. Since returning he had lived with Mr. Asche. He is survived by his four children.

Obituary Notes.

Robert Kirkland, aged 29, died at McKeesport hospital at 11 o'clock last night from appendicitis. He was born in Boston, near McKeesport, and was employed as a drug clerk there. He is survived by his father and mother.

Mrs. Sarah L. Russell, born in Pittsburgh, is dead at Mt. Vernon, O., aged 71 years. She was a cousin of Wilson and Reuben Miller and the late Henry Miller of Pittsburgh. The deceased is survived by one son, Dr. John E. Russell of Massillon.

ANOTHER STORY ABOUT YOUNGSTOWN MURDER

Bloomsburg Citizen Who Witnessed Hanging of Charles Sterling Tells of Prophecy.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—The recent suicide of Charles Herzig, near Minot, N. D., and the letter in his pocket admitting that he was the murderer of Elizabeth Grumbacher, for which crime Charles Sterling was executed at Youngstown, O., 30 years ago, has recalled to Archer Averill of Bloomsburg, who saw the hanging, a most dramatic incident. He says that Sterling, who all along maintained that he was innocent, was convicted upon purely circumstantial evidence.

Finally on the scaffold, when all hope was gone, he called the girl's brother to his side and pointing his finger at him, declared in thrilling accents: "I never saw your sister. I am innocent of her murder and I die an innocent man, but the guilty man will be found, even if the sun has to reveal him."

P. & L. E. WILL BUILD A NEW TRACK AT BEAVER

Railroad Will Make a Number of Improvements and a Force of Men is Now at Work.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BEAVER, PA., Sept. 15.—The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company has put a large force of men at work here filling in along their right of way to make room for a third and possibly fourth track. About 400 laborers are engaged in building a wider roadbed between Coraopolis and College, between which points the company has but two tracks.

Above College they have three as far as Rock Point tower, while at the other end they have four into Pittsburgh. It is not known how soon they will begin laying new tracks. It is rumored that the bridge over the Ohio river at Beaver is to be moved so as to straighten out a curve here.

A deal has been partially closed with Stephen P. Stone for his residence property at the end of the bridge over which the company will have to lay their tracks in order to do away with this curve.

THOSE WEDDING BELLS WILL RING AFTER ALL

ALLENTOWN, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—John Ryan, who deserted his bride-to-be, Miss Kate Brett of Catasauqua, on their intended wedding day, has returned and announced that he will marry the young woman in St. Lawrence's church, Catasauqua, tomorrow morning. The ceremony would have been performed today, but heartbroken Miss Brett was too ill to undergo the ordeal. The mother of Ryan, who is blamed for much of the trouble, has also returned and promises to be a guest at the wedding. The prospective bride has procured another wedding dress and has forgiven her recreant lover.

RAILROAD SUFFERS A SEVERE FIRE LOSS

LEBANON, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Six passenger coaches, seven freight cars, the blacksmith shop, carpenter shop, stables, car barn and other buildings belonging to the Cornwall Railroad Company, at West Lebanon, were totally destroyed by fire today. The origin of the fire is unknown. Everything was destroyed with the exception of the roundhouse. The Cornwall railroad runs between Lebanon and Lancaster, connecting with the Philadelphia & Reading railroad. The company owned nine passenger coaches, and only three remain. The loss is $60,000, covered by insurance.

Citizens Ticket Is Named.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—The committee appointed at the meeting of the Citizens party two weeks ago to name a ticket for the November election today made known its choice. PICKERING

THE LARGEST FURNITURE STORE IN THE WORLD

Wants every farmer or gardener in any state that owns a pumpkin and thinks it the largest to cut his name and address on it, then take it to the express office and ship it to Pickering. All will be placed on exhibition Hallowe'en week. They will all be weighed by a committee the hour they arrive and from that weight the prizes will be awarded:

1st Prize $100.00 Merchandise.
2d Prize $ 50.00 Merchandise.
3d Prize $ 25.00 Merchandise.
4th Prize $ 20.00 Merchandise.
5th Prize $ 10.00 Merchandise.

15 other prizes ranging from $2 to $5 each.

Ship your pumpkins any time between October 25 and 30. No pumpkins received after Monday, October 30, 9 a. m., and none before October 25.

Exhibition takes place at OLD CITY HALL.

Three days, commencing Monday, October 30, 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Admission free, seats free, music free, everything free.

City contest for pumpkins grown on roof, which includes everything from Braddock, Dravosburg, Castle Shannon, Lincoln Park, Carnegie, McKees Rocks, Ben Avon, West View, Spring Garden Run, Aspinwall, Etna, Millvale, Allegheny in to Pittsburgh.

Any person that has planted seed in any shape on any kind of a roof is entitled to enter this contest. But you must notify us 10 days before the contest by postal card where pumpkin is growing so we can send a committee to see it. Positively no pumpkin will be admitted to roof contest unless you notify us, so we can see it. This does not restrict you from entering the farmer and gardener contest. You don't have to notify us about field-grown pumpkins. Just send in your pumpkin with your name and address cut on it any time between October 25 and 30.

You can enter pumpkins in both contests, but you must have two or more pumpkins. The field-grown pumpkins can be entered from any place in the United States, and you can enter as many as you wish.

The roof-grown pumpkin must be within the above limits, which we constitute Greater Pittsburgh, and you must notify us by postal card before October 20 that you wish to enter roof contest.

EDUCATIONAL.

A BOY THAT FAILED

to make progress at a noted New England academy entered the Groff School recently with several having had similar experiences at other large schools. They were all put into Yale and other large colleges the following September without a condition, one year ahead of their former classmates, and their present standing at college is very high. Mr. Groff's experience with these boys is typical of the success he has had for 10 years.

THE GROFF SCHOOL,
223 West 72d St., New York,

now occupying the most handsome school quarters in New York, is ideal and exceptional as a boarding and day school.

No young and inexperienced teachers to experiment with students.

Absolutely individual attention, the number being strictly limited. No very young boys admitted in main school. Handsome study parlors, billiard room, electric elevator and full and free use of skating rink, bowling alleys, fencing hall, gymnasium, swimming pool, athletic field, etc.

Proper and judicious supervision of the daily life of all students of the school, but all foolish school discipline, military drill and consequent loss of time eliminated. Reopens September 23th.

Principal, JOSEPH C. GROFF,
(A. B. & U. S. N. A., 1893.)

You'll find an unusually generous showing of newest Fall Fashions—all arranged for critical inspection—plenty of salespeople to insure prompt attention.

We want your business—and have the goods, the right kind—and the right kind of prices to make it well repay you to come.
Everything that men, women and children wear even to eye glasses—and articles for the home.

As a direct proof we submit the showing of Women's Fall Suits at $25.00.

Charming new styles—Long Coat, Jacket and Blouse effects—Cheviots and Broadcloths in Black and colors including all the new Reds, Plum, Dahlia, etc.—and refreshing novelty mixtures.

Coats, Jackets, Evening Wraps, Shirtwaists, Separate Skirts, Muslinwear, House Garments, Neckwear, Underwear, Hosiery, Furs, Gloves, Millinery and Dress Goods and Silks at money-saving prices.

The greatest line of Rugs, Carpets and Lace Curtains ever shown in this store, and it's already famed as a great Rug and Curtain Store.

why men's better clothing

Well, it's like this:—

You know the saying, "Trifles make perfection, but perfection is no trifle."

We devote attention to the trifling things—the details so often slurred—watch every point and every item—and see that it's good—that's the way we get better clothing.

The "run of the market"—Clothing that most stores get—is very different Clothing from this.

Our better Clothing is in a great degree our own production, as we dictate most of the details.

Pure wool fabrics—no short weight or manipulated cloths—all tested with caustic potash.

We insist upon the best qualities Hair Cloth, Canvas and Linings—most of our linings are imported.

Stitching done with silk thread.

Buttonholes hand made.

No feature in the formation of the garments from start to finish escapes our critical inspection.

We say we sell Better Clothing, and we see that it is better.

Men's Sack Suits, single and double breasted, $10.00 to $35.00.

A very smart Suit—cut English sack style, 32 inches long, with wide peaked lapels, deep center vent, no collar vest, and peg pants, fancy Mix Cheviots, $18.50.

Men's Overcoats this fall are three-quarter length, cut longer with deep center vents, fitted in at back, wide collar and lapels.

This coat is very dressy—can be worn at any time for any occasion, $15.00 to $45.00.

A smart Overcoat is the Padock or Paletot—single or double-breasted in new Green and Grey Mixtures and Grey—cut long, full chested, broad shoulders, self or velvet collar, bell skirt, $20 to $45.

Tailor-made Rain Coats—always handy for day or evening wear—rain or shine—good one in Black or Dark Mix, cut long and full, $20.00.

Others, $10.00 to $30.00.

men's approved furnishings

This is virtually the first Saturday of the fall season—and thousands of men will buy fall furnishings—it seems men generally devote Saturday to that.

New Shirts, new Neckwear, new Collars, new Shoes, new Hosiery, new Hats, new Underwear, new Topcoats, new Clothing, etc.

We want these men to consider this store.

There's a reason.

We don't claim you can't get nice things elsewhere, but do claim you pay more money if you do.

If a saving is of interest come in—if variety is of interest, come in—if quality and style is of interest, come in.

The fall styles of Neckwear are the richest and most exquisite prepared for any season in years—dignified and splendid.

Four-in-hands, Bow Ties, Ascots, etc., 25c to $1.50—special variety and values at 50c and $1.00.

Men's Shirts—pretty new patterns—all styles—stiff bosom, pleated bosom and soft bosom—Oxford, Linen, Madras, Silk, Mercerized—cuffs attached and detached—figures, stripes and plain effects—in a thousand different ways, 50c to $3.50.

Our $1.00 and $1.50 Shirts outclass anything offered at the price.

New styles wing and high turnover Collars—some "quite English, doncher know."

New styles Hosiery—charming colorings—and immense variety, 15c to $1.50 a pair.

Now, men, can't we impress on your minds we're not using this space because it's customary for stores to advertise, but we're using it because we think we have something to tell you that's worth while—and that is—"we can please you better."

men's new hats

TO PLACE NAMES APPROPRIATELY

Musicians, Artists and Scientists of Fame to Encircle the Enlarged Institute.

EXCLUDE CARNEGIE EPITAPH

After weeks of careful deliberation on the part of the trustees of Carnegie institute the names which are to grace the friezes of the enlarged institute have been selected and will be appropriately placed on the departments of the building.

Around the entrance to the music hall, which will be at the park entrance corner of the building, will be grouped the names of famous musicians and composers. Beginning on the new wing, where it will join the old building on the park entrance side of the building, will be immortalized the following names in the rotation as given: Schumann, Gluck, Schubert, Mendelssohn, Haydn, Purcell, Palestrina, Chopin, Rubinstein, Tschaikowsky, Verdi, Meyerbeer, Brahms, Berlioz and Donizetti.

On the corner of the frieze facing Forbes street will be inscribed the name of Gounod, and beside it will appear the names of Dvorak and Liszt. Over the elaborate entrance to the music hall will appear the names of five men, immortal composers: Wagner, Handel, Beethoven, Mozart and Bach.

On the left side of the entrance, which will set out from the main building, will appear the names of Weber, Bizet, Glinka, Thomas and Elgar. This roster will lead to the main building and upon this, and fronting Forbes street, will appear the names of Saint-Saens and Strauss.

At this point the middle of the whole frontage will be reached and the link of names of famous men will then cease for a time to permit of the following inscription across the center of the frontage:

This Building Dedicated to the Advancement of Literature, Science and Art, is the Gift of Andrew Carnegie to the People of Pittsburgh.

A suggestion has been made that "That is Damned White of Andy" be added, but no official action has been taken on this point.

On the Mawhlinney street side of the building is to be the entrance to the science and art departments, which will conform with the music hall entrance. It was deemed appropriate to inscribe the names of artists and scientists of fame across this portion of the building. Following the center inscription will come the following names in this order—Rembrandt, Velasquez, Praxiteles, Donatello, Wren, Scopas and Veronese. Immediately over the doors of the science and art entrance will appear the names of Ictinus, Franklin, Bramante, Pheidias and Darwin.

Beginning at the corner on the Mawhinney street side of the building the list of inscription will lead with the name of the American bird lover, Audubon, followed in succession by Owen, Ampere, Morse, Henry, Faraday, Priestley, Gray, Hooker, Decandolle, Lyell, Dana, Dagverre, Pliny, Gutenberg, Cuvier, Lamarck, Linnaeus, Humboldt, Bacon, Say, Leidy, Harvey, Columbus, Livingston, Magellan, Pythagoras and Aristotle.

In making the new and important extension to the institutional buildings it became necessary to efface some of the names which had appeared on the old building, but in almost every instance these names will be replaced and appear in the lists given above.

Alden and Harlow, the architects for the building, are now preparing the plans for the proper distribution and placing of these names, after which the work of inscription on the stones will be begun.

WOMAN IN SAD PLIGHT.

Allegheny Police Take Charge of Young Wife and Baby.

The Allegheny police last evening took charge of Mrs. Anna Munlay, aged 19, who wandered about the streets of the city all day yesterday seeking some one who would give her infant child a home. The woman was placed in the matron's department, and her case will be investigated today by the charities department.

Mrs. Munlay says that 10 months ago she was married to Charles Munlay at Braddock, and both she and her husband worked until they had saved $1,000. Two months ago, she says, he took all the money and returned to Germany, and two weeks ago the child was born. Since then neighbors aided her, but she had no money to pay the rent of the house in Fourth street, Braddock, and had to get out. She was almost exhausted when picked up last night by Acting Superintendent John Glenn.

SCHOOLS IN SAD PLIGHT.

Hays Borough Buildings Overcrowded and the Debt Cannot Be Increased.

The citizens of Hays borough have been called to a mass meeting on September 22 by President William Swisher of the school board, to consider the financial condition of the schools of the borough.

The schools are overcrowded and extensions have been blocked by the judgments obtained by Mifflin township for properties taken when the borough was formed. It is stated that the borough has been unable to borrow money owing to these judgments.

ELEVATOR MAN FINDS BABY BEHIND THE DOOR

A white male child about two months old was left behind a door in the corridor of the German National bank building, Sixth avenue and Wood street, about 7 o'clock last night. Harry Diehl, the elevator operator, saw a woman walking in front of the place with an infant. He took the elevator to the upper floors and when he came down noticed the infant behind the door. The child was taken to the Rosalia foundling home. The woman was of medium height and wore a black skirt and a white waist.

BINDS AUDITOR OF STATE OVER TO THE GRAND JURY

David B. Sherrick Arrested on Charge of Embezzlement and Later Released Under a Large Bond Given by Friends.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 15.—David E. Sherrick, ex-auditor of state, was registered at the police station this morning, charged with embezzlement of the state's fund. He waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury under bond of $15,000.

At the police station were Cyrus J. Clark, auditor of Marion county; Lewis Shank, county recorder; John Owen, recently appointed as the postmaster at Noblesville; John E. Reed, settlement clerk in the auditor's office; John B. Cockrum and other friends of Sherrick.

Sherrick was arrested on an affidavit filed by City Detective Lowe. The prisoner looked haggard. He refused to talk concerning the case, referring all inquirers to his attorney, Addison G. Harris, who was with him at the station.

Sherrick's bond was signed by 14 individuals and one trust company, as follows: John B. Cockrum, Floyd Woods, Tripp, E. J. Robinson, Lew Shank, Hatch, L. G. Akin, Elbert F. W. N. Harding, W. W. John W. Bowlus, H. D. iller, Charles A. Leathers, Charles her and the Marion Trust Company. errick was immediately released and left the court room with several friends. Investigation of the securities which were placed in the hands of the governor tends to show that they are of sufficient value to protect the state, if taken with the $100,000 bond of the American Surety Company.

The face value of these deposits, stocks, bonds, etc., given to protect the state for the $145,127 due, it is $172,708, of which about $83,600 represents investments in various mining enterprises of a more or less speculative character. It is thought that the remainder, amounting all told to about $90,000, will be realized on fully. Of this amount, $19,825.01 is on deposit at the Farmers and Merchants bank at Sicero, Ind.

Then the notes given by the J. H. Murray company by W. S. Wickard, amounting to about $51,000, will be paid in full, according to Mr. Wickard. Also notes aggregating $18,500, signed or indorsed by Eben H. Wolcott, former state senator from Wolcott, Ind., are thought to be good for face value, making a total of about $80,000 that probably will be turned into cash.

In addition it is thought probable that some of these mining stocks have now an actual commercial value, which can be received on the market, so that all told the sum total amount realized will probably be $100,000. This then will leave about $45,000 to be paid by the American Surety Company, the bond of which amounts to $100,000. The state's interests are therefore thought to be fully protected.

Warren Bigler, the new auditor, appointed by Gov. Haly, took the oath of office this afternoon. His bond of $100,000 was signed by James P. Goodrich, Union B. Hunt, J. B. Keiling and four men from Wabash. Mr. Bigler said that for the time, at least, there will be no changes in the personnel of the working force. He said that expert accountants would be employed immediately and that the books of every department of the office would be examined.

EXCITEMENT IN EAST END CAUSED BY CABLE CUTTING

Angry Man Calls Upon the Minions of the Law to Arrest a Lineman—Mysterious Shafts Are Being Tunneled.

Hatless and coatless, with great beads of perspiration on his brow and anger on his countenance, a man rushed into the office of Alderman E. C. Negley Wednesday afternoon and loudly demanded that the alderman send a constable to arrest a man.

"Arrest who?" demanded Alderman Negley.

"Why, that man there," said he of the frown and sweat, pointing to the street.

Alderman Negley, Chief Clerk Morton and Constables Killen and Dulaine rushed to the door expecting to see a riot in progress, but were greeted by the sight of an empty street. The coatless individual followed and excitedly pointed to a lineman on the top of a pole near the alderman's office.

"Arrest that man; he's cutting our electric cables," he shouted.

The alderman declined to interfere until some legal action had been taken, so he of the frown rushed to Penn avenue, returning in a few minutes with Policeman Stover who, when explanations had been made, also refused to interfere with the operations of the lineman, who by this time had severed two large electric cables which led from the Midland hotel to the tailoring establishment of Louis Kable on Collins avenue.

Then the shirt-sleeve man rushed off, possibly to secure aid from other sources and he had scarcely left when two men rushed up to the alderman with the news that some men had taken charge of a small building in the rear of the store of Hastings & Voigt of Penn avenue and were tunneling shafts under the street. They demanded an investigation. A constable went over and found that the building in question contained several dynamos and other electrical equipment and several openings in the earth had been made, but for what purpose he could not determine.

By this time a number of business men of the vicinity had assembled and were discussing the situation. The man in his shirt sleeves failed to put in an appearance, so the crowd gradually dispersed.

The electric cables, whose cutting had started the affair, by this time had been fastened securely to a pole, and the lineman descended and gave his version of the affair, which was that he had been ordered to cut the cables which crossed the wires of the Allegheny County Light Company's lines, to prevent their possibly fouling them. He had no knowledge of who the excited one was other than that he had strenuously objected to the wires being cut, saying that they were a part of his electric circuit.

The cables were formerly the property of the Midland hotel and transmitted power and light to three or four business houses in the vicinity, but they have not been in use for some time. The building in which the tunnelling was reported to have been going on has been leased, it is said, by a man named Wettengal, but for what purpose could not be learned.

SAMUEL LARRY DIES SUDDENLY

Allegheny Druggist, Noted for Wonderful Memory, Passes Away While Sleeping.

APPARENTLY IN GOOD HEALTH

Samuel Larry, perhaps the most widely-known man in the Second Ward, Allegheny, died suddenly yesterday evening at 6:30, at his residence, 218 Jackson street. He had left his drug store, at Arch and Jackson streets, less than an hour before, apparently in excellent health. After eating dinner he lay on a couch, as was his custom each evening before returning to the store. It was noticed by his children that he was staying longer than usual, and when they went to arouse him, they found him dead. Dr. J. C. Allen was called and said death was due to apoplexy.

"Sam" Larry, as he was familiarly called, was known to every man, woman and child in the vicinity in which he lived and had his business. He enjoyed good health and was at the store all day yesterday. Hundreds of friends who had stopped to speak to him during the day were shocked to hear of his sudden death. Mrs. Larry is visiting relatives in Brookville, and a message was sent to her.

Mr. Larry came to Allegheny 20 years ago from Clarion, where he was in business for several years. For some time he conducted a store in Brookville. After coming to Allegheny he ran a store in the First ward for several years, and in 1889 opened the drug store at 1500 Arch street.

To the thousands of people who knew him Mr. Larry was famous for his wonderful memory. It was said of him that his mind was a compendium of the historical facts of the world's history. He was a great reader and seemed to retain in his memory everything he ever read or heard. Frequently his telephone bell would ring a score of times in a day and he would be called upon by inquiring ones to name at once the exact date of some event. It is not on record that he was ever stumped, nor did he ever make a mistake. This talent became known to his friends years ago, and whenever there was doubt, "Sam" Larry was always remembered and consulted.

He was born in Brookville May 5, 1854, and on August 12, 1881, he was married to Miss Isabel Caldwell of Brookville. He was a member of the Western Pennsylvania Retail Druggists' association. Surviving him are his widow and three children, Isabel, Lillian and James. Two sisters, Mrs. Rebecca Shannon of Brookville and Mrs. John Geary of Harrisburg, also survive, as does his mother, Mrs. Rachael Larry of Brookville.

Officers Interrupt Rough House.

Special Officers John Morgan and Peter Angelo arrested Mary McDonough, Bridget Sullivan and Bridget McDonough of 618 Grant street, and Annie Daugherty and Kate McDermott of 616 Grant street last night on a charge of disorderly conduct. All the women are alleged to have been under the influence of liquor, and were accusing one another of stealing money. A rough house was in progress when the officers got there.

Passing Cheap Austrian Money.

Merchants and bankers of Homestead are complaining of deception being practiced by foreigners in passing Austrian heilers, a copper coin, as pennies. Several hundred have been refused at the banks. The coins are about the same size as the cent, but have only one-fifth of the value.

SEVEN KILLED IN A FACTORY FIRE

Men and Women Burn to Death Before Eyes of Powerless Villagers.

NOTHING TO FIGHT FLAMES

AVON, CONN., Sept. 15.—The explosion of a fuse, followed by a fire in a building of the Climax Fuse Company here this afternoon caused a panic among 20 employes in the building, resulted in the death of seven and injuries that doubtless will prove fatal to several others.

There was no way of coping with the flames which soon spread rapidly, and in less than an hour after the explosion occurred those who were unable to escape were in the clutches of a fire that eventually burned their bodies to ashes. As the day wore on the great crowd that collected in the hamlet saw the bodies of men and women roasting in the fire and were powerless to even check the flames.

THE DEAD:

WILLIAM BURKE, 40 years old, married.
JAMES JOYCE, about 35, married.
ROBERT M'CARTHY, aged 18.
JAMES WALLACE, married.
MOLLY M'CARTHY.
MISS J. SULLIVAN.
MRS. M. B. TUCKER.

The injured are: Charles Dimmock, Michael Canfield, Micheal McCarthy, Lyman Hull, Mrs. William Burke, Earl Tuller —— Le Deyt, Nellie Canfield, Mrs. Fish, Nora Ryan and Arthur Tuller.

Mrs. Burke is the wife of William Burke, who was numbered among the dead.

Those who were in the room where the explosion occurred say it was not severe and ordinarily would not have caused a panic. Inflammable material, however, was set on fire and in a few moments the room was a mass of flames. In an instant there was a mad rush for the doors and windows, and during the scramble many were pushed back into the building. Tonight an accounting was made for all the employes but seven whose names are given above.

The scene at the fire was heartrending. Friends and relatives of the missing were almost frantic when it became known that bodies of those close to them were being burned to a crisp in the ruins of the factory. As there is no fire department in the town it was utterly useless to cope with the flames with buckets.

As one of the walls of the second largest building fell several bodies could be seen entagled in the mass of machinery in the basement and in a short time they were reduced to ashes. Early in the evening the body of a woman was seen near the edge of the fire and effort was made to pull it away from the flames, but on account of the great heat this was impossible.

Soon after the building in which the lives were lost was consumed, the fire spread to the new structure which was just completed at a cost of $35,000, and in a few hours this building was gutted, only the four walls remaining. Two smaller buildings were reduced to ashes, making a total of four burned, the loss on which is estimated to be $100,000.

BURGESS OF SWISSVALE AGREES TO IMPROVEMENTS

Burgess J. Madison Lynn of Swissvale yesterday signed an ordinance which calls for improvements to cost $182,000. It provides for two undergrade crossings and two bridges over the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. The burgess had previously refused to sign the ordinance. Edgewood borough is likely to take up the matter also and secure similar improvements.

Convict Banker of Embezzlement.

MEADVILLE, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—D. W. Tyron, one of the best-known business men of Crawford county, was today found guilty of embezzlement. He was president of the Spartansburg National bank. The prosecutor was a depositor. The bank failed last spring. Tyron was charged with receiving money at the bank knowing it was insolvent.

Rabid Dog Causes Excitement.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—A supposed rabid dog caused excitement in Hempfield township yesterday. At Centerville the dog bit Lemuel Fox, John Burley and a small daughter of Thomas Edge. At Arona the town constable shot it. The persons bitten were first treated by home doctors and then sent to Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh.

PROMISE JUSTICE FOR AMERICANS

Nicaragua Gives Assurance of Speedy Trial for the Albers Brothers.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 16, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 15.

Following a conference at the state department between Acting Secretary Loomis and Senor Corea, the Nicaraguan minister, today, it was stated that it might not be found necessary to send either Minister Merry, now in Costa Rica, or Consul General Lee from Panama to Ocotal, where William C. Albers, manager of the Limon Mining Company, and his brother are imprisoned. An American lawyer, Mr. Brubaker, representing the Limon Mining Company, is proceeding to Nicaragua now, having sailed several days ago from Mobile.

The state department, having received assurances from Nicaragua, that Albers has been imprisoned only in accordance with the law, that he will have a speedy and just trial and that unusual precautions have been taken to insure the safety of his property and members of his family, are disposed to await further advices before sending Dr. Lee to Nicaragua. A more pacific tone now marks the attitude of the state department toward this incident, and an effort is made to quiet apprehension on the part of Americans who have friends or business interests in that country.

President Zelaya sent to Ocotal a personal order that the authorities should be scrupulous in observance of all the rights of Mr. Albers. Mr. Brubaker is expected to make a full report on the case as soon as he arrives at Managua, the capital of Nicaragua.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Chicago friends of the four Americans imprisoned in Nicaragua, are in constant communication with the government authorities at Washington and are doing everything possible for the relief of the parties. All four of the incarcerated Americans are Chicagoans. They are: William C. Albers, president of the Limon company; Mrs. Albers, who was formerly Sadie Chussman, a vaudeville actress; Henry Albers, brother of William, and Conrad Johansen, a mechanic. Assistant Secretary of State Loomis has informed the Chicago friends of the Albers brothers that the matter will be investigated fully.

The Limon company is a Chicago concern. The preferred stock, $1,000,000, is held by J. C. Brown and 50 other stockholders. The last heard from William Albers was on August 28, when Mr. Brown received a telegram saying: "Come to Corinto quick."

FIRST HEARING OF VENEZUELAN SUIT

Evidence Shows the New York and Bermudez Company Assisted Revolutionists.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The first hearing of testimony in this country in the suit of the government of Venezuela against the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Company for $11,000,000, was held today before United States Commissioner Alexander. The action is for alleged participation of the asphalt combine in the revolution of Gen. Manuel A. Matos against the legal government, three years ago.

From evidence adduced today it was shown that assistance was given the revolutionists by orders from the late Maj. Malcolm A. Rafferty, who was general manager in the West Indies for the asphalt combine. This testimony was given by Edward D. Jeffs, who at the time was superintendent of the New York and Bermudez Company at Guanoco.

Mr. Jeffs testified he had repaired arms for the revolutionists in the shops of the asphalt company at Guanoco, that he had sent special trains from Guanoco to transport revolutionary troops, and in other ways he had aided the revolutionists.

Frederick R. Bartlett, a witness for the defendant, testified he was in the employ of the New York and Bermudez Company in Venezuela at the time of the insurrection and is still in its employ. He testified Maj. Rafferty had instructed him not to interfere in Venezuelan politics.

LIMIT SOCIAL CALLS.

Bishop Advises A. M. E. Zion Preachers Not to Tarry in Homes of Female Communicants.

"Do not pay too many social calls on female members of the congregation. No progress can be made in a congregation where the preacher gives gossips a chance to connect his name with untoward social incidents. Preachers themselves should not gossip too much."

This was some of the advice offered the clergymen of the Allegheny and Ohio conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion church by Bishop J. S. Caldwell in his address before the joint conference in Zion church, Avery street, Allegheny, yesterday morning. The bishop also discussed the qualifications necessary to a successful clergyman.

During the afternoon addresses were made by Bishop G. W. Clinton of Trenton, N. J., and the Rev. G. W. Lewis, presiding elder of the Ohio district. In the evening Mrs. J. B. Small, wife of Bishop Small, made an appeal for aid to missions. The Rev. Dr. Blackwell, secretary of the Home and Foreign Mission board, gave some figures regarding the work in the mission fields, and also appealed for aid. Substantial offerings were made.

Large Order for Steel Cars.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—President Baer of the Reading and Jersey Central railroads, announced today that he had placed an order for 1,700 freight cars for the Reading road with the Standard Steel Car Company at Butler, Pa. One thousand of the cars will be steel hopper coal cars, and the remaining 700 steel flat cars. They will have a capacity of 100,000 pounds each.

Dr. J. Leonard Levy Returns Tuesday.

An erroneous report was circulated yesterday to the effect that the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy had mysteriously disappeared in Vancouver, Canada, upon his arrival from Japan on Thursday. Several messages were received here from Dr. Levy since his arrival, stating that he was in the best of health and would arrive in Pittsburgh on Tuesday next.

Babcock Will Not Accept.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 15.—Congressman J. W. Babcock, who, as chairman of the Republican congressional committee, has managed many important congressional campaigns, announced today that he did not expect to be re-elected a member of the committee and that he would not accept the position of chairman if elected.

Finishing Mills Fall Behind.

The hammer department of the Howard Axle works at West Homestead of the Carnegie Steel Company, which has been operating half turn, will be closed all next week, affecting 300 men. The reason is that the finishing mills are badly congested and must catch up before the other departments can proceed.

Young Boy Electrocuted.

OIL KING'S PROTEGE TO CONVERT THE RICH

Dr. E. A. Hanley, the young pastor who is a protege of John D. Rockefeller and who will pitch an immense tent in the heart of the fashionable East End of Cleveland and seek to evangelize the wealthy, who Dr. Hanley declares, "have forgotten God."

ADDITIONAL SPORTING

CLAIMS IT A "RINGER."

Big Purse Is Tied Up to Wait an Investigation.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 15.—A turf sensation developed at the state fair grounds today when it was announced that the Citizens' Business League purse of $5,000, given for the 2:21 trot yesterday, would not be distributed until the identity of the winner, Advancer, was established beyond doubt.

The money was tied up in response to directions from Secretary Knight of the Western Trotting Association, who said that representations had been made to him that Advancer was a "ringer." The horse was entered by I. N. Chase, representing the First Park fair of Irasdon, Vermont, and was driven by Carpenter. Those claim the horse was a "ringer" declared he was campaigned three or four years ago as Major Chew and that he has a record of 2:14¾.

Geneva Candidates Working.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—The prospects for a winning football team at Geneva college this fall are excellent. Under Coach Paul N. Critchlow, captain of the 1903 varsity, a squad of 30 men have been practicing for the last week. Among the old players who have returned are Owen Thompson, captain and quarter back; Shuman, the 185-pound tackle; F. Allen, tackle; McElhaney, end; May, sub quarter; Copeland, guard; McClurkin, sub-half; George, end. The schedule includes games with State, Washington and Jefferson, Western University of Pennsylvania, University of West Virginia, Allegheny, Westminster and Grove City.

Reeder Heaves Ball Over Fence.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Reeder, Cumberland's pitcher, was put out of the game and fined $25 in the sixth inning at Piedmont for throwing the ball over the fence to show his disgust at Umpire Nethken letting in two runs. Score:

"ISN'T IT GLORIOUS? HE'S GRAND!" PRESIDENT RETURNS NASTY BEER

"Isn't that grand? Isn't it glorious? It's just like the president, he is such a dear man! It's just lovely! I knew he had the courage and manliness to return that beer!"

The above and other outbursts of enthusiasm swayed local members of the Woman's Christian Temperance union yesterday when Mrs. H. H. Forest, the ex-president of the county organization, received the glad tidings that the 66 bottles of beer sent President Roosevelt by a Grand Rapids brewery had not been accepted and used by him. The matter had come before the recent convention of the county union. An effort was made to condemn the president for accepting the gift, when Mrs. Forest delayed such action by suggesting an investigation.

"He is certainly a dear man," explained Mrs. Forest. "I thought there was some mistake. If we had censured him, how sorry we would have felt today. Of course we did not hear from him personally, but we received an explanation from Oyster Bay that was satisfactory. The matter will be brought to the attention of the state convention in Washington, Pa., next month."

OLD CHURCH WILL REOPEN IN BRAND NEW ATTIRE

Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal Edifice Has Been Beautified. Synagogue to Be Dedicated.

After being completely renovated and refurnished, the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church will be reopened tomorrow with special services. In the morning the pastor, the Rev. Dr. W. H. H. Rees, will deliver an appropriate sermon and in the evening a sacred concert will be given.

The Gemilus Chesad Hebrew congregation will dedicate its new synagogue in Third avenue, McKeesport, tomorrow with special services morning, afternoon and evening. Visiting rabbis and prominent men of the Jewish faith from the surrounding territory will be in attendance and deliver addresses. The new structure has been erected at a cost of $100,000. The Rev. E. Fried is rabbi.

The Rev. A. S. Fletcher, who was called from New Brighton to the pulpit of the Knoxville Methodist Protestant church, will deliver his initial sermon before that congregation tomorrow morning.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel L. Boston of Steubenville will preach his final trial sermon before the congregation of the Park Avenue Presbyterian church tomorrow night. It is believed that he will be extended the call.

A special service for the Pittsburgh Lodge of Elks will be held in the Second Presbyterian church, Eighth street, tomorrow night. The lodge will march to the church in a body, where the pastor, the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young, will deliver a special sermon. Dr. Young will conduct a religious meeting in Highland park tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Rev. John Robertson, D. D., of Glasgow, Scotland, a noted evangelist, will begin an all-day service in the Wylie avenue church, Wylie avenue and Congress street, tomorrow. Meetings will be held morning, afternoon and evening tomorrow.

The First Presbyterian church, which has been closed for several weeks, will reopen Sunday, September 24, when the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, will preach.

PUPILS HOLD RECEPTION.

Teacher of 38 Years Experience Is Honored by Former Students. Several Reunions Held.

FRANKLIN, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—The former pupils of Miss Anne Walker, a public school teacher almost continuously since 1861, and for 38 consecutive years a teacher in the Franklin schools, was tendered an informal reception by her pupils in the courthouse this afternoon. It is estimated that 600 people called to greet Miss Walker, more than half of whom she had once taught.

Each former pupil registered in a book specially prepared by the Roycrofters, and this, together with a fund collected today, will be turned over to Miss Walker on Saturday. Miss Walker is still a teacher here, but will retire in two more years. Several reunions and fireworks display constituted the other features of today's celebration of the county centennial and old home week.

IRON ORE IMPORTS REACH HIGH WATER MARK

New Record Also Made for Chrome, Manganese and Iron Pyrites Shipped for Pittsburgh Account.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—High-water mark was reached in the imports of iron ore, etc., brought in through New York and other eastern seaboard points last month, principally on Pittsburgh account.

In all upward of 123,000 tons of iron ore, chrome ore, manganese ore, iron pyrites, miscellaneous iron and steel material and copper ore came in.

Sixty thousand one hundred forty-one tons of iron ore were imported. The manganese ore arriving has reached a total of 25,705 tons. Five thousand six hundred fifty tons of chrome ore came in. The iron pyrites aggregated 6,473 tons. Miscellaneous iron and steel material was imported to the extent of 2,800 tons. The pig iron consignments amounted to 13,271 tons, while 20,629 tons of copper ore also arrived here last month from foreign ports.

The iron ore was shipped principally from Cuba. The manganese was shipped from British India and Brazil, 12,025 tons coming in about equal proportions from Bombay and Vizagapatham, while Rio de Janeiro sent two lots, amounting to 10,480 tons. The chrome ore was sent chiefly from Nchourine, from which place 5,000 tons arrived here, while Liverpool sent 650 tons. The iron pyrites came from Pilleys Island, off Newfoundland.

Well-Known Bookkeeper Dies.

WAYNESBURG, PA., Sept. 15.—William J. Braden died last night from Bright's disease. He was 52 years of age and for years had been a bookkeeper in the Farmers' and Drovers' National bank. He is survived by his widow and one son, Robert.

A Popular Service to Be Resumed. The Hamburg-American Line's Riviera Service.

The Riviera service of the Hamburg-American line between Genoa, San Remon, Monaco and Nice (Monte Carlo), will again be resumed on January 15th, 1906, and will be continued until May 12th, 1906. The steamer Prinzessin Heinrich will be dispatched from Genoa every Monday, Wednesday and Friday and from Nice every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and will make the trip from Genoa to Nice, or vice versa, in less than eight hours.

Travelers by the Mediterranean service to Genoa will find this a most convenient route to all the popular winter resorts for which the Riviera is noted; travel by rail is not comparable to a journey thither upon a swift, modern steamship, either in care and comfort afforded the voyager, or the charming scenery presented en route, the trip being made entirely by daylight.

If you are about to build a new home, see that you are on the Peoples Natural Gas Company's lines. Natural gas for light, heat and power at domestic rates. No charge for services or connections or setting meters. General Offices 248 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Undigested Food

When any portion of food remains in the stomach and refuses to digest, it causes the torments of indigestion. This undigested food rapidly ferments, irritating the sensitive coating of the stomach, while other parts of the body, particularly the head, suffer in consequence.

So long as this undigested food remains in the stomach, the discomfort continues. A few doses of stop all fermentation, sweeten the contents of the stomach, and give natural assistance that relieves the stomach of its burden. The use of Beecham's Pills gradually strengthens the stomach nerves and soon restores them to a normal, healthy condition.

Beecham's Pills positively cure all stomach troubles, while their beneficial effects on the liver and kidneys greatly improve the general health.

Beecham's Pills have been used and recommended by the general public for over fifty years.

Homes by the Riverside—Aspinwall-Delafield Plan

THE SMART RESIDENCE SECTION FOR PEOPLE OF MODERATE MEANS

10 Minutes to East Liberty, 17 Minutes to Allegheny, 20 Minutes to Union Station

HAVE you seen these lots? If you haven't, you are missing the most desirable real estate offering which Pittsburgh has had for many a long day. The Aspinwall-Delafield Plan is easy to reach. That should interest you, if you are a man who must reach business or professional duties promptly, every day. Why go "into the wilds"—when you can find a city lot on the Aspinwall-Delafield Plan? Remember that we have:

All Improvements

Sewers, Water (from pure, cold Artesian wells), Paved Streets and Concrete Sidewalks, Shade Trees, Schools, Police and Fire Protection, Churches, etc.

Adjoins Filtration Park

The City of Pittsburgh's great engineering enterprise—a filtration plant to provide pure water for the city is rapidly proceeding, to the south and east of this property. On completion, the filter beds will be covered and converted into a magnificent waterside park. Beautiful walks and driveways, bordered by flower beds and ornamental fountains will make this Filtration Park more beautiful than any other which the city can boast.

All these advantages—all this wealth of natural and artificial charm will be spread before your very doors, if you build upon the Aspinwall-Delafield Plan. And the cost of a lot is moderate.

Compare the Prices

Pittsburgh property in the neighborhood of Schenley and Highland Parks sells for from $150 to $300 the front foot.

Lots in the Aspinwall-Delafield Plan sell for $35 to $45 the front foot—about one-tenth of the price.

Terms made to suit.

Just One Block

The very next street to the edge of the Aspinwall-Delafield Plan is the present built-up limit of the Borough of Aspinwall. You can tell just what the Aspinwall-Delafield Plan will look like in a few months, by walking up and down that street for a block or two. Handsome residences, noble shade trees, beautiful lawns and flowers will be seen.

Only 400 Lots

Some fifty have been sold—one-eighth of the entire number. If you want a lot in the Aspinwall-Delafield Plan, prompt action is advised.

Weigh this matter carefully, consider what we are offering: a lot in a beautiful, residential suburb, which has all those things to recommend it which you'd find in the most expensive city neighborhood, without their drawbacks. You can come and go quicker than the people of Oakland or the Park districts. You escape the worst features of city life.

Get Out of the Smoky City

Give your lungs a chance to do their work. They can't keep your body healthy if you live all your days in the sulphurous, smoke-laden, man-killing atmosphere of the manufacturing and business districts. Get out into the suburbs—into the best suburb—on the Aspinwall-Delafield Plan. The air comes over hills and through forests and meadows. You exchange dust and dirt for clover blossoms and the sweet scents of the country—yet you have the comforts of the metropolis and the city itself within easy reach.

You'll miss the best real estate bargain in Pittsburgh, if you delay. Come out today. We have representatives waiting to show you. During September and October the office will be open evenings.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—The soup was on the table before the first game with the Pirates wound up with two on base and one run needed to tie. The count was eight to seven, arrived at after something of more than two hours of scrap-surcharged play. Despite the period over which the game was stretched there were few dull intervals. It was so dark during the final round that a new ball showed up like a bald-faced cow in a country lane.

There was a combination of circumstances responsible for the loss. Overall was one number in the combine. Overall showed a shade of retrogression from his last time out. The only favor shown to the Reds by Emslie was when he dictated the withdrawal of the big pitcher. Chech came on after Overall had unloaded some long pent-up opinions at the feet of Emslie. Chech took up the pitching task at a ticklish moment, but put high polish on the occasion by fanning the Pirate battery. Then he pitched three hitless innings, but slipped up in the eighth and yielded two runs. In order to get a better batter into the fray in the Red's half of the sixth, Chech was retired and Ewing was the third twirler. For Pittsburgh Leever lasted the route, but the pedagogue needed all the nice breaks he received.

John Siegel showed up and went into the game. The husky recruit has fine baseball presence. He acts as if he had read the advance sheets of Cy Seymour's forthcoming treatise on how to bat. Wagner is about the only shortstop with heighth and reach enough to kill off Siegel's first inside attempt, which was a screaming liner that ought to have been safe. On the outside Siegel had nothing to occupy his mind except the landscape.

Extra shifty work on bases made the first inning more productive for the Pirates than three hits justified. Leach walked and stole. Beaumont grounded, Wagner's single scored Tommy, and Leach stole second and third. The crowd was visibly moved by the double spectacle. Howard's lick counted Hans. Howard then stole. Brain singled and Howard came in. Corcoran fumbled Ritchey's bounder, Brain going to third. Brain tried to sneak home unnoticed, taking the chance that Schlei would return Overall's delivery without looking over the layout. The Admiral caught Brain in the act and vetoed the nervy stunt.

One out then Beaumont singled in the third, Wagner tripled to center. Howard walked and stole second. Schlei took a shot at Wagner on third and missed. Hans scored and Howard moved up. Brain doubled to the left fence. When Emslie walked Ritchie "Jeff" threw his glove and Emslie chased him.

For three innings not a Red reached first. Leever was working with alarming consistency. Huggins hit in the fourth. Barry filed and Kelly was hit. Seymour's single scored Huggins. Corcoran filed, Kelley scoring. Seymour stole second and took third on Peitz's throw. Steinfeldt singled scoring Cy. Chech tripled in the fifth and sneaked in on Huggins' fly. A base to Wagner, Howard's sacrificed Brain's second double, Ritchey's single gave the Pirates two in the eighth.

The Red closed up the gape three. Kelley and Seymour singled, Corcoran's out advanced them. Wagner threw wild on Steinfeldt's rap on which Kelley tallied. Schlei's double scored Seymour and sent Steinfeldt to third. Bradwell hit to Brain, who forgot the conditional and elected to catch Schlei between sacks. The Admiral kept out of the way until Steinfeldt had scored which was a presentation purely. Howard fumbled Barry's grounder with one out in the ninth. Kelley finally filed to Clymer, who had taken Leach's place in left. Barry stole second, the issue presented with Seymour up and one needed to tie was too much for Leever. He willfully passed the league leader and turned the occasion full on the shoulders of Corcoran. The captain filed to Clymer. The score:

PLAYED GOOD BALL.

George Cohan's Theatrical Team Met With a Surprise.

The crowd that went over to exposition park yesterday afternoon, and there was a big crowd there, to see the game between a picked team under the captaincy of Will Totten and one made up of members of the Little Johnny Jones company, were treated to something of a surprise. The impression was that the game would be very much on the burlesque order, but it was just the reverse, and there was at times a display of baseball that would do credit to professionals.

The game went ten innings, and was won in the tenth by Totten's team, 5 to 4. The winning run was scored by John Morin, who reached first on a single over second, took second on a single, went to third on an out at first and scored on a wild throw. The playing of Tom Lewis at first base was as credible as his work as a comedian, and George Cohan distinguished himself by some good work at second base. For the picked team the work of Morin at first and McLaughlin back of the bat was the feature. Will Totten pitched the first four innings and showed clever work. The score:

Batteries—Totten's, Totten, Pritchard and McLaughlin; Cohan's, Ringsdorfer and McArthur. Umpire—Patsy Flaherty.

Atkinson Won the Shoot.

BROWNSVILLE, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—The Brownsville target shoot ended today with a good attendance and a high average of shooting. Atkinson was high gun for the day with 161; also high gun for the two days. Kelsey was second with 157 and is second in the match. Fleming was third with 154. Moore and Dentler tied for fourth on 152 birds.

REID AND WILEY REPORT AT YALE; "GRAFT" THIS YEAR

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Sept. 15.—Ogden Mills Reid, son of Ambassador Whitelaw Reid, today joined the Yale football squad as a candidate for end rush. He is a law student in his second year. He is tall and weighs about 170 pounds. Wiley, halfback at Hill school last year, who will enter the freshman class, was the most notable new man to report today. Altogether nearly 40 candidates are now here. Scrimmaging will not be tried for several days.

There will be "graft" this year in the publication of the official football program. Edwin White, manager of the 'varsity eleven this year, has turned that privilege over to the bureau of self-help, so that students who are working their way through college can do the work and secure a profit over the stipulated sum that is always secured for the football association's treasury. Heretofore a manager or member of the football squad has been granted the privilege of publishing the program.

LEWISBURG, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Bucknell's football stock fell below par today when it was ascertained that Captain Cooper is down with appendicitis at Atlantic City. Cooper has been in ill health for some time. If the report be true Bucknell's line will suffer a severe loss, as Cooper was the mainstay of the center trio. Coach Hoskins is loosing no time in developing a new man for the vacated position. Shade, a 200-pound boy, looks like the man for the place.

EXPOSITION PARK, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—An afternoon of brisk September football weather sent the W. U. P. squad dashing out to a hard and rough practice here today. The men have been sufficiently tutored by the work of the past week to start in on some real football tactics and today for the first time Mosse gave his backs a whirl at running the ball down on the kickoff. In this work W. F. Banbury and Senson did some fast offensive playing while Perry and Ritchey did fine tackling. Zeb Did the tackling. Leidenroth and Fryer are having it out at center. McKean was slightly under the weather today and did not report for practice. "Fanny" Mehl, the fullback, arrived this afternoon from Kansas and the old back field trio is now complete with Mehl, Schmidt and Thompson.

STATE COLLEGE, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Great interest centers in State's opening game of football here tomorrow in that it will give the coaches a line-up of the men in real work. Coach Golden will try out at least two dozen men in tomorrow's game and tonight announced the lineup as follows:

The above linemen will average 200 pounds to the man.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—The University of Pennsylvania football squad began practice today on Franklin field. Thirty-three men reported and about eight more will come out tomorrow. The candidates for the varsity eleven were in charge of Byron Dickson, the field coach; his assistant, A. L. Smith, last year's fullback, and Mike Murphy, the trainer. The men are in good physical condition, some of them having spent the last two or three weeks in the Pocono mountains. Today's practice consisted of kicking the ball, going through simple formations and running around the track.

UP TO THE FINALS.

A. K. Oliver and J. F. Byers to Meet Today at Pittsburgh Golf Links.

The tournament for the club championship at the Pittsburgh Golf club progressed through the semi-finals yesterday and the final will be played today. In the semi-finals A. K. Oliver beat M. A. Preston 5 and 4, and J. F. Byers beat J. H. Reed, Jr., 1 up in 19 holes. Byers was two up at the turn, Reed catching him coming home and carrying him to an extra hole. Reed had a 75, the best medal score of the afternoon.

This brings Oliver and Byers together in the final struggle and will provide a splendid contest. They will play 18 holes in the morning and 18 in the afternoon.

OUTSIDE CLUBS DESIRE IN BIG BOWLING LEAGUE

The Pittsburgh section of the Allegheny County league met on the club alleys last night, with E. L. Wilson in the chair. The meeting was in the nature of a suggestive one. There were applicants from outside districts. Miles McGrath, captain of the Unity team, objected on account of the different applicants being out of the jurisdiction of the Pittsburgh section. Wilson explained that all matters would be acted on at the general meeting at the Federal alleys Sunday night.

The applications received were: Brunswick, St. Bonafice, Friendship and two teams from Shadwick. The Unity team decided to withhold its application until the jurisdiction of that section was decided on at the general meeting Sunday night.

There was a general meeting of the Unity team at 536 Smithfield street last night. An election of officers occurred. McGrath, captain, resigned, and George Silber was elected in his stead by an unanimous vote. Austin Smith was made president by acclamation, as was also Charles H. Coons, secretary and treasurer.

All bowlers should not fail to attend the general meeting of the Allegheny County league on the Federal alleys, Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

Sharon Blanks Youngstown.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Sharon whitewashed Youngstown here this afternoon in a game marked by constant bickering. Youngstown objected to the rulings of Umpire Wilson of Sharon, who in the first inning awarded the contest to Sharon. However, after a long kick the game was continued. The score:

C. L. CHILDS WINS TENNIS TOURNEY

Defeats in Finals W. L. Myers. Will Meet Dr. Stephens Today in Championship Match.

A BIG GALLERY WILL BE OUT

Clinton L. Childs, with two legs on the cup which goes with the championship of Western Pennsylvania in tennis singles, won the tournament yesterday for the honor by defeating W. L. Myers in the final match, 8-4, 6-4, 8-3. The tournament is being held at the Pittsburgh Golf club, the former ones being held at the Pittsburgh Field club. The final match drew the biggest gallery of the tournament.

This afternoon at 3:30 p. m. Childs will meet Dr. T. W. Stephens, the present champion, for the title. Dr. Stephens also has two legs on the cup, and it will be won outright today, no matter who wins. The championship match, as was the final match yesterday, will be best three out of five sets. An almost unwieldy gallery is expected today on account of so much being involved in the match.

In the final match yesterday Childs was a slight favorite, the betting speculation being 100 to 75 in his favor. Myers started well by winning the first game. The set stood 4 to 3 when Childs answered three and won the first set. He did the same thing in the second set, and in the third he only allowed Myers to get three games. Childs' defensive work and decisive action at critical moments counted much for final victory. When Myers came to the net for expected smashes Childs kept the ball high in the air, sending his opponent to the back line again. Myers' game was a very pretty one, and his long returns, just passing over the net, were much admired.

The results by games:

Childs	6	1	6	0	1	1	0	1	1	1	1—	8
Myers	4	1	0	1	1	0	0	1	0	0	0—	4
Childs	6	1	0	1	1	0	0	1	0	0	0—	4
Myers	4	0	1	1	1	0	1	0	0	0	0—	4
Myers	4	1	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0—	3

Only a few of the doubles matches were played yesterday and they, with the consolation, will run over to Monday. The results of the doubles played were:

J. C. Byers and Brooks beat E. M. Byers and C. Valentine 6-4, 6-2.

Stephens and Naby beat Brooks and Byers 6-1, 6-4.

Sunstein and Sunstein beat Hutchinson and Smith 6-4, 6-1.

EASTLEY IS TOO STRONG FOR BRADDOCK TEAM

Braddock was unable to solve Frank Eastley yesterday at Homestead and was beaten 7 to 2. For seven innings Eastley allowed but one hit. The hitting of Hugh Tate was another feature. The score:

GIRLS WHO PASS ARE NOT KNOWN

Result of School Teachers' Class B Examination Is Not to Be Made Public.

FEAR EFFECT ON DISCIPLINE

Forty per cent of the "best and most experienced" public school teachers in Pittsburgh are not up to the best standards.

This fact was disclosed yesterday. President D. L. Gillespie of the central board of education, as soon as it was known, gave orders that the names of the teachers who passed the examination for enrollment in the highest class and an increase of $100 salary, should not be given out for publication.

Secretary Charles Reisfar of the central board of education was asked yesterday by a Gazette reporter for a list of the teachers who were successful in the examination. The secretary was not asked for the names of the unsuccessful ones, for they, of course, are never printed.

"The list is not to be given out," said Secretary Reisfar.

"Why?"

"President Gillespie has given orders to that effect."

"Why?"

"He said it was not wise."

"Why?"

"You'll have to ask Mr. Gillespie."

Mr. Gillespie was asked and this is what he replied:

Might Impair Teachers' Usefulness.

"It would be unfair to those teachers who did not pass the examination to publish the names of those who did. Publication would impair the usefulness of the unsuccessful teachers. There may be good teachers among those who failed, fitted to teach. Should the fact that they failed become known to their pupils, the pupils would rather look down on those teachers and the teachers' usefulness would be impaired materially."

It was pointed out, in answer to Mr. Gillespie, that the names of the teachers who went up for examination were not published, so that there is no list of names in existence to enable pupils to compare the list of successful examinees with a general list of all candidates for admission into class B, and thus ferret out the names of the poor teachers. It is also shown that there are about 1,000 teachers in the public schools of Pittsburgh; that only 600 went up for the examination, for only those teachers were eligible for the examination who have taught seven annual terms of 10 months each, who hold the permanent certificate issued by the state of Pennsylvania and who have been recommended to the examining commission by the board of directors of the sub-district school in which they teach.

Forty Per Cent Fell Short.

Every one of the teachers examined, according to the rules of the central board, are receiving $800 a year, and yet 600 fell short of the attainments which 200 of their colleagues possess.

Prof. Samuel Andrews, superintendent of the public schools, was a member of the examining commission. In talking about the examination, which was held last April, he said:

"An inspection of the questions will prove they were fair and not too hard. I realized, however, before the examiners looked at the papers, that the time within which the teachers were required to answer the questions was limited, and I suggested to my colleagues that in case a teacher answered properly only three-fourths of the questions submitted, that teacher should be admitted into class B, and receive the increase in salary. So, you see, the commission was not severe."

The commission consists of Prof. Andrews, Edward Rynearson, director of the High school; Dr. W. D. McFarland, head of the academical department of the High school; Miss Jane Ralston, head of the High school's normal department, and Francis A. Slattery, principal of the Riverside school.

Successful Applicants Notified.

Each successful applicant has been notified of her success and each district board received notice of the names of the teachers of its school who passed the examination. It is intimated that some teachers who failed, came so near to being successful that they will receive a hint to study a little for an examination next week. The resolution of the central board stipulates that the names of successful applicants must be reported by September 15.

CARRIES FEROCIOUS ANIMAL NINE MILES IN HIS ARMS

Colorado Hunter Has Thrilling Experience With a Wildcat—Is Rescued and the Beast Is Shot.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

COLORADO SPRINGS, COL., Sept. 15.—But one man has ever run nine miles with a full grown ferocious wild cat hugged close to his breast and ever lived to tell the tale. John Siegel is that man. He will hold the record perhaps forever. John, a middle-aged, hardy mountaineer, was hunting grouse on the east slope of Pikes' peak today. His dog flushed game. He did not know what kind it was, and he approached cautiously, his gun lowered for a shot. He soon found out, for the varmint leaped full on to his chest before he saw it, in an effort to reach his throat. Owing to a heavy coat, the claws did not do much harm.

John dropped his gun in fright, but he clasped the cat with strong arms that never once relaxed their vice-like hold. One arm closed below the head, rendering the sharp teeth ineffective. The cat's legs were crushed under its body or diverted to either side. Thus the hunter traversed nine miles along a narrow mountain trail, the cat's breath in his face every moment, before assistance came.

The spectacle was so unusual that two hunters, Ed. Smith and Thomas Lowell, waited a half minute for explanation before the former put a ball through the animal's head, killing it while yet clasped in Siegel's desperate embrace.

"I owe my life to the cat's flattened position on my chest," he said. "His struggles were fearful. I never looked into such eyes before. It seemed I would never find help."

TARTARS ARE AFTER THE NEWSPAPER MEN

They Have Killed One Journalist and Crusade Is On Against the Remainder.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 15.—A private dispatch from Tiflis says there was firing last night at various points in the Baku district, and that there were many skirmishes resulting in considerable loss of life. The situation, the dispatch says, is alarming and there is great uneasiness among the Tartars.

Five battalions of infantry, a battery of artillery and a body of Cossacks have been sent to Kutais. Cossacks have also been sent to Shulavery, where encounters between the Tartars and Armenians are feared.

A prominent journalist of Baku has been killed by Tartars, who are conducting a crusade against newspaper men.

The oil men here have received information that the insurgents threaten to kill the operatives when they resume work, and to burn the works now in course of reconstruction.

TIFLIS, Sept. 15.—The viceroy today issued a long proclamation to the inhabitants of the Caucasus on the recent events, in which he describes the subversive work of secret societies and groups who are endeavoring to change the existing state of things by illegal strife. The proclamation points out the disastrous consequences of this propaganda, which it says is exploiting the peasants and the workmen so as to bring them to ruin and causing them to have recourse to pillage, instead of their peaceful avocations, with the result that the formerly flourishing trade of Baku has perished and the works are stopped or partly transferred abroad.

The proclamation refers to the importance of the organization of a state douma, which it says will remove the existing causes for the secret societies, and calls upon the populace to assist in the pacification of the country.

NOT A CENT IS LOST.

Mutual Life Insurance Company Takes No Chances on Investments.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(Special.)—In the testimony of the treasurer of the Mutual Life Insurance Company before the legislative investigating committee, the fact was developed that the company has not only made $16,000,000 for the policy-holders in its investments in trust companies' stock, but that not a cent had ever been lost by default in interest upon the bonds held by the company.

The Mutual Life has preferred absolute security to taking chances of possible loss on a lower grade of bonds. The investments and deposits in trust companies have realized 4.30 per cent upon the total amount involved.

MRS. TAGGART IS SEEN ON THE STREETS DAILY

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—With the divorce trial in which she was the central figure ended, Mrs. Elmore Taggart has regained much of her former cheerfulness and is daily seen in the streets with the two boys whose custody is to be determined by the court. Capt. Taggart is spending the time visiting his numerous relatives in the county, nearly all of whom are well known people. Many anonymous letters are still being received, scoring either Capt. Taggart or his accused wife. Some of the letters are scurrilous.

Etna Police on the Alert.

Sharpsburg and Etna police are investigating what is thought to be the work of a gang of thieves who are constantly stealing brass and zinc from the mills and furnaces of the two boroughs. Some time ago several hundred pounds of brass were found hidden in weeds bordering Pine creek and near the mills of the Spang-Chalfant Company, and Thursday morning a thief was caught stealing brass in the rolling mill of Moorhead Brothers of Sharpsburg.

REACHES NO DECISION.

Bellevue Council Considers Granting Franchises to Telephone and Lighting Companies.

The Bellevue council held a special session of two hours last evening behind locked doors. Members stated after the meeting that the subject discussed was the granting of two franchises—one to the Bell Telephone Company, and one to the Pennsylvania Light, Heat and Power Company of Allegheny.

The latter company has made repeated efforts to acquire heating and lighting privileges in Bellevue, these now being held exclusively by the Ohio Valley Electric Company. It was stated by the members that no decision had been reached, and that another special meeting would be held.

CITY PAYS FOR NEARLY WHOLE IMPROVEMENT

Assessed $275,000 for Extending Hamilton Avenue and Property Owners Only $41,000.

The city will have to pay $275,075.05 for the opening of Hamilton avenue from Fifth avenue extension to Penn avenue, near Frankstown. The board of viewers read the awards of damages and benefits yesterday afternoon to the property owners affected, the viewers' office being filled with men and women. The total damages assessed for the improvement amount to $316,982.40, and of this amount only $41,637.35 is assessed against the property owners, the excess over benefits, which the city is compelled to pay, amounting to $275,075.05.

Director Bigelow says he is satisfied with the report of the viewers and that the city will raise no objection. This is the third report made by the viewers on this proposed improvement. The last board that sat in the case assessed over 500,000 against the city and Director Bigelow objected and had the ordinance repealed and a new one passed.

Exceptions to the report made public yesterday will be received by the viewers until September 25 and hearings on the exceptions will begin on October 3. Forty-eight property owners obtained damages, the largest being awarded to Mellon brothers, they receiving the sum of $76,186. The benefits, which aggregate only $41,637.35, are divided as follows:

Citizens Traction Company, $8,000; Thomas Mellon, $2,706; D. J. Kennedy, $5,738; Leopold Vilsack, $12,887.25; Jeremiah Dunlevy, $595.35; J. & P. Dunlevy, $293.25; city of Pittsburgh, $2,682.90; East End Savings and Trust Company, $1,198.75; Liberty Brewing Company, $6,019.50; David R. Speer, $435.85; David R. Speer, $1,180.40; total, $41,637.35.

CINCINNATI SHELTERS YELLOW FEVER CASES

Trainload of Refugees from Louisiana Arrive There, Five of Whom Have Disease.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 15.—At least five persons having yellow fever arrived here over the Queen & Crescent line today. These are Mrs. T. J. Roan of Tallulah, La.; Miss Anna Stone, of Tallulah, La.; Mrs. J. Stone, of Tallulah, La.; Willie Walters Smith, of Lake Providence, La., and Miss Stockner, of Lake Providence, La.

The train consisted of 200 refugees from Lake Providence, La., and Tallulah, who were fleeing from the yellow fever. Dr. Clark W. Davis, health officer of this city, being notified of the train's coming, sent Dr. B. F. Lyle and an assistant to board the train at Lexington, examine the people aboard and wire him. Ambulances were at the train to receive the patients in response to a message from Dr. Lyle.

When the train reached Lexington several persons who were sick attempted to escape but were caught by the police and forced back on to the train. They were taken to the Branch hospital on their arrival here. All the other passengers of the train were allowed to go to their destinations, but the names and addresses of all were taken and they can be reached by the authorities if needed.

Fifty of the party of 200 came up to this city absolutely penniless.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15.—The yellow fever report up to 6 o'clock tonight shows 43 new cases, total to date, 2,505; deaths, 2; total, 331; new disease centers, 6; cases under treatment, 330; cases discharged, 1,844.

Fall Opening Is Held.

The fall opening of the Bellevue Y. M. C. A. was observed last evening by a largely-attended social and reception given at the rooms in Lincoln avenue. The parlors were beautifully decorated with the national colors, intermingled with the orange and black of the association. The principal address was made by Robert A. Orr, former secretary of the Pittsburgh Y. M. C. A. A musical program was rendered and refreshments were served.

Take a Brighton Road car this afternoon or evening to Brighton Heights.

TEACHERS KICK ON THE EXAMINATION

QUESTIONS TO JUGGLE WITH

An official statement issued by the board of trustees of the Pittsburgh Teachers' association severely criticizes the scope and methods adopted by the commission appointed to examine applicants for increased salary.

The statement recites the appointment of the commission by the central board of education, and the application to be filled out by teachers eligible to class B, or the $900 class, as follows:

Recommendation by local school board and principal of school in which applicant is teaching; statements upon the following points: Number of months taught, where education was received, and from what institutions graduated. As to scholastic attainments and as to what has been done by applicant to increase her professional interest since entering the profession.

The Teachers' association's statement continues:

These applications were to be filed with the commission not later than March 25, 1905. As no conditions were specified before the time for filing the applications had expired, the teachers believed that these applications, containing definite data as to training, experience, and scholarship, would, in conjunction with a personal inspection of the applicant's work in the school room, form the basis for a decision as to a teacher's eligibility for admission to Class B.

Duty of the Commission.

Five days after the applications were filed the commission sent a letter to all school principals, in which it was said:

One of the duties of the commission is to conduct such investigation at such times and in such manner as may be decided by the commission and as may be deemed necessary, that a just conclusion may be reached on the proficiency and progressive spirit of the applicant in her profession. The investigation will be strictly along lines of school room experience, of evidences of progress in educational movements, of general culture, etc.

Referring to the above, the teachers say:

This specially appointed commission, owing to the positions occupied in the Pittsburgh schools by its members, with the exception of the superintendent, could not possibly give its time to the "personal inspection" side of this work. The only practical way of judging any work is by inspection, therefore, a "just conclusion" as to a teacher's skill and proficiency can be reached only by observing that teacher in her school room.

The teachers, having themselves first proposed that proficiency and skill be one of the standards for gauging salaries and desiring to assist the commission in every way to carry out the design of the central board, and knowing that no just criticism of the investigation could be made without first learning what the investigation actually was, although being in total ignorance of its scope and character, responded to this requirement of the commission.

Questions and a Time Limit.

The investigation consisted of the following lists of questions:

Time limit on this paper 30 minutes—Describe your ideal school, including teacher and pupil. What is the object of punishment? What is meant by "Make the punishment suit the offence?" From your experience as a teacher, give one example that illustrates this principle. Have you ever heard of any punishments that have violated this principle? How? What punishments are helpful? What punishments are harmful? What do you mean by proficiency and skill in teaching?

Time limit on this paper 30 minutes—What relative proportion of attention (time, effort, interest), should be given to bright and to dull pupils? How do you secure and hold the attention and interest of indifferent, restless or mischievous pupils? What is the most important work of the teacher outside of the school room? State clearly what you understand by the term culture. By or through what sources obtainable? Show that it is an essential factor in the teacher's equipment. Show that the term has a meaning other than as you have used it. Show that with this meaning it is an essential factor in the teacher's equipment.

A Test of Memory.

Time limit on this paper, 40 minutes. What educational magazines do you read? Why do you prefer these? Give a summary of each of two articles that have appeared within the last four months, naming the magazine. At the November meeting of the Pittsburgh Teachers' institute Miss Harris talked on the subject of reading. Recall her talk, and tell wherein you agreed with her and wherein you differed from her. Or, recall either of her other talks, giving a brief review of the same, and tell how the lecture could be of benefit to the teacher. In speaking before the forty-second convocation of university teachers of New York state Whitelaw Reid said: "First, we must insist that the common schools teach with thoroughness the 'fundamental three.' Their pupils should learn, learn and learn these until they readily know them. Until then, let us have fewer frills." Present at least two arguments in favor of his position. Present two against his position. Name a number of the subjects which he might denominate as "frills," placing them in the order which you think the best. Give a reason for adding them to the course.

Time limit on this paper, 30 minutes. What is education? What is the history of education? Give your reasons why a teacher should be familiar with this history. State briefly the difference between medieval and modern education. Through whose efforts was the common school system established in Pennsylvania? About what time was it established? Name five of the leading educators of the present time in the United States. What has each done that entitles him or her to this distinction?

Time Short, Conditions Bad.

No criticism is made upon the questions propounded as a means of determining the extent of a teacher's knowledge of the theory of teaching and the scope of her professional reading, study and thought, but when the commission decided upon this method of investigation it was its duty to conduct the investigation in as fair a manner as possible and under the most favorable conditions. On the contrary, work requiring, at the lowest calculation, four and one-half hours, was demanded in two hours ten minutes, and in some cases less time, under poor hygienic conditions and with no provision made for the inevitable bad effect physically upon a number of the participants. It was hoped by the teachers that the investigation was to be but another effort to acquire additional information as to the scholarship and breadth of educational outlook of the teachers, but time has shown that no personal inspection of the work of the applicants has been made, and the returns of the commission show that, in its opinion, ability to juggle with a list of questions is a better test of a teacher's professional qualifications, although a more promising road to increase of salary than personality, application and ability as an instructor.

The teachers asked a maximum in the upper grades of $1,200 for skill and proficiency, after a period of two years' service at $1,000. The standard set by the teachers as a basis for increasing their salaries was demanded by the commission, but at a much lower salary, namely, $900. And this classification, which the teachers expected to require two years' time to accomplish, the commission attempted in five months.

Object to the Method.

The objection of the teachers is not based upon the number who passed the written examinations of the commission, but that it has made this written examination, as far as can be ascertained by the applicant, an absolute and final test of a teacher's practical work in the school room. We make this objection, realizing, as perhaps no other class of people can, the difficulty of the task assigned the commission by the central board of education; but feel, however, that this difficulty does not justify the method adopted by the commission, of which method the teachers are the victims.

This method also has a tendency to defeat the wishes of the taxpayers, parents and voters, of whom 70,000 signified their willingness to have expended a sufficient sum of money to adequately compensate all competent teachers in the Pittsburgh schools.

The central board has decreed that there shall be no appeal from the decision of this commission, having in view the elimination of political interference, but unfortunately working a great injustice to many excellent teachers.

NEW ELECTRIC LINES.

Charters Are Granted at Harrisburg for Ohio Valley and Brownsville Street Railways.

Charters for three electric lines in the Ohio valley were granted yesterday at Harrisburg. These lines are as follows:

Freedom & Baden Street Railway Company, to build three-fourths of a mile of road between Baden and Economy township, Beaver county; capital, $6,600; president, John H. Park, Rochester; James M. Beol, George L. Park, Beaver; Charles Connel, Freedom.

The Economy & Harmony Street Railway Company, to build three miles of road between Baden and the Beaver-Allegheny county line; capital, $18,000; president, William A. Park, Rochester; directors, John H. and George L. Park, James Beol, Beaver; John Warren, Beaver Falls.

Ambridge & Baden Street Railway Company, to build one and five-eighths miles of road in the borough of Baden; capital, $12,000; president, W. E. Guy, Pittsburgh; directors, H. P. Barnes, Allegheny; T. T. Aldrich, H. F. Reed, A. O. Bates, Pittsburgh.

The following Brownsville companies were also chartered:

Brownsville Street Railway Company, to build four miles of road in the borough of Brownsville; capital, $24,000; president, Holman R. Lynn, Pittsburgh; directors, Milton J. Rakin, Byron C. Hovis, Crafton; Daniel B. Ludwick, Wilkinsburg; William B. Dunbar, Pittsburgh.

Bridgeport Street Railway Company, to build four miles of road in the borough of Bridgeport; capital, $24,000. The officers of this company are the same as those of the Brownsville company.

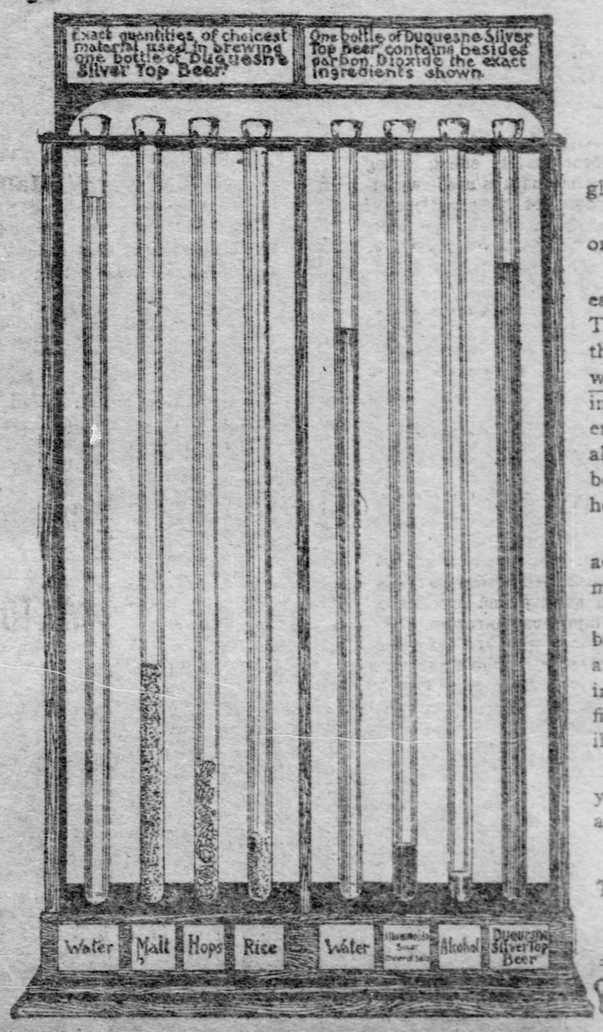
Duquesne SILVER-TOP BEER



Exact quantities of choicest materials used in brewing one bottle of Duquesne Silver Top Beer.
One bottle of Duquesne Silver Top Beer contains besides carbon Dioxide the exact ingredients shown.

Duquesne Silver Top Beer

Here is a "Lesson in Purity" and one you can learn at a glance.

In our exhibit down at the Exposition you can see the original of the cut here shown.

The first four glass tubes show the exact quantities of choicest materials used in brewing a single bottle of far-famed Silver Top Beer. The second set shows you just what every bottle of the finished product contains. Note the large amount of pure water; the concentrated extract (6th tube), consisting of rich albuminoids and the natural sugars and refined mineral salts just as they are found in the barley malt. These are all-important factors in the daily nourishment of the human body; lastly, less than four per cent of alcohol. (Compare alcohol in 7th tube with the tall column of Silver Top Beer in the 8th.)

This surprisingly small amount of alcohol present in beer acts as a healthful tonic. It is readily utilized and creates normal energy, helping you in the performance of your work.

What's true of Duquesne Silver Top is true of all our other beers. They are absolutely pure; they are more than this, they are brewed from costly materials in the most sanitary breweries in the world. The artesian water is distilled and the air itself is filtered. Every bottle of the finished product is carefully sterilized.

When you visit the Expo take one of our booklets home with you. It tells without fear or favor the whole story of pure beer and its place in nutrition.

SCANDRETT FAILS TO PROTECT CITY

Admits Neglect in Appointing Authorized Number of Uniformed Patrolmen.

POLITICS GIVEN AS REASON

In explaining to Controller Brown that 19 special policemen drawing salary from the city of Allegheny were legally appointed, and that their addition to the police force did not overstep the limit allowed by ordinance of councils, Director Scandrett of the North Side public safety department on Tuesday admitted that the city is getting about 20 per cent less police protection than it should have.

Until several months ago Allegheny had 85 regular patrolmen. This number had not been increased for more than a decade. During the incumbency of Henry Muth as superintendent of police he urged every year in his annual report to councils the actual need of 25 additional patrolmen. Last spring councils took the matter up and an ordinance was passed authorizing the director of public safety to increase the police force by an addition of 10 men.

For political reasons, it is said, no regular appointments were made. On July 1 last Director Scandrett appointed 16 special policemen whose supposed duty was to keep watch on vacant houses, dwellings of persons who had left the city for the summer. Their duties were really nominal, and so far as the police records show, only one of the specials has made an arrest since then.

Residents Demand Protection.

The confession of Director Scandrett that with the 19 special policemen on the payroll he had only 97 men on duty last month has started unfavorable comment. Residents of the city declare that Scandrett's plain duty is to appoint regular patrolmen to permanent positions on the force, to uniform them and give the city the police protection that it has needed for so long.

An examination of the police district map, showing all the regular beats walked by patrolmen, shows that no new beats have been created in any part of the city since councils authorized the addition to the force. Some of the beats in the remote parts of the Tenth, Twelfth, Eleventh and Fifteenth wards, cover several square miles, and it requires all night for a man to walk over them. This fact has been called to Scandrett's attention time and again by residents in these districts who have demanded better protection. They have declared that a policeman on one end of his beat could not be reached in less than an hour should his services be needed in an emergency.

Now that Scandrett has said that he is keeping the number of patrolmen within the prescribed allotment of councils and is not overdrawing his police appropriation by paying them the wages of regular patrolmen, residents of the outlying parts of the city are preparing to demand that the special policemen be given diplomas and advanced into the regular ranks. They want the city redistricted, as was planned when councils passed the ordinance last spring, so that more beats can be laid out and more policemen in uniform be put into commission.

Bears Out Muth's Contention.

The figures furnished by Scandrett show that although 95 men are allowed by councils and provided for in the police bureau appropriation, there are 91 drawing salary, and 72 of these are regular, uniformed patrolmen. If the city were given the number of police provided by councils there would be 23 regular men appointed and assigned to regular beats. This would supply the positive need for better protection that was consistently urged by Henry Muth under the last administration, and would cut down and divide the ridiculously long beats that some of the men are walking at present.

It is significant that the large majority of the special policemen now on duty are residents of the Third ward, Scandrett's home ward. Those who know, say that Scandrett is fixing up his fences for the fight next spring, when a mayor is to be elected. His intention, so it is said, is to make a desperate effort to carry the Third for the man chosen as the administration candidate. The results of the last election in Allegheny suggested the inference that Scandrett had either overlooked his work in the Third, or was entirely too confident.

It is said around city hall that shortly before the spring fight the 28 vacant places on the police force will be filled by regular men who will get uniforms and beats to walk. Those chosen, it is said, will be workers in their districts, who have in the past shown the greatest strength in dragging in votes for those they worked for. By this means the administration, it is said, will materially aid the machine by putting well-known ward workers on the payroll.

Scandrett does not talk about regular policemen or better protection. In talking to Controller Brown he said that he had obtained good results from the plain-clothes men, and that because they did not wear uniforms they had a better chance to catch up and overtake criminals and petty lawbreakers. The police dockets do not show that so far they have caught up with anything but the payroll.

TERRIFIC WINDSTORM UNROOFS OMAHA HOTEL

Guests Flee, but Are Driven Back by the Rain—One Person Killed at Burwell.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

OMAHA, Sept. 15.—During a terrific electrical storm that swept Eastern Nebraska and Western Iowa tonight, a panic was caused in the Dodge hotel, at Omaha, when lightning and wind tore off the roof of the hostelry.

When the crash of electricity split the hotel roof, setting fire to the roof timbers, and allowed the fierce wind to rip the top from the building, the guests, thrown into confusion by the uproar, fled through dark corridors for the street.

The blinding rainstorm drove the frightened guests back into the hotel. The fire was quickly extinguished by the rain, and after a time the guests found the hotel safe for the night.

The storm reached the proportions of a tornado at Burwell, Neb., where one person was killed, six were injured and $50,000 damage was done.

ENVOYS LEAVE CHICAGO.

Japanese Depart in J. J. Hill's Private Car for St. Paul, Thence for Trip to Seattle and Home.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Eight members of the Japanese peace commission spent several hours in Chicago today, leaving for St. Paul tonight in James J. Hill's private car, over the Burlington route. They will lunch tomorrow at the Minnesota club in St. Paul with C. E. Stone, general passenger agent of the Burlington, and will leave St. Paul tomorrow night for Seattle by the Great Northern railroad, sailing for Japan on the steamer Dakota September 19.

While in Chicago the seven Japanese members of the party were entertained by Consul Siezaburo Shimizo, while W. E. Dennison, American legal adviser to the peace envoys, was taken in charge by Col. George Fabyan.

STRAW HAT SEASON ENDS AT THE STOCK EXCHANGE

A cool day yesterday brought but four straw hats to the floor of the Pittsburgh stock exchange, to be made victims of the rules that September 15 is the day after the last day for the wearing of straw headgear. William I. Mustin, A. A. Adams and Charles P. Walker were all victims of the game, but Nathaniel Evans escaped by hiding his hat in a place too secret to be discovered by the other members.

Working on New Line.

Over 300 men are at work at Gibsonia and in the vicinity of Etna building the tracks of the new Pittsburgh and Butler street railway, and the work of laying the tracks through Etna will soon be commenced. In West Etna street three miles will be paved where the tracks are laid. The work has been progressing rapidly near Valencia and by the end of the month many miles of track will have been completed.

BOURBON CITY FILLED WITH FEVER REFUGEES

Citizens of Lexington, Ky., Are Alarmed Over the Number of Visitors Within Their Gates from Scourged Districts.

Special Telegram From
JOHN P. COWAN, Staff Correspondent.

LEXINGTON, KY., Sept. 15.—With all the hotels and boarding houses of this city filled with refugees from the fever-stricken districts of Louisiana, it does not surprise the citizens of central Kentucky that three patients suffering from the scourge of yellow jack have reached here. For a fortnight the people have experienced a state of alarm bordering on panic and the news that the refugees had actually brought the dreaded disease into the town has added to the feeling of unrest. The authorities have been severely censured for allowing people from Louisiana to come here.

Tennessee put up the bars of quarantine several weeks ago, but the Kentuckians, remembering their proverbial reputation for hospitality, allowed refugees to come in by the train load. Lexington was the first stopping point in the Blue Grass state and the passengers fleeing from yellow jack left the trains here. The first big contingent arrived two weeks ago. They represented the wealthier classes and stopped at the leading hotels. It was not considered wise for them to register from Louisiana and Mississippi and the hotel blotters set them forth as sojourners from Massachusetts, Michigan and Iowa.

It was a week before it was generally known that the refugees had arrived. The hotel men did not like other guests to know that there were so many guests from the fever districts and the public was not apprised of the threatened danger until last week. There are now over 300 visitors in Lexington from the towns around New Orleans, where numerous deaths have occurred from yellow fever. Some of the refugees continued their way into northern cities.

Since last Monday the average number of arrivals from Louisiana has exceeded a score a day. A few who came here early secured health certificates and returned to their homes. The majority are prepared for an indefinite stay. Others are in almost destitute circumstances and must be cared for by the public charity.

Local physicians declare that the Kentucky mosquito belongs to the same family as those which are responsible for the spread of the yellow fever in New Orleans and Panama. The state fair is about to open here and the attendance will be materially diminished as a result of the fever scare.

NUMEROUS CHARGES ARE LODGED AGAINST YOUNG

Specifications Upon Which the Commander of Bennington Will Be Court-Martialed.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The navy department today made public the charge and specifications upon which Commander Lucien Young, who commanded the gunboat Bennington, which was blown up by a boiler explosion in San Diego harbor, will be tried before a naval court-martial, ordered convened at San Francisco today.

The charge and specifications as announced by the department are as follows:

Charge: Neglect of duty; specifications reciting, first, that Commander Young failed to enforce paragraph 9, article 1606, United States navy regulations, which provides that all valves throughout the engineer department are to be moved at least once each week; second, that he failed to enforce paragraph 12, article 1609, providing that the safety valve will be partially lifted by the hand gear at least once each week, when not under steam, to insure their good working order; third and fourth, that he failed to enforce other provisions of the regulations (article 662½), under which it was his duty to see that safety and sentinel valves were kept in good condition and efficient working order; fifth, that he failed to comply with provisions of the regulation found in article 437 and article 676, requiring the commanding officer to approve the smooth log; and sixth, that he failed to give such orders and precautionary instructions as were appropriate and necessary to insure the efficient condition of the engineer department of the vessel under his command, for the efficiency of which he was charged with responsibility.

THIRD SOCIETY NIGHT.

Thousands of Music Lovers Crowd the Exposition—Many School Children Attend.

The third of the society nights at the exposition witnessed an immense throng last evening. Friday evenings have been devoted mostly to Wagnerian compositions, and last night every seat and every foot of standing room in music hall was taken up with friends of Sousa, music, all there to greet the popular bandmaster, whose visits to Pittsburgh are the occasions for the outpouring of music lovers to the exposition.

It was a typical Friday night crowd at the exposition last evening. By 8 o'clock the promenades and music hall were jammed. The "Fighting the Flames" fire show in Machinery hall got hundreds of the overflow, who were crowded out of the music hall, while "In and Around New York," the Ferris wheel and the roller coaster held delighted audiences throughout the evening.

Sousa leaves Pittsburgh tonight for his eastern tour, but will be back again with his band for the closing week of the exposition. He will give a series of concerts in the Hippodrome, New York, and then begin a long tour, including Pittsburgh on the western trip.

Yesterday Pittsburgh schools had about 10,000 representatives at the exposition. On Monday another consignment from the Pittsburgh public schools will be given full sway at the Point. The guests of the day will include the pupils from the Howard, Knox, Lawrence and Liberty schools.

The following programs have been arranged for this afternoon:

2 P. M.

Scenes from the Grand Opera "Yolande".....Tschaikowsky
Xylophone solo, "American Patrol".....Lowe
Mr. Charles P. Lowe.
Second Polonaise.....Lizat

Trombone Solo, "American Beauty".....Zimmerman
Mr. Leo Zimmerman.
Conceit, "The Musical Critic's Dream".....Dix
(In his dream he heard a well-known melody treated in turn by Mozart, Chopin, Beethoven, Haydn and Wagner, and then he awoke.)
Violin solo, Allegro from Concerto.Mendelssohn
Miss Jessie Straus.
Episode, "Highland Scene" (new).....Moore
Coronation March, "The Prophet".....Meyerbeer

ACQUAINTANCE NIGHT.

American Institute of Bank Clerks Arranges for Opening of Season.

"Acquaintance Night" will mark the opening of the 1905-06 season of the Pittsburgh chapter of the American Institute of Bank Clerks. This meeting will be held Tuesday evening, September 26, at the chapter rooms over the Union National bank. This is the first meeting since May, when 200 new members were admitted. A good opportunity will be furnished at this meeting to become acquainted with the older members of the chapter. Frank M. Pollard, chairman of the chapter, will preside.

The principal address will be delivered by Dr. Samuel B. McCormick, chancellor of the Western university, who has chosen for his subject, "Bankers and Education." The report of the third annual convention held at Minneapolis in July, will be given by Ralph H. McMichael of the Mellon National bank. A good musical program will also be given.

At this meeting important announcements will be made regarding the course of lectures to be given by Dr. E. S. Meade of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, on the general subject of "Banking Economics." The lectures are to begin October 16, and will be eight in number.

LIEBIG COMPANY'S EXTRACT OF BEEF
COMPRESSED VIGOR
Every advanced physician admits the value of concentrated food products in convalescense or impaired digestion. LIEBIG COMPANY'S EXTRACT is by far the best of these. Excellent for the Sick and a good thing for the well.

BATTLE IN THE FLAMES.

Allegheny Watchman Comes Upon a Man Who He Asserts Was Igniting the Building.

Charles Sadle, aged 21, was held for court without bail yesterday on a charge of arson preferred by H. L. Baird, general manager of the United Storage Company, which occupies the old Penn cotton mill in River avenue.

Sadle, it is alleged, was caught shortly after midnight yesterday setting fire to a barrel filled with paper and rags. Night Watchman Ben Williams came upon Sadle as the latter was starting the blaze at the foot of the elevator shaft. A desperate struggle ensued and Sadle tried to throw Williams into the burning pile. He was overpowered and with the aid of Watchman A. H. Redenbach, Williams extinguished the flames and turned Sadle over to the police.

The latter are inclined to believe that Sadle knows something of several fires that have occurred recently and that have caused damage amounting to more than $20,000. Sadle boarded at 20 Isabella street, and is said to be a bartender.

Among the Clubs.

Mass Meeting for Woman's Suffrage.

A mass meeting of all the clubs organized in the interest of woman's suffrage in Allegheny county will be held October 28 in the parlors of the Central Young Women's Christian association. Plans will be formulated for an aggressive campaign during the coming year. Whether any of the women will consent to stand for office as school directors in the next municipal election is still uncertain. Though several of the women have been approached no one seems willing to permit the use of her name this year. Mrs. A. Starr Martin, the president of the Allegheny County Equal Rights association, tried for seven years to get on the ticket and then suffered defeat. An East End woman secured 40 votes at the last election. She does not relish defeat and thinks it will be better next year before making another attempt in that direction. The various suffrage clubs composing the Allegheny County Equal Rights association are looking forward to a visit in November from the Rev. Anna Shaw, president of the National Woman's Suffrage association; Mrs. Florence Kelley, the vice president, and Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, secretary. They are now in Oregon and will visit a number of cities on their way home to New York and Boston, Pittsburgh being included.

Tenement Houses and Juvenile Court.

Mrs. Hugo Rosenberg of Pittsburgh was the guest of honor at the meeting of the Woman's club of Oakmont yesterday afternoon. She gave an interesting account of the tenement house movement and the juvenile court work as they are carried on in this city under the auspices of the women's clubs. The Oakmont club has contributed to the support of a probation officer, but the members individually knew but little of the actual work which has been done in Pittsburgh since the establishment of the juvenile court, and the tenement house problem is practically unknown to the suburbanites. The club met informally at 11 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William Wade. The occasion was called a vacation meeting, and was in the nature of a reunion of the club women after a summer spent by many of them away from home. It was a very informal gathering, the women telling some of their vacation experiences. A portion of the afternoon was spent on the plazzas. Lunch was served under the direction of the club members.

Plan to Co-Operate.

Plans are being laid for a meeting in the Fulton school looking toward the organization of a Parents and Teachers association for conference and co-operation between the fathers and mothers of the school children in the Nineteenth ward and the teachers. Miss McConnisie is principal in the Fulton school, and in a few days arrangements for the meeting will be made by Miss McConnisie and Mrs. J. Ludwig Rosthen, Jr., who is a member of the educational department of the Civic club. The organization of co-operative associations in the different wards is one of the movements urged by this department.

May Have a Perry Day.

It has been suggested by Mrs. Minnie O. Roberts, one of the members of the Dolly Madison chapter, United States Daughters of 1812, that the first meeting of the chapter this fall be made a Parry day. The ancestors of several of the members of the Dolly Madison chapter took an active part in the battle on Lake Erie, among them being ancestors of Mrs. Sullivan Johnson, the state regent.

Elect Delegate to Federation.

Mrs. Frank Stonerod has been elected a delegate to the annual meeting of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women and will represent the Civic club of Wilkinsburg at the meeting in Cambridge Springs in October.

Fulfills Suicide Compact.

MARION, IND., Sept. 15.—In carrying out her part of a suicide compact, entered into with her friend, Cleo Baugher, who committed suicide at Muncie a month ago, Miss Chlo Thompson, 17 years old, swallowed a large quantity of arsenic today and died from the poisoning.

SOCIETY

INVITATIONS have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harmer of Fairmount avenue, East End, for the marriage of their second daughter, Miss Anna Charlotte Harmer, and Charles Haskell McCracken, Jr., to take place at the bride's home on the evening of Wednesday, September 27. Eight o'clock is the hour appointed for the ceremony, which will be performed by the Rev. Frank N. Sneed, D. D., pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian church. Miss Clarissa Norton McCracken, a sister of the bridegroom, will be maid of honor, and a little sister and niece of the bride will attend her as ribbon-bearers. They are Miss Marjory Harmer and Miss Lois Muller. Miss Ethelwyn MacMichael will be the only bridesmaid. Mr. McCracken has asked his cousin, Benjamin Martin, to serve as best man, and the bridal party will be completed by Edwin Griffiths, as usher. At the conclusion of their wedding trip Mr. McCracken and his bride will go to housekeeping in Melwood street, East End. Miss MacMichael will give an informal little tea this afternoon at her home in Ben Avon in honor of the bride-elect, and the affair will also serve as a reunion of a number of girls who have been friends of the hostess and her guest of honor since high school days.

Wedding Invitations Are Out.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sipe of Sewickley issued invitations yesterday for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ida May Sipe, and Charles Edward Marks, formerly of New York city, but now of Sewickley. The wedding will be a large and fashionable event of Wednesday, October 4, in St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church, Sewickley. The Rev. Dr. Robert A. Benton, rector of the church, will solemnize the marriage at 8:30 o'clock in the evening, and the church ceremony will be followed by a reception, with a smaller guest list, at the home of the bride's parents. After their wedding trip Mr. Marks and his bride will live in Sewickley, where at-home days for after November 15 have been announced. The wedding party is as follows: Maid of honor, Miss Mabel A. Green of New Castle; bridesmaids, Miss Anna Miriam Thomas of this city, Miss Lora Belle Runyon of Ellwood City, Miss Ida Pauline Gleiter of the East End, Miss Frances O. Green of New Castle, Miss Jennie M. Marks of New York and Miss Mary K. Haines of Glen Osborne; best man, Dr. Louis H. Marks of New York; ushers, Powell A. Creech and Hubert A. Marks of New York city, Harry L. V. Sipe of Sewickley, William Kintzelman, R. Edson Emery and B. Franklin Rynd, all of this city, and Edward Boobyer of Sewickley.

Hospital Af-Fair a Success.

The Sewickley Valley hospital af-fair was again the chief attraction in the valley yesterday and the crowds were larger than the day before. The automobile tours through the valley were enjoyed by scores and the sports in the afternoon were witnessed by a large crowd. The winners of the contests were as follows: Sack race, Kenneth McMaster; wheelbarrow race, John McMasters and Dale Brush; egg race, Lawrence Kelly; slow bicycle race, Bowman Starr; obstacle race, Dale Brush; potato race, Bartlett McMasters; 100 yard dash, David Coleman; three-legged race, John McMasters and Dale Brush. The prizes, including loving cups, stick pins, etc., were awarded at 7 o'clock by Burgess John J. Koch of Sewickley. The Sewickley Troop band gave concerts afternoon and evening and the concert in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian association from 8:30 to 9:30, under the direction of John C. Slack, was well attended. The booths were well patronized. The crowd that came for supper was larger than had been even hoped for and a large sum was derived from this source. Mrs. A. B. Starr, who was at the head of the entire affair, is gratified over the outcome, and although it is impossible to estimate the proceeds as yet, they will amount to thousands of dollars.

House Dance for Son.

Mrs. Frank Biddle Smith's dance this evening will be in honor of her son, Frank Biddle Smith, Jr., who leaves on Tuesday to enter the Hill school. About 50 guests will be present. The dancing until supper will be general, but after supper a cotillion of five figures will be danced, the young guest of honor leading. There will be pretty favors in the distributing of which the hostess will be assisted by one or two friends. The decorations will be principally in green. Among other Sewickley boys who will attend the Hill school this year are Alexander Tener, Alexander Laughlin, Jr., Charles F. Braden, James Parley Watson of Allegheny, Oliver Smith and Bryce Lemon of the East End are also Hill school students.

Debutante List is Growing.

The list of possible debutantes which, both maids and matrons are predicting, is to be so large this season, is steadily increasing. A group of Sewickley girls will make their formal bows to society this winter, among the new names mentioned being Miss Marion Elizabeth Clapp, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Clapp's elder daughter; Miss Marjorie Irwin of Edgeworth; Miss Mary Whittier Shields, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Shields of Edgeworth; Miss Agnes Black, Mrs. Martha A. Black's daughter, and Miss Mary Aston Gormly, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Gormly, of "The Barracks," Sewickley.

Another Evening Card Party.

Oakmont is to have another evening card party, the host and hostess of the coming event, which is one of a few of its kind taking place this summer in Oakmont, being Mr. and Mrs. Cameron C. Smith. They will entertain on Friday evening, September 22, in the Oakmont Country club. Although the maids and matrons of Oakmont have been very busy socially this summer, the men have figured very little in the social life of the town, as the majority of affairs have been given in the afternoon.

Mrs. Jones Will Go West.

Mrs. Ernest Elbert Jones of Oakmont will leave tomorrow evening for Chicago, accompanying her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Stewart, to their home in the western city. Mr. Jones will follow his wife in a few weeks, when they will return together. They expect to give an informal little dinner this evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Stewart, who are visiting them. The decorations will be pink and white asters and covers will be laid for 12 guests.

Bride Will Be Much Feted.

Mrs. James Patterson of Dravosburg, who was Miss Agnes Crump before her marriage a few months ago, will be much feted this fall. Her mother-in-law, Mrs. J. G. Patterson of Stanton avenue, East End, has selected Thursday, October 5, as the date for an afternoon reception which she will give for the bride. The latter's cousin, Mrs. William Nelson Taylor, of Rome street, will also entertain with a reception in her honor on October 11.

Mr. Peacock Buys New Home.

Alexander R. Peacock of "Rowanlea," North Highland avenue, has purchased of George Boldt, the proprietor of the Waldorf-Astoria, his famous summer place in the Thousand Islands. The house, which is a very large one, is an exact reproduction of a famous castle on the Rhine, and stands on an island of six acres. The interior of the house is fitted up with every modern convenience and luxury. The purchase price is said to have been $100,000.

Musicale for Visiting Cousin.

Miss Nellie Fox and Miss Bessie Fox of Kennett square, Oakland, gave a delightfully informal musicale last evening in honor of their cousin, Miss Laura Fox of Friendsville, Md., who is their house guest. Miss Grace Davis and Miss Katherine Kaufmann gave the program, which included both instrumental and vocal numbers. Miss Fox will leave for her southern home on Monday.

Visitors Give Theater Party.

Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Bowers of Lancaster, Pa., gave a theater party at the Nixon last evening without any special guest of honor. Dr. and Mrs. Bowers came to Pittsburgh to attend the Gilleland-King wedding at the Schenley on Thursday evening, and their guests last evening included several other out-of-town people who are here over the same event.

People on the Go.

Miss Elizabeth Goehring Steffen of California avenue, Allegheny, left this week for Boston, where she will spend a few days prior to going to Smith college as a freshman.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Johnston of Murtland avenue, East End, are home from a delightful western trip.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hubbard of Bellevue are taking a western trip, their stopping places to include Kansas City, Omaha and Denver.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies: those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the

and
I have the largest list of any broker from which to make your selection of properties, large or small, vacant or improved.

FOR A CONTRACTOR
who will build small houses (and small homes sell quicker than large ones), I have a large piece of vacant property on a paved street. No cash required. Will accept second mortgage for full amount of equity. This is a bargain.

ACT QUICKLY
and you can buy a house of nine rooms on a paved street near car line, with lot 74x140, for $3,000. Have been asking $5,000, but want to sell at once. Good terms.

EVERYBODY KNOWS
how Bellevue is building up, and that it is the choicest residence district about Pittsburgh. Lots sell from $50 to $70 per foot. I have some that are very choice from $20 to $30 per foot. Look me up.

Call or write me for what you want. My office is open every evening until 8 o'clock.

ALL THE WABASH ISSUES WERE STRONG AND HIGHER

Advance in the Rest of the Market Checked by the Higher Rates for Call Loans—Local Stocks Dull, but Closed Firmer.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The feature of the New York stock market at the opening yesterday was the strength of the Wabash issues, which were fairly well sustained to the close, all of them closing higher than the day before. The movement was based upon the advertisement of President Joseph Ramsey asking for proxies on stock for the Wabash annual meeting to be held next month. The street jumped to the conclusion that some important financial interests must be behind Mr. Ramsey's request, and that there might be a contest for control. The street dearly loves a mystery or a fight for control, and in this instance London seemed to take the same view of the Wabash situation as Wall street, for the stocks were also strong in that market. The common stock closed 1½ per cent higher, the preferred 1% and the debenture B's, which carry the voting power, closed 2½ per cent higher, on sales of over $1,150,000.

During the early part of the day the remainder of the list ruled dull but steady. The advancing tendency in the afternoon, however, was checked by the rise in the rate for call loans, which rose to 4 per cent and closed at 3½ per cent. It was stated that one prominent financial institution appeared to be desirous of keeping the call loan rate down and when it touched 4 per cent, freely offered money at 3½ per cent. The rate fluctuated between 2¾ and 4 per cent, but the bulk of the business and renewals was at or over 3 per cent.

Naturally, there was some selling by traders in anticipation of an unfavorable bank statement today. The banks have lost $8,270,000 cash through sub-treasury operations, and it was estimated that the direct shipments of currency were large enough to bring the total loss for the week up to $9,000,000. This is about $1,750,000 larger than the estimate last week, which proved to be below the official figures. Unless there has been a further contraction in loans, the surplus reserve would be wiped out tomorrow, since the total surplus last Saturday was less than $5,000,000.

The influence which the money situation has upon the stock market was reflected in the character of the day's rumors. These related mainly to reports of additional engagements of gold in London for shipment to New York, but all of these reports were officially denied. A London cable said that all the free gold in the open market had been cleaned up this week, but that $2,000,000 was on the way from South Africa, which would probably be diverted to New York.

There was some irregularity in the market during the afternoon and the volume of business fell off. Chesapeake & Ohio was more active than for a long time, and advanced sharply, closing at a net advance of ⅝ per cent. The head of a Philadelphia banking house was quoted as saying that the dividend on the stock would be increased to a 2 per cent basis at the next dividend period. At the other end of the list Canadian Pacific developed great strength in the final dealings and the price run up to 168, the highest of the year, the close showing a net advance of 1¾ per cent.

In the remainder of the railroad list the movement was sluggish and prices finally closed lower, the declines generally being confined to fractions.

With the exception of Republic Iron & Steel stocks, the iron and steel group closed lower. Amalgamated Copper lost ⅛ per cent on the reduction of ½c a pound in the official price of the metal. American Smelting also closed ½ per cent lower. U. S. Rubber common was the strongest industrial, advancing from 49¾ to 54¾ on rumors that dividends would be resumed.

In the local stock market an active demand developed for Philadelphia Company common, and at one time the price was bid up to 42¾. Sales were made at 42 to 42¾, with 47¼ bid for 1,000 shares and 47¾ for 500 shares. Manufacturers' Light & Heat was firm, rallying to 26½. Ohio Fuel Supply was ½ higher at 42½. There was also a good demand for National Fire Proofing preferred, which advanced to 26 and closed at that price bid. There were no transactions in the common stock. American Sewer Pipe declined a fraction to 23½, but was in fair demand at that price bid at the close. The steel stocks were extremely dull, but closed a fraction higher. Westinghouse Air Brake sold at 150 and closed at 150½ bid. Only five shares of Electric changed hands all day. Tonopah Extension sold at $6.10, but closed offered at $6.08. Luster Mining was the weak feature of the market, declining to 33 and closing at 33½, a loss of 2½ points for the day. Independent Brewing bonds sold at 106¾, a decline of ¼ per cent.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Estimates of the week's currency movement from New York differed widely but only by the amount of their excess over the loss to the banks by the sub-treasury absorption of funds. This had reached $8,270,000 up to Thursday, with one more day to figure in the result as it will show in the bank statement. The variations in the estimate have to do with the additional losses by the banks through the movement by express with the interior. In any event the decline in cash runs far above the total surplus as it appeared in last week's bank statement. Another heavy loss contraction must be shown by the banks, therefore, in order to prevent wiping out of the surplus. There has been no evidence of a withdrawal of credits from the stock market during the week and it is deemed probable in fact that some increase in loans has been made for use in the stock market. Confidence is felt, nevertheless, that the process of shifting of loans from banks to trust companies has been continued in sufficient volume to effect the necessary showing of loan reduction by the banks and the conservation of their reserves within the legal limit.

North Butte was the active feature of the Boston market yesterday, about 4,000 shares changing hands at 40, and the price reaching 40½. In Pittsburgh the stock advanced to 40⅝ bid at the close and was offered at 41. It was reported from Butte that the company had bought the Hancock lode claim, lying west and adjoining the Jessie claim, already owned and from which the company has been mining its richest ore. It was also reported that the earnings for August were $240,000. Pittsburgh is a large holder of the stock.

On the Pittsburgh exchange 25 was bid and 30 asked for Davison Lumber Company stock.

A dispatch from Tonopah stated that the Knox interest had been successful at the annual meeting of the Montana Tonopah. The former superintendent of the mine was quoted as saying that the company has already blocked out 60,000 tons rich ore and that its earnings are sufficient to pay $100,000 a month in dividends.

At auction yesterday afternoon George Johnston sold for account of whom it may concern 267 shares Standard Chain old preferred stock at 38 a share. Under the reorganization each share of this old stock is entitled to ½ share new stock.

Exports of wheat this week were 1,600,000 bushels, the largest for any week this year and 750,000 bushels larger than for the corresponding week last year. There is every indication of an active movement of our grain abroad, and if expectations are realized an important aid to gold imports will be furnished.

In the local curb market Luna Park stock was quoted at 100 bid, 105 asked. Pittsburgh Coal bonds were offered at 103¾ and accrued interest. There were no changes of note in quotations on other unlisted stocks.

Sproul & Co. bid 47½ for 1,000 shares Philadelphia Company, 47¾ for 500 shares and 47⅝ for 100 shares. Later they offered 100 shares at 47½. The sales were 277 shares at 47⅜.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass sold at 119, unchanged from the last previous sale. It is in consonance with the prevailing apathy of the local market that despite the activity in the glass trade and the unusually large increase in new building operations, which presumably means a larger demand for plate glass, there is no bull gossip on Plate Glass stock. The offerings are light, but seem to be equal to the demand.

A prominent Philadelphia banking interest closely identified with the leading directors of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway makes the statement, which he says may be accepted as semi-official, that the directors of the company at their next meeting, which takes place in October, will increase the dividend rate on the stock from a 1 per cent to a 2 per cent annual basis. This, he says, was practically agreed upon over three months ago, and is in line with similar action taken by other companies controlled by the Pennsylvania railroad.

Canadian Pacific shot up somewhat rapidly on a rumor that it had acquired control of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic. As a matter of fact Canadian Pacific interests have been dominant in that line for some time past.

Ohio leads in the traction mileage of the country, according to the figures compiled by the Street Railway Journal. It is remarkable, however, that Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania have virtually the same mileage. The total length of electric track in the United States is 29,548 miles. Of this Ohio has 3,181; New York, 3,175; Pennsylvania, 3,142; Massachusetts, 2,624; Illinois, 1,956; California, 321 and Indiana, 1,197. The most interesting statement is that which shows the capitalization per mile of the two classes of railways. The electric lines are capitalized at $100,000 per mile of track, while the steam railroads are capitalized at $85,380 per mile of line.

For the first time in weeks Japanese bond issues ranked second in point of activity in the New York market yesterday. The sales of all Japanese issues foot up only $221,000, while the sales of Wabash debenture Bs foot up $1,163,000, being more than one-third of the total for all bonds.

It is said that the Wall street brokerage house which has so long represented the Goulds in their speculative operations is no longer in that position, and that the holdings of Missouri Pacific lodged with them have been transferred to another house not hitherto active in that connection.

The gross earnings of Northern Pacific for August were $4,903,544, an increase of $532,470.

Seaboard Air Line gross earnings for July increased $140,620. Net increased $72,904.

The American Locomotive Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable October 21. For the purpose of this dividend and for the annual election to be held October 17 the books of the preferred and common will close September 21 and open October 21.

For the June quarter the Erie surplus over charges increased $3,491,378.

The money market situation reasserted its influence on stocks yesterday and checked the efforts by professional operators to list prices. The influence of the money situation was due more to the prospects of a poor bank statement than to any actual operations in the bank market, although the per cent rate touched for money on call registered the maximum for the season thus far and served as an admonition of the actual scarcity of funds. Some of the news developments were of a character that would have been regarded as important at another time, but were overshadowed almost entirely by the money question. The demonstration for wresting control of the Wabash system from its present hands caused a sharp advance in the securities of that company. But hostile demonstrations among the railroad owners and capitalists are not reflected by stock market operators, and the effect of the news on the general list became rather depressing than otherwise. There was a dread that the contest might veil a struggle between vast interests behind the nominal contestants of which might ensue disastrous consequences. Contrary inferences were drawn from the announcement of the passing of control of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton system to J. P. Morgan & Co., as it was believed the effect would be harmonization of various claims. There was a disposition to draw an analogy with the Louisville & Nashville purchase regarding which Mr. Morgan made a statement on the witness stand that he was influenced by the purpose to keep it out of hands which he regarded as unsafe. There is a suspicion that a similar purpose applied to the recent case and the outcome was a cause of relief to stock market sentiment. Continuing the analogy with the Louisville & Nashville case and also with the Hocking Valley case, it was considered probable that the newly acquired property would be parceled out among various companies with a common interest in its control. The effect of this supposition had to do with the special strength of Chesapeake & Ohio.

The directors of the Ohio Fuel Supply Company have declared the usual quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent, payable October 14 to stockholders of record October 5. Transfer books will be closed from 9 a. m. October 5 to 9 a. m. October 14.

The Fayette County Gas Company has just completed a well on the Towne farm, Marion county, W. Va., that is good for 20,000,000 feet a day, and is the largest well ever drilled in by the company.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH	IN WALL STREET
Good demand for Philadelphia Company common at higher prices.	All the Wabash issues were strong and closed higher.
Fire Proofing preferred rallied to and closed at 26.	The general market was less active and closed lower.
Steel stocks were dull, but closed fractionally higher.	Sales included 527,000 shares stock and $2,910,000 bonds.
Westinghouse Airbrake advanced to and closed at 150½ bid.	Canadian Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio closed strong.
Lustre broke to 33 and closed at 33½, a loss of 2½ points.	United States Rubber scored the largest gain in the industrial list.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The market for coffee futures opened 5@10 points lower in sympathy with disappointing cables and reports of a decline in the rate of Brazilian exchange. Receipts were very small, but being the result of labor troubles in Brazil, attracted little attention and the market during the afternoon sold off still further in keeping with a late decline in the European markets. The close was steady in tone at a decline of 6@15 points. Sales were 32,250 bags, including December at 7.60c; January, 7.15c; March, 7.30@7.35c; May, 7.30@7.35c; spot Rio nominal; No. 7 invoice, 8½c; mild quiet; Cordova, 10@13c. Sugar, raw nominal; fair refining, 3¼@3 5-16c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3¾@3 13-16c; molasses sugar, 3¼@3 15-16c; refined quiet.

STOCKS BECOME DULL AND PRICES IRREGULAR

Market Closes Heavy, Despite Some Considerable Gains in Special Issues.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Herald this (Saturday) morning says: Stocks were dull and uninteresting yesterday. Prices were irregularly changed, with heaviness at the close, despite some considerable gains in special issues. To all outward appearances the market was as professional as ever, and the general range of commission house brokers said that if any considerable proportion of the business doing represented public buying like they certainly were not getting their share of it.

As a matter of fact the stock commission house brokers spent most of their day in walking around the floor and collecting the mockery of the session by snatching coins and the like. The professional cliques here, the traders and the brokers who work for the speculative houses, contributed the bulk of the day's dealings. Business was very poorly distributed, and speculative sentiment, while mixed, appeared bearishly inclined.

The news of the day was again mixed, and the developments were varied somewhat by the proxy call issued by President Ramsey of the Wabash. Precisely what influence this strange development had on the general market is a question. Wabash issues advanced sharply and Missouri Pacific was about the most active feature of the day. The rest of the market eased off, but the declines in the general list were attributable more to the likely unsatisfactory money outlook and the advance in call rates to 4 per cent than to any "contest for control," such as might be inferred from the Wabash proxy call.

Wall street was loath to believe that the proxy call was issued for the purpose to create the impression of a contest for control, which does not exist in fact. Yet it was admitted that unless backed by some of the large interests in the property, such a call as that issued in the morning stands little chance of proving effective.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Butter quiet and unchanged; receipts, 9,033. Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Money was in fair demand and somewhat easier in the market today. Discounts were firm. It was believed the approaching arrivals of gold in the open market will be secured for foreign purposes. Trading on the stock exchange was quiet. The fear of money in the future was not allayed, though there was some increase of confidence later as a result of an improvement in the tone. Prices closed irregular on week-end profit-taking. Gilts were weak. Consols opened unchanged, following New York and afterward moved irregularly. Norfolk & Western and Union Pacific were favored. The market closed quiet. Foreigners were quietly firm. Japanese Imperial 6s of 1904 were quoted at 104¾. Comments for money, 89 11-16; console for account, 89 13-16. Fair silver steady at 24¾ per ounce. Money 1¼@1½ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 1⅝ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for three months' bills is 1⅝@1 15-16 per cent.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—Prices at the opening of the bourse today were steady and strong and at the close were firm. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 94.80 and exchange on London at 25.55. Three per cent rentes 100 francs 25½ centimes for the account. Exchange on London 25 francs 16½ centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Sept. 15.—On the bourse today prices improved, the foreign exchanges and the Paris report of the consol caused a more animated market. Exchange on London 25 marks 46½ pfennigs for checks.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold for the Sub-Treasurer and Assistant Treasurer, today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $25,021. Of this amount $9,082 had been deposited at San Francisco and $15,749 at Seattle. Total thus paid since Friday, $214,936, against $273,005 for the same period a week ago. Total payments by government to New York banks for the day, $1,187,000. Payments by banks to government, $4,228,000. Balance on the day's transactions $665,000, paid by banks to government. Total net payment by banks to government since Friday, $4,270,000, against $4,290,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago, and $5,182,000 paid by banks to government a year ago.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Prime mercantile paper, 6@6½ per cent. Sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.85.05@4.85.10 for demand and at $4.82.30@4.82.40 for 60-day bills. Posted rates, $4.83½@4.84 and $4.86@4.86½. Commercial bills, $4.81¾. Bar silver, 57½c. Mexican dollars, 47½c. Government bonds steady. State bonds inactive. Railroad bonds irregular. BIG PROFIT IN EAST END SALE

Leopold Vilsack Sells 20 Feet in Frankstown Avenue for $37,000.

BUYER OF DENNISTON LOT

A striking instance of how rapidly values are going up in the East End is afforded by the sale of 20 feet of the former Crawford property on the north side of Frankstown avenue, near Broad street, for $37,000, or $1,850 a front foot. Something over two years ago Leopold Vilsack bought the property for $800 a front foot, so that the present sale shows an increase in valuation of 100 per cent, or 50 per cent a year. The lot is 108 feet deep and is improved with an old building of little value. The deal has just been closed, and the buyer is said to be a prominent wholesaler, who proposes to erect a modern building on the site. This sale, which is credited to the East End Savings and Trust Company, marks a new record for prices in Frankstown avenue, and shows the growing importance of the street as a business thoroughfare. Although no definite information can be got on the project to erect a large building in Frankstown avenue, near Station street, the report persists in circulating that a deal is on for a large site near the Vilsack lot, on which a six or eight-story block is to be erected by a stock company now forming.

Clintic-Marshall Gets Denniston Tract.

The deal for the Henry Denniston property in Swissvale has been closed. Title to the property has gone to the McClintic-Marshall Construction Company, as was published in Gazette when the deal was made in August and not to the United States Steel Corporation, as has been currently reported the few days. It has also been stated authoritatively that the consideration in the deed was between $480,000 and $500,000, a much smaller sum than was generally supposed. The purchase includes nearly 32 acres of land, instead of 40 acres, as was first stated, and the price is a little over $15,000 per acre. There are very few tracts in the Pittsburgh territory that possess similar advantages for manufacturing purposes. In addition to a long river frontage on the Monongahela river, the property is crossed by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad its full length, by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad coming down from Homestead, and the Union railroad touches it. The Carnegie Steel company has made repeated efforts to get this tract, but has failed in every instance, as Mr. Henry Denniston, the owner, steadfastly refused to sell his old homestead until now. As the McClintic-Marshall Construction company needs more room badly at its plant at Rankin, it is very likely it will make a deal with the Carnegie Steel Company by which it will exchange the Denniston tract for property of the steel company adjoining its own plant. Such a deal would give the Denniston tract to the United States Steel Corporation, but no such negotiations have been started so far as known, and for the present the construction company is the owner of the big Swissvale tract.

Resale of Center Avenue Lot.

A quick transfer of property is seen in the case of 1898-1900 Center avenue, which is generally known as the Shephard holdings. It was purchased a few days ago by W. T. Wallace for about $16,000, and has since been sold to a local buyer at a handsome profit. The lot is 40 feet wide and has a depth on one side of 140 feet and 220 feet on the other side, running back to Dinwiddie street. A 12-room brick house on the Center avenue end faces Green street. The property adjoins 80 feet which Mr. Wallace owns, but it is said the latter is not included in the sale which he made of the Shephard lot.

The deed has been registered in the transfer of the property at 236-242 Fourth avenue from John M. Clapp to the Strong Realty Company, the corporation which takes title to the holdings of Robert C. Hall. The lot measures 60x85.5 feet on the south side of Fourth avenue, just below Wood street, and is improved with four-story buildings. The consideration in the deal, which was made last March, is $400,000.

Through the office of T. J. Lawton & Co. Casper Baltensperger has sold to Dr. Abraham Rubinovitz four two-story and mansard brick houses at Webster avenue and Granville street, Eleventh ward, for $12,500.

Selling on Their Merits.

The new Brighton Heights allotment in the Eleventh ward of Allegheny is proving a surprise even to its owners. Although the formal sale does not open until next Monday, as the owners permit no Sunday selling, the inquiry is sufficient to justify the prediction that the entire plan will be closed out in two weeks at most. The house-to-house canvass which the company's agents have made through Allegheny, Bellevue, and the other North side suburbs for bringing a splendid list of prospective buyers out to the property, and yesterday the company's agents were busy all day showing Brighton Circle, the boulevard route and the fine views that are to be had on all sides. The property is fully a mile nearer the city than the business part of Bellevue and is only 14 minutes from the Allegheny market house. It is reached direct by the Brighton road cars and is but a very short distance from the intersection of California and Termon avenues, where all the Avalon and Bellevue cars pass.

For a lot plan that has not had a public sale at all the Aspinwall-Delafield allotment is a wonder for this season. So steady has been the inquiry for lots there and so satisfactory the sales made that the company has practically let the property "run itself" so far as pushing sales was concerned. Rapid progress has been made on the improvements and the streets, sewers, pavements and sidewalks are such as to attract the notice of hundreds of passers-by who see the property daily from the West Penn trains. Its nearness to the new railroad station and the better service that is afforded since the Brilliant cut-off has been in operation, cannot fail to make the large home sites in the allotment even more attractive to the average business or professional man than in Aspinwall, which is known as a model suburb all over this territory.

Ten Years Contract for Draying.

The Pittsburgh Transfer Company has secured a 10-year contract for the drayage of the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse and Transfer Company, whose 40 warehouses on the South Side are nearing completion. The transfer company has also arranged to have stables on the lower floors of the new four-story building which is being erected in Carson street as an entrance to the warehouse group proper. They will be fireproof, sanitary, well ventilated, drained, cooled and heated. The basement or ground floor on the McKean street side of the building will be used for storing the transfer vehicles and for its shipping rooms. A broad runway will lead from the first to the second floor for the use of the 190 horses to be used. The floors have a carrying strength of 1,600 pounds to the square foot and very little wood will be used in their construction. Iron stall guards will be provided. Tin lined chutes will be put in and there will be long rows of lockers for the use of stablemen. Feed will be delivered into the stables from a big chute leading from Terminal way, which is the main street through the warehouses. A center light and air shaft will run to the top of the four-story building and the fixtures will be of wrought iron. The contract is much the largest ever secured by a Pittsburgh company and the transfer company is assured of as fine quarters as can be found in the city.

Sales Made by Brokers.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—The Boston Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow of the wool market:

A moderate business has been done during the week, with the bulk of activity centered in territory wools. All grades have moved, and stocks, particularly of the better grades, are greatly depleted. Contracting is still being done in Montana, Utah, Idaho and Wyoming, but mostly in the first two states, at prices ranging from 20@22c for the former, and 18½@22c for the latter. Fleeces are not selling in quantities, dealers holding firm on prices and refusing offers under their figures. Manufacturers from New England and Philadelphia have been on the market, both looking around and buying. Australian and South American wools have been comparatively quiet, stocks being light and prices becoming centered in the primary markets. The shipments of wool from Boston to date from December 29, 1904, according to the same authority, are 171,883,356 pounds, against 180,194,868 pounds at the same time last year. The receipts to date are 278,419,818 pounds against 238,966,484 pounds for the same period last year.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The drygoods situation was somewhat improved today, in that the possibilities of sellers according to demands of buyers for lower prices seemed groundless, while on the other hand buyers appeared more willing to pay asking prices even for later deliveries.

GRAPE PICKERS ARE BUSY GETTING READY

Crop Will Begin to Move in Car Lots Next Week—Local Markets a Little Slow.

The grape pickers are getting busy now up in Northwestern Pennsylvania and Southwestern New York states. The fruit is about ready for shipment and the next week will see it beginning to come in in carload lots. The crop is not heavy this year, but it is fair and grapes will not be so high as some other fruits are. The supply of peaches and apples is improving, although prices will not be below what they are at present and it will be a surprise if they are not increased before long. Some of the finest peaches grown are now beginning to arrive and are selling at 40 to 50 a bushel basket. Less fancy kind can be had at a much more modest price.

Green goods are plentiful, but most of the business is being conducted by the hucksters and farmers down along the wharf. This is the big day at this open air market and before daylight this morning there will be hundreds of wagons gathered along Water street, each laden with products of the farm and garden.

Groceries are holding steady in all lines. Sugar is as weak as before and dealers are expecting further reductions. Sugar is in fair condition, but not strong. Coffee is doing well.

Butter, eggs and cheese are all firmer. Strictly fresh eggs are again a rare article and premiums are being exacted for the sure enough product. The egg market generally is stronger than a week ago.

HAY AND GRAIN.

RECEIPTS.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 5½ cars oats, 4½ cars corn, 22 cars hay, 1 car straw, 4 cars feed, 2 cars rye. B. & O., 1 car corn, 4 cars hay. Lake Erie, 1 car corn.

Conditions in grain continue to improve. Oats are being much sought after and prices continue to advance. Shelled corn is steady with no improvement in car. Middlings are firm and bran remains about the same. There is no change of note in hay.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Salt was filed in the court of Northern California this week by Joseph A. Cudna, against the Interlaken Consolidated Copper Company of Nevada, the Western Exploration Company of Utah, F. H. Buhl, of Sharon, Pa., G. H. Baird, of Chicago, William F. Snyder, of Salt Lake City, Utah, the executors of the estate of Peter L. Kimberley and the White Knob Copper Company, of Maine, to prevent the accomplishment of the sale of the Interlaken Company's property to the White Knob Copper Company, which previously operated in the Mackay district in Nevada.

Burke—The stope in the Lexington mine, owned by the United Copper Company, is said to be very important. The only definite information yet obtainable is that a very heavy body has been uncovered which runs over $2,000 per ton in gold and silver. Beyond that simple fact the mining superintendent is reticent. He says the company does not know what the extent of the deposit is, and that he will make no authoritative statement of estimates until he has ascertained exactly the boundaries of the deposit.

In the past six or eight months the Chesley Consolidated Company has purchased 13 additional mining claims in the Phoenix mining district at a total cost of $232,000. When the present management assumed control, the company possessed 12 claims containing 28.66 acres of land. The 13 new claims have an area of 254.66 acres, making the total 282.79 acres or more than twice the acreage a year ago. The new claims acquired prepare the way which they say will mean that the same as in the old Chesley group which have yielded over 1,000,000 tons of copper-gold ore. Some of the new claims have had considerable development work while others have had no work done but have given promise by extensive diamond drilling and are already having tunnels driven ahead. Of the $472,500 which is pended in the purchase of new properties, $96,100 was derived by the sale of 96,400 shares of treasury stock, at $1.25 per share, the latter part of the year, which shares were taken by the directors, the balance has come out of earnings.

It is announced that the Annie C mine, located nine miles west of Buena Vista, Colo., has been sold to C. A. Kimball and associates of Brooklyn, N. Y. The new owners have telegraphed C. W. Keeper to take charge of the property in their interest at once. The purchase price is not made public.

Reports from the Cripple Creek district are current that the Valley Mining Company will place their mine here in operation some time in the near future. Unluckily, this property is owned by opposing factions, one in Iowa and the other in Ohio. The control of the mine is in the hands of the local owners, who, it is said, are willing to buy out the other faction if it makes some concessions. If the Ohio people secure control they will expend enough money to sink a 500-foot shaft on the C. P. D. claim.

The Metal Market.

BRISTOL, TENN., Sept. 15.—[Special.]—Henry K. McHarg, president of the Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke Company, has decided to reopen the company's big rolling mills from which operations were closed. The plant will be increased 10 per cent, after which the pay roll will be $150,000 per month.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—[Special.]—Promoters of laundry men report that a buying movement for delivery in the first half of next year has set in. Manufacturers look for betterment here in the winter, and it is hoped of late the fear that consumers are waiting to satisfy their requirements has subsided.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—[Special.]—It is stated that there is in storage in the Kansas and Oklahoma oil territory about 3,000,000 barrels of oil. The new pipe line of the Standard Oil Company, which will connect the western fields with the Atlantic coast, will be ready for service in the early days of 1906. It will be able to transport 15,000 or 16,000 barrels of oil a day, and will serve to strengthen oil conditions in the west.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—[Special.]—Several furnaces in the Birmingham district are refusing $12 per ton for No. 2 foundry iron. They are asking $12.50 per ton. This is equivalent to an advance of 50 cents a ton.

WHEAT STRONGER ON UNSETTLED WEATHER

Another Effective Influence Was Advance in the Price at Liverpool—Corn Up.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Unsettled weather in the northwest was largely responsible for marked strength in the wheat market here today. Another effective influence was an advance in the price of wheat at Liverpool. At the close the December option here showed a gain of ¾c. Corn is up ⅝c, oats ⅜c and provisions 2½@15c.

The wheat market opened firm with December up ½c to ⅞@¾c at 83¼c to 83⅝@83¾c. Wet weather was reported in many sections of the spring wheat country, and there was a bullish tone in cables. From the start, shorts and commission houses were active bidders, but offerings were light. Later in the session, a prominent bull joined in the buying movement. The impetus derived from this source imparted a decidedly strong undertone to the market. Bullish enthusiasm continued in force up to the close. One factor stimulating demand for wheat here during the last half of the session was a report by a St. Louis crop journal regarding stocks of winter wheat held by flouring mills and elevators. Advices from over one hundred millers located in 18 states and two territories, it was stated in the report, showed that stocks of wheat are generally below what they were a year ago. The report further claimed that no movement of consequence is probable until after seeding is completed. The market closed strong with December at 84¾c.

Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 67,600 bushels. Exports for the week as shown by Bradstreets were equal to 1,060,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 277,000 bushels, compared with 1,151,000 a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 726 cars against 523 cars last week and 554 cars a year ago.

Corn was in active demand from commission houses and the market was strong throughout. Light acceptances, wet weather, active shipping demand and firm cables were the chief bullish influences. The market closed with prices at the highest point of the day. December opened a shade to ⅛@¼c higher at 44¾c to 44¼c, sold up to 44⅞@44¾c, and closed at the top. Local receipts 438 cars, with 215 of contract grade.

Oats were strong and active. The demand was of a general character and about the only sellers were holders who had good profits in sight. An active demand from exporters was again the most bullish influence. December opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 28¾c to 28⅞c, sold up to 29 and closed at 28¾c. Local receipts were 265 cars.

Provisions were firm on moderate support from packers. A 10 cent advance in the price of live hogs helped to strengthen values. At the close January pork was up 12½@15c at $12 35. Lard was up 2½@5c at $8 02½. Ribs were 7½c higher at 26 47½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 65 cars, corn 582 cars, oats 213 cars, hogs 16,000 head.

TRAINS TO RUN TO NEW YORK IN JULY

Pennsylvania Making Rapid Progress on Tunnels and Terminal.

OFFICERS WALK OVER B. & O.

Pennsylvania passenger trains will be operating into New York through the tunnels under the Hudson river by the middle of next year unless some unforeseen condition arises. The stupendous improvements in the tunnel construction under the Hudson river and in the big passenger terminal of the Pennsylvania in New York city are going on with good headway, and the officers express themselves as well pleased with the present conditions and the outlook for the opening of the gateway under the Hudson river into the metropolis.

This gigantic work entails a larger amount of material than the average railroad man can comprehend. Aside from the massive passenger terminal building, structural steel is used in the lining of the tunnel. The supervision of the preparation of this material and of the construction work of the tunnels is under J. C. Naegley, who is chief inspector of material and construction for the Pennsylvania in the tunnel construction. Mr. Naegley has just spent a couple of days in the Pittsburgh district inspecting structural steel that is being manufactured at the Carnegie works here, and at steel mills at Sharon and Wheeling. He left for Buffalo to inspect material that is being made by the Lackawanna Steel Company, and will also look after material being made at Cleveland before returning to New York.

"The tunnel work is going ahead with good progress," said Mr. Naegley, "and I believe that the tunnels will be completed by the middle of next year. Conditions now look toward that end, and unless something unforeseen occurs we shall be able to complete the work of the tunnels by that time. The material is coming along in fair shape."

An official of the Pennsylvania who recently visited New York said that the terminal station work is progressing nicely, with every prospect of being completed so that it can be used by next July.

Few Changes in Rate Sheet.

The rate clerks of the Pittsburgh rate sheet, who are holding their preliminary meeting at the Hotel Schenley, will make fewer changes in the sheet for this district than have been made for several years. The meeting last spring was the occasion of an almost entirely new rate sheet being issued in all rates. It was expected that the session would close last evening, but the work in hand was not finished and the clerks will conclude their revisions this forenoon. The final meeting will be held here October 3 and 4.

T. W. Woodman, chief rate clerk of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway, is presiding at the meetings this fall, and T. C. Seidener, permanent secretary of the Pittsburgh rate committee, is filling that office. The following lines are represented by the clerks mentioned: Pennsylvania lines, Mr. Seidener, chief rate clerk, and William Dingledein; Pennsylvania railroad, A. A. Brown of Philadelphia; Baltimore & Ohio, H. E. Coale of Baltimore, C. C. Ellis of Chicago, and L. H. Vinquist (Baltimore & Ohio Southwest) of Cincinnati; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, C. G. Strayer.

Missouri Pacific to Use San Pedro.

John R. James, central passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific, announced that beginning with yesterday and continuing until October 31, which is the period of sale of the coupon tickets, the Missouri Pacific has arranged for daily tourist car service via the new San Pedro line to Los Angeles. This car will leave St. Louis on Missouri Pacific train No. 1 at 9 o'clock a. m. daily, connecting with the San Pedro at Salt Lake. During the same period the Missouri Pacific will also have daily through tourist car service to San Francisco from St. Louis, being carried from the latter city on train No. 3, leaving St. Louis daily at 10:10 p. m., and going direct to San Francisco via the Southern Pacific's line from Ogden. This direct service to the Pacific coast via the St. Louis gateway will be used by a large number of people from the Pittsburgh district.

Make a "Walking Inspection."

Something rather unique in railroad inspections has just occurred in Pittsburgh. This has been a walking inspection trip over the terminal lines and properties of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad by the principal officers of the company here. Two days were spent in the inspection and all of the lines and warehouses in Pittsburgh and Allegheny were looked into at close hand. This method gave the officers opportunity to examine everything in connection with the properties in a much more thorough manner than the usual method of traveling over the terminals in a car and observing the track from a platform. It also gave the officers an opportunity to become better acquainted with the men concerned in the terminal operations and to offer a word of advice or encouragement here and there.

Mr. McCrea Busy Shaking Hands.

James McCrea, first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines and president of the Vandalia railroad, reached Pittsburgh yesterday morning after an absence of about six weeks, which he had spent in a trip to Europe. He was accompanied by his son, Archibald McCrea, president of the Union Spring and Manufacturing Company of this city, and made a tour of France and Great Britain. After he reached his office yesterday afternoon he was kept busy entertaining the officers of the Pennsylvania system, who called to pay their respects. In the afternoon he was in conference with some of the general officers on matters demanding his immediate attention in the different departments.

Dillon and Young Are Thanked.

Announcement was made yesterday by Abe Patterson Post 58, G. A. R., of Allegheny, of a resolution of thanks that was tendered to District Passenger Agent James K. Dillon of the Pennsylvania lines west and Traveling Passenger Agent Harry C. Young of the Rock Island-Frisco system for the courtesies extended by their roads and themselves in escorting the members of this post and their friends to the grand encampment at Denver. Members of the party who traveled on the special train said that every comfort was provided and that the trip had all of pleasure that could be desired.

J. P. Morgan & Co. Get C. H. & D.

It was learned yesterday that J. P. Morgan & Co. of New York was the purchasing firm of Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton system from the voting trust represented by Hollis & Co. of New York. The deal includes the purchase of the three roads of the Great Central route, the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, the Pere Marquette and the Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville lines. There are many conjectures as to the future of the properties, one man saying that it is likely that there will be a division between large railroad interests contiguous to the roads, while another thought that the system would continue to be operated independently.

Getting New Baggage and Mail Cars.

The Pennsylvania lines west have received two new mail and baggage cars from the Columbus shops of the company, where an order for ten of the cars was placed several months ago. The cars are of a new style for the lines, being 70 feet in length, which is larger than the usual cars for the purpose of mail and baggage use. Of this space about 45 feet is used for the baggage department and 25 for railway mail. The cars are used on trains and in sections where the mail is not heavy. The other eight cars of the order will be delivered in a couple of weeks.

Erie Will Teach "First Aid."

A resolution approving a suggestion from the Erie officers that the men of the operating department be instructed in the principles of "first aid to the injured," was passed by the Erie railroad surgeons. Another suggestion of the Erie was that small hospital rooms be provided at all stations along the line, each room to be equipped with a stock of simple surgical instruments and materials for use until the surgeons can arrive. This suggestion was not acted on by the surgeons, but may be provided for in some form by the Erie officers.

Railroad Notes.

E. D. Brigham, general freight agent of the Chicago & Northwestern, spent the day in Pittsburgh.

A. Q. Tallant, general agent of the Chicago & Northwestern, is spending his vacation with his family in Minnesota.

The Pennsylvania will place eight new freight crews on the Middle division next Monday, four crews operating from either end.

The local general passenger agents and general freight agents returned yesterday from the September meetings of the Central Passenger and Central Freight associations at Chicago.

L. A. Holroyd, ticket agent of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie at Homestead, has returned to work after a pleasant vacation which he spent with Mrs. Holroyd and their daughter at Mackinac Island.

H. A. Worthington, vice president of the Wabash lines east of Toledo, returned yesterday morning from a three-day trip over the lines with General Traffic Manager D. O. Ives and General Freight Agent H. J. Booth. He said that work is progressing rapidly on the improvements and that much additional work will be taken up next spring. An order for 5,000 tons of 90-pound rails has just been placed with the Carnegie Steel Company for the Wheeling & Lake Erie line.

KELLY'S METHOD IS SOMEWHAT NEW

Court Learns Lesson in High Finance Through Sensational Affidavit of Defense.

GIRL'S CHARGE NOT SUSTAINED

J. R. Vincent, defendant in the suit of the Scandinavian American bank, filed an affidavit of defense which is sensational and exposes some of the methods used in exploiting certain stock operations. The action is brought on a note and the amount sued for is $8,500. Vincent avers that in April, 1903, James W. Kelly, the payee of the note, came to him and represented that he was the owner of a large number of shares of the capital stock of the Nome Exploration Company, a gold mining company in Alaska, and that the stock was of great value and was paying large dividends. Kelly, he also avers, told him that he had sold a large amount of the stock in Pittsburgh. Vincent says that by reason of these representations he was induced to purchase 100 shares of the stock for $10,000. He gave Kelly $500 in cash and his note for $9,500 as security. Kelly, he says, assurred him that the dividends accruing on his stock would carry the note and provide for its payment at maturity, and assured him that he would never thereafter be called upon to advance any money for the payment of the note.

About the time of the maturity of the note the affidavit says that Kelly told him that owing to the company having made certain unanticipated improvements the dividends were absorbed, and that it would be necessary for Vincent to pay $1,000 on the note, and assured him that this would be the only money he would be required to advance. Vincent says that, relying on Kelly's representations, he paid the $1,000 and renewed the note for $8,500.

Vincent now says that he expects to prove that at the time he gave the note Kelly was indebted to the estate of Robert M. Hays for $23,000, and that on and about January 1, 1904, the German American Savings and Trust Company of Pittsburgh began to press Kelly for its payment.

Vincent Charges Collusion.

Vincent also expects to show that at that time Kelly was one of the managing directors of the plaintiff bank, and that in collusion with the bank and for the purpose of defrauding the estate of R. M. Hays and his other creditors, and for the purpose of hindering, delaying and preventing his creditors from collecting their just claims, Kelly transferred to the plaintiff bank, in furtherance of his fraudulent purposes, the note of the affiant, together with 55 shares of a par value of $1 each in the Pioneer Mining Company; also 5,000 shares, par value $1000 each, in the Nome Exploration Company, including the 100 shares of stock attached to the note in this suit as collateral security for its payment. Vincent avers that Kelly is the real owner of the note and that it was obtained from the affiant by false and fraudulent representations, and that Kelly knew at the time of selling the stock to the affiant that the representations as to the value of the stock were false and fraudulent and that the stock was of no value whatever.

A. C. Wooster, who conducts a fruit farm near Sturgeon, was acquitted in criminal court on a charge of attempting to criminally assault Mary Budder, a 16-year-old orphan, who resides with her aunt about four miles from the Wooster farm.

Other cases before the court were: Frank Brown, receiving stolen goods, guilty; Wolcha Orlowsky, larceny, 10 days to the workhouse.

Arrested for robbing a house and stealing silverware valued at $250, two youthful robbers, the oldest being 8 years of age, confessed in juvenile court yesterday that they intended to sell the silverware "to a blacksmith for $1, so that he could make shiny horseshoes." The boys were James Creehan and Mike Rockage of the lower Oakland district.

The crime which landed them before the court was the robbing of the residence of Mrs. Charles M. Eddy at Forbes and Ophelia streets. The boys gathered together all the silverware in baskets and left it under the porch, intending to call again after nightfall. The return of the Eddy family and the calling in of the police caused the arrest of the boys when they came for their plunder. When questioned by Judge Macfarlane, the boys answered in a frank manner and told how they intended giving the silverware to a blacksmith for a dollar, as they wanted to see him make "shiny horseshoes." The Creehan boy was ordered sent to the Buffalo (N. Y.) industrial school, while his companion was placed in St. Paul's orphan asylum.

Goes to Morganza.

George Meyers of Allegheny was sent to Morganza. He stole a watch from the residence of J. M. Norris of Pier street, Oakland, while delivering oil. Felice Delquora, a 15-year-old Italian, was sent to the Huntingdon Reformatory. Delquora is alleged to have attacked a 5-year-old girl at Edgeworth. He has only been in the country two months and cannot speak English. William Weyman of the West End, who was charged with burning the feet of Stephen Wigmore, 6 years old, by holding him over a bonfire, was discharged as there were no witnesses to the alleged burning.

An affidavit of defense was filed in the suit of the Keystone Bank against W. S. Maxey, an action for rent. Maxey says that the agent for the plaintiff called on several occasions with reference to the payment of the rent claimed for rooms occupied by the Gilkinson Detective Bureau, and that he then told the agent that the bureau was insolvent and that the rooms were vacant and subject to his order. On July 7, 1904, the goods were sold by a constable for the rent then claimed by the plaintiff. Maxey says he turned over the keys to the agent who notified him that he would not be called upon to pay any rent. There is about two months' rent remaining due.

G. M. Johnston filed a statement of claim in his suit against the Beaver Valley Brewing Company to recover $110 claimed to be due him for attendance at the meetings of the board of directors. The plaintiff alleges that at a meeting of the board of directors, of which he was a member, at the company's office in Rochester, Pa., September 2, 1904, a motion was carried that the directors should be paid $5 for each and every board meeting attended. He claims he attended 62 meetings and now wants his pay for them.

Wants $25,000 Damages.

Thomas McCabe and Harry Meyers, patrolman in the bureau of police, were sued for $25,000 damages by Robert S. DeHarpot. The plaintiff alleges that on June 25 he took a friend to the restaurant of Gus Roeder, 434 Second avenue, to get supper; while there the defendants entered and, without a warrant, arrested him. He was held a prisoner over Sunday and was finally discharged. He denies that he was guilty of any offense to justify arrest and claims his health was impaired and his business reputation injured.

Unusual allegations are made in a damage suit for $15,000 entered by Salvatore Mastrolean against the Drake & Stratton Co. He alleges that while employed by the defendants in 1897 he was injured and had his right leg amputated. In May, 1898, an agent of the company made a settlement with him, agreeing to pay $350 and give him the privilege of conducting a commissary department at a labor camp of the company. He was to pay the company 5 per cent of the net proceeds, and was to have the privilege as long as the company had a labor camp. The agreement was oral. He declared that he got the $350 and the privilege of keeping the commissary department for four months only, and asserts that by taking the privilege from him the company has deprived him of an income of $2,400 a year.

Jacob Fox has been sued for $5,000 damages by Joseph Ginley. The suit is based on alleged false arrest.

Advance in Credit Balances Brings About Hopeful Feeling

The advance of 2 cents in the credit balance market last Tuesday has brought about a more hopeful feeling among operators and producers. It is the consensus of opinion that should the market continue to advance and reach something like $1 50 it will revive operations in the fields and there would be a creditable amount during the winter months. The winter months are not the most desirable for development work, but operators are anxious to increase their production and would undergo the additional expense if the conditions improve. There is considerable deep sand territory that could be operated at a profit if the market was advanced to $1 50. Some of the larger companies and the gas companies are still fairly active, but the work consists principally of testing leases with a view to making a surrender if the territory is not productive.

On Patterson Fork, Ten Mile district, Harrison county, the Salem Oil Company, R. T. Lowndes and others, have completed their No. 2 on the Samuel Cain farm and have a 40-barrel producer in the Gordon formation. On Long run, in the same district, Schaffner Bros. are still flashing a 2-barrel well at their No. 7 on the Maloney heirs' farm. On Camp run, Sardis district, in the same county, Judge Nathan Goff is down 2,200 feet at his No. 40 on his own farm. Near Sedalia, on Robinson Fork, McClellan district, Doddridge county, the Wheeling Gas Company has completed its test on the Carrico heirs' farm and has a fair gasser in the Gordon. In the same district and on the same stream the same company has completed its test on the Martha Bates farm and has a light gasser. In the Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 9 on the A. Darrah farm through the fifth sand and has a very light pumper, not good for more than three barrels a day.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the Carter Oil Company's No. 6 one the J. F. Snyder farm has been drilled through the Berea grit and is good for 25 barrels a day. The Ann Oil Company's No. 9 on the David Matthews's farm is holding up at 110 barrels a day and is now the best producer in the district.

On Nutters Fork, Ritchie county, the Buck Farm Oil Company is drilling at a test on the William Hall farm, located three miles in advance of any production. This is purely a wildcat and its completion will be awaited with some interest. North of Cairo, Grant district, the Stewart Oil Company's No. 16 on the Kennedy's Oil Company's farm is a very good producer. It has been holding up steadily at 100 barrels a day for more than a week. On upper Bowman creek, Meade district, Marshall county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has completed its test on the Andrew McCardle farm and has a light gasser in the Gordon formation. On Fish creek, Franklin district, the Tri-State Gas Company has drilled its test on the Timothy Yoho farm to a depth of 2,060 feet and the sand is ready for a cable. On Dobbs run the Venture Oil Company will be due in the sand this week at a second test on the W. H. Dobbs farm.

Northwest of Downs station, Marion county, the Fayette Gas Company has completed a test on the Sarah Davis farm and has a good gasser in the Gordon. Near Littleton, in the district, Wetzel county, the Hope Natural Gas Company's test on the Matthew Carney farm has filled up 1,000 feet with fluid from the Gordon. It is still drilling. In the Smithfield district the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the J. A. Harris farm through the Gordon and has a very light show for oil. The same company has drilled its test on the Lindsay Stewart farm 12 feet into the Gordon and the hole has filled up 2,000 feet with fluid. Drilling has been suspended to move back the boiler. In the Wallace district, Harrison county, the South Penn Company is drilling in the top of the Gordon at its second test on the S. H. White farm. Near Downs, Marion county, the Freeland Oil Company has completed its No. 4 on the P. Michael farm and the hole has filled up 250 feet from the Gordon. It will make a very light pumper.

On the Ohio side, in the Woodsfield district, the Unity Oil Company has drilled its test on the J. T. Dunbow farm into the Big Lime and has a show for a 25-barrel producer. In the same district the Imperial Oil and Gas Company has completed its test on the Samuel Eggers heirs' farm and has a gasser in the Keener sand. In the same district W. C. McBride has completed a test on the Woodsfield Water Company's property and has a duster in the Keener. In the Lewisville district, in the same county, the Pure Oil Producing Company has drilled its test on the Fred Bartenschlag farm through the Keener and Big Injun formations and found both formations barren.

In the Lowell district, Washington county, Bodine & Co. have completed a test on the Benjamin Flanders farm and have a duster. J. A. Henne has completed a second test on the C. Wenzel farm and had the same kind of luck. In the Wolf Creek district the Wolf Creek Oil Company has completed No. 19 on the Priscilla Bay farm and has a duster. Chaler & Peddingham have completed No. 1 on the Sadie Spears farm and have a 5-barrel pumper.

FISHERIES SHOW LARGE INCREASE

FISH WARDENS ARE VIGILANT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, HARRISBURG, PA., Sept. 15.

Pennsylvania is the greatest fish-propagating state in the union, according to the quarterly report made by Commissioner William E. Meehan at the regular meeting of the fisheries commission at the Wayne county hatchery today. During the nine months of the present year which have already elapsed the output from all of the Pennsylvania hatcheries have reached the enormous total of 167,594,332.

Commissioner Meehan is authority for the statement that this surpasses any normal output from any state. He says that in the lake states the output in certain years by reason of spurts may have been larger, but that the normal work in no state shows anything nearly so gratifying. The vigilant fish wardens of the department have been as active as ever during the summer months, the quarter running from June 1 to August 31, inclusive. The number of arrests were 120, a trifle over 25 arrests to the month on an average. Forty-three of the persons prosecuted were acquitted.

The fines from the convictions amounted to $2,800, divided among the wardens as follows: Criswell, $800; Shoemaker, $357; Nealey, $345; Albert, $200; Shannon, $150; Benning, $250. It will be seen from these figures that Dauphin county leads as usual, on top, Criswell of Steelton distancing all of his fellow-officers by far. The number of fish and frogs sent out from the hatcheries during the quarter alone was 736,375.

Three of the superintendents of hatcheries report that they have 120,000 more ready for distribution. One reports a number of white fish, just how many is not known, which are being placed in the Delaware river. The number will run as high as 800,000, at least, and may reach double that.

Another reports an unknown quantity of sunfish, rock bass, yellow perch, etc., presumably numbering about 100,000. Commissioner Meehan's report in general shows that the department as a whole is in the most excellent shape.

Statement on Check Troubles.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 15.—(Special.)—In discussing the circulation at Cincinnati and Washington, D. C., of counterfeited pay checks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, copies or reports of which have been exaggerated, officers of the company said today that while they fully appreciate the importance to them of preserving the integrity of their pay checks and were employing every available means for the detection of the perpetrators of the fraud, it was their belief in regard to the amount now widespread in the circulation of the checks, nor have they the slightest reason to believe that any one connected with the service is guilty of the act.

The system employed in these checks is such as precludes the possibility of irregular or fraudulent checks being turned in by the banks at which they are paid, without immediate detection. In the present case within four days of the distribution of the checks the false issue was detected. The total number of counterfeits so far is 11, with an aggregate amount of $2,402 35. These checks were about evenly distributed between the bank at Washington, D. C., and the bank at Cincinnati, and had been passed upon storekeepers or agents whose indorsements they bore, and upon whom the loss will fall.

The officers of the company have taken additional precautions to those heretofore employed to minimize the danger of any fraud in connection with these pay checks, and will continue to guard against them and use the utmost vigor to detect and punish offenders.

PROMISES INFORMATIONS.

Inspector Adler Says 500 Milk Dealers Are Disregarding the Law.

Meat and Milk Inspector S. D. Adler will make 500 informations Monday against milk dealers who have not complied with the requirements of the state law and secured a license for carrying on their business. The milk dealers of this city were notified on September 1 that they would be given 10 days to secure the licenses.

At the expiration of that time it was found that not one dealer had complied with the order. An extension of five days was given them and yesterday it was found that but few had compiled. Inspector Adler then made out a list of 500 dealers who had not complied with the laws and says the informations will surely be made.

Exposition visitors are invited to call and inspect the handsome banking quarters of the Peoples Savings bank, Fourth avenue and Wood street. This bank originated the banking by mail system, and is known all over the world as "The Bank That Pays 4 per cent."
